SAFE PLACE TO FISH? — A large "keep off" sign today warned away any youthful fisherman who might plan to throw their lines from the Elephant Rock fishing platform, intended by County Supervisor-elect J. Walter Blair as a safe angling place for youngsters. The county public works department ordered construction stopped for (1) lack of a building permit and (2) lack of planning approval. After this photo was taken, however, a workman showed up again. (Independent-Journal photo)

Blaze Brings Tighter Plan For Building

County Inspector Concerned Over Housing Materials

By JOHN CHAMBERS

Marin County Building Inspector Otto Meyer said today he will recommend that county amendments to the 1961 building code include provisions for more fire-resistant home constructions.

Meyer said the changes would apply especially to Eichler homes and others of similar "open" ranch style construction.

The question of fire hazard in some 800 Eichler homes in Marinwood, Terra Linda and Lucas Valley was fanned by a Christmas blaze which gutted the home of Robert M. Major of 2098 Huckleberry Road, Marinwood, with an estimated $40,000 loss. Cause of the fire was still under investigation today.

OPEN CONSTRUCTION

Meyer said the fire danger in Eichler homes stems from their "wide open construction" without full floor-to-ceiling partitions and from highly flammable plywood paneling.

The building code, which is revised every three years, will be presented to the building inspector's office next month for analysis and addition of local amendments, Meyer said. It is usually adopted by the board of supervisors by fall.

Meyer said he would recommend that one of the local amendments be a limitation of the square feet of wood finish in any area of a house unless it has fire retardent treatment.

Palo Alto, where more than a dozen Eichler homes have burned to the ground in the last five years, has a city ordinance requiring a fire-retarding chemical to be added to the flammable glue which holds the paneling together. Santa Clara County passed an ordinance this year that sheetrock must be used to back the wood paneling in "open" construction.

PALO ALTO PARLEY

Marinwood Fire Chief Donald G. Ray returned from a conference with Palo Alto officials yesterday and reported that individual Eichler home owners can retard fire hazards in their houses for as little as $35.

Included in measures which the peninsula officials recommended were chemicals, paints, construction alterations and fire alarms.

The cheapest, Ray said, are chemicals which can be painted over the inside paneling of the house. He said these cost about $2 a pound and would run about $35 for the entire inside of the house.

OTHER CHEMICALS

Other chemicals are available for spraying rugs, drapes and curtains at about 10 to 25 cents per square foot. An electrical alarm with standby battery connected to inside and outside bells can be bought for $154. A heat alarm system sells for $250 to $300.

Another alternative would be to construct a door to separate the living room-kitchen area and bedroom wing, which would cost about $75 to $100. This would help prevent flames from racing through the length of the house, Ray said.

"If people use reasonable caution and use these preventative measures we can hold fire down to a minimum, the chief said. He urged home owners to call the Marinwood Fire Department for advice on fire prevention.

Fighting Erupts In Belgian Strike

Threatened Premier Calls More Troops

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Thousands of Socialist strikers rioted through major cities in Belgium today and battled police tear gas and clubs with iron bolts and stones in a growing threat to the government of Premier Gaston Eyskens.

Heavily armed troops replaced civilian police around Eyskens' office in Brussels where 10,000 strikers rampaged through the streets with shouts of "Eyskens to the gallows." They smashed windows of buses, street cars and pro-government newspaper offices.

In Ghent, scene of the heaviest fighting, strikers tried to invade the electricity and gas offices. Riot police charged the mob with tear gas and were met with a bombardment of stones and iron bolts.

SEVERAL INJURED

The Socialists said several persons were injured and one woman hospitalized in Ghent.

Eyskens tonight rejected a Socialist demand for the immediate recall of parliament, in recess until Jan. 3, and ordered military and naval guards at all main government offices. Paratroopers previously were ordered to guard railway stations and the central post office.

The government announced that soldiers on expiring leave from Germany must report back for duty at one of the 15 main garrison towns in Belgium by Friday noon.

LIFE SLOWS

The nation's life was at almost a standstill. The government denied reports it planned to declare martial law or recall King Baudouin from his Spanish honeymoon — which would be an admission the situation was out of control.

However, a military plane was standing by in Sevilla, Spain, ready to take off with Baudouin.

The strikes were called by the Socialists and Socialist-led labor unions in opposition to an austerity budget prepared by the Social Christian (Catholic) Eyskens government to offset the financial setback caused by loss of the Congo. The Socialists fear insurance, unemployment and other benefits will be cut off.

MARIN COUNTY POPULATION JUMP CLAIMED

Marin's population has increased 5,545 since the April census, in the belief of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

The foundation, basing its estimates on new home construction, utilities installations, etc., today declared the county will enter 1961 with a population of 152,345.

Biggest increase since the federal census in April has been in San Rafael, the foundation declared. It gave the population of San Rafael now as 22,383, up 1,923 from the April census figure.

Estimates of populations in the other nine cities are as follows:

Novato, 18,595, up 714 since the census; San Anselmo, 11,734, up 150; Mill Valley, 10,612, up 201; Corte Madera, 6,192, up 230; Fairfax, 6,015, up 202; Larkspur, 5,948, up 238; Sausalito, 5,586; up 255; Ross, 2,574, up 23; Belvedere, 2,176, up 28.

U.S. Broadens Move Against Pharmacy Unit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Justice today broadened its attack on alleged price fixing by Northern California Pharmacists by filing a civil anti-trust complaint asking for an injunction.

The Northern California Pharmaceutical Assn. was indicted Dec. 14 at the request of the government on charges of criminally violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

ON PRICE LISTS

The civil suit seeks an injunction to prevent the association and its 1,500 members from formulating and distributing price lists for prescription drugs.

Lyle Jones, anti-trust chief, said most prescription drugs are compounded by manufacturers and require no further work by pharmacists. They do not sell the prescription drugs under trade marks or brand names.

The complaint said 75 per cent of Northern California pharmacies are owned by members of the association, that their annual sales of prescription drugs exceed 75 million dollars.

ARRAIGNMENT DUE

The association and Donald K. Hedgpeth, the group's former president who composed a suggested price list, are scheduled to be arraigned on the criminal charges tomorrow before Judge George B. Harris.

Pharmacist spokesmen deny that the association has violated anti-trust laws. They claim that price lists have been employed only as guides to help pharmacists in pricing a large variety of rapidly changing commodities.

The government, however, claims that the association had "suppressed or eliminated" price competition.

Deputy D.A. Wolters Plans To Quit Post

Harold F. Wolters, 35, deputy district attorney in Marin since 1955, will leave for a new job in Nevada County next Feb. 1.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said today that Wolters has accepted a job as deputy district attorney under Harold Berliner in Nevada County.

"It will not be easy to replace Harry," Garety declared. "He has done an excellent job in his office. I know that he and his family have wanted for some time to move to that county, and I wish him the best of success."

The district attorney has not definitely decided on a successor for Wolters. At the time Charles L. Convis was appointed deputy district attorney, Garety said there were applications from several outstanding lawyers. From this group, he plans to make a selection of a new deputy.

Wolters will continue his private practice, which he has in San Rafael with P. Roy Vallarino as his partner.

Wolters entered public service in 1953 when he became deputy public defender under Judge Leonard A. Thomas, then public defender. After two years with the public defender's office, Wolters joined the district attorney's office and has been there ever since.

Wolters, his wife and their children will move to Nevada County in January or February.

'STOP ORDER' IGNORED

Neighbors Protest Fishing Platform

An irate Tiburon home owner walked into the afternoon session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday and voiced vehement protest against the "Elephant Rock fishing memorial" sponsored by Supervisor-elect J. Walter Blair, who takes office next week.

Leonard Bowman of 2000 Paradise Drive presented letters from Dr. Orazio G. Rosalia and himself and charged that both legalities and the views of the local community had been flouted in the fishing platform project.

Not only had there been no approval by planning commission or department of public works, and no issuance of a building permit, but a works department "stop order" was served last Friday only to have work continue Monday — a holiday — the supervisors were told.

"I came home one day to find out what was going on," said Bowman, "and there was a man working off power he got by plugging into my line. When I asked his authority, he said he had been allowed to do it by the board of supervisors."

Blair's name was at no time mentioned during the discussion.

Principal Planner B. D. Dobbs of the planning department staff confirmed that construction of a platform around the rock and a catwalk leading to it had been started without official sanction. A stop order was issued on complaint of nearby residents last Friday, he disclosed.

"But work was going on again only yesterday," Bowman added.

Work on the catwalk reportedly resumed about 11 a.m. today, despite the stop order and the supervisors' action.

Dobbs said that for such a project the planners should first approve a master plan, then a development plan. Only after that could a building permit be issued. It appeared no permit had ever been asked.

"They should stop work after receiving a stop-work order," commented Supervisor Vera Schultz, whose seat on the board will be taken by Blair next week. "I move we refer these two letters to the planning commission, the depart-

Red Aircraft Damages U.S. Plane In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — A Soviet-made Ilyushin-14 plane dropping military supplies to leftist Laotian rebel forces attacked and machine gunned an unarmed American plane watching the operation, the U.S. Embassy reported today.

The American plane was crippled by the shooting yesterday but was able to make it back safely to Vientiane on one engine. It was not known if the Ilyushin was manned by Russians or Communist bloc fliers.

Officials of the U.S. Embassy here said the American C-47 was assigned to the U.S. air attache in Saigon, South Viet Nam. It was on loan to the embassy here to replace the aircraft regularly assigned to the air attache in Vientiane which was damaged in the recent fighting for this capital city.

Officials said the U.S. plane, carrying a three-man crew, was observing the Soviet air supply operation at the request of the Laotian government.

STRONG WINDS SWEEP AWAY MARIN'S FOG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Strong north winds whipped away the fog in Northern and Central California today. Skies became sparkling clear.

The northerly winds hit up to 35 m.p.h. around San Francisco Bay, where small craft warnings were displayed. The wind was expected to diminish tonight.

The five-day forecast, through next Monday, said there appears to be a possibility of rain in the extreme north Sunday or Monday, but none elsewhere. Temperatures should range close to normal for late December.

Wife Slayer Executed In Gas Chamber

At 10 a.m. today, Raymond L. Cartier, 32, was escorted into San Quentin Prison's green, octagonal gas chamber, and three minutes later cyanide pellets were dropped into a vat of hydrochloric acid to snuff out his life

Cartier was sentenced to death for the 1957 murder of his wife in their San Diego home. He dismembered her body with a meat cleaver, then set fire to the house. Neighbors called police as he stood laughing outside the burning building.

As Cartier died, a half dozen Quakers, including an 11-year-old girl, prayed outside the gates of San Quentin Prison. After a vigil since midnight, the group quietly left the prison after his death was announced at 10:10 a.m.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown had granted a reprieve to Cartier Oct. 26 to permit psychiatric examination. Brown turned down the last reprieve plea by Cartier Monday, saying that he was legally sane at the time of the murder of his 32-year-old wife, Geneva Ellen, in their San Diego home.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said Cartier was "calm and collected" right up to the time of the execution. His meal last night was roast prime rib of beef with chocolate cake for desert. He topped it off with a large chocolate candy bar.

Cartier had attempted suicide last summer and had recently written a letter to Governor Brown asking to die.

After sleeping soundly from 1 a.m. to 6:40 a.m., Cartier had neither breakfast nor coffee this morning. Before he retired last night, he had been visited by Frady, Warden Fred R. Dickson and the prison Catholic chaplain, Rev. Edward Dingberg.

Annex Group Reforms, Sets 3-Point Goal

The Terra Linda Annexation Committee reorganized itself into the Terra Linda Taxpayers League last night and launched a program for (1) annexation to San Rafael, (2) recall of two Dixie School Board members and (3) defeat of the Terra Linda Recreational District bond issue.

Anton Lonich was appointed acting chairman of the league until members can hold a general meeting and elect a chairman and board of directors.

FOUR-HOUR MEETING

Last night's action was the result of a four-hour meeting of 18 members of the committee in Lonich's house at 1091 Las Pravadas Avenue, Terra Linda.

"We felt the annexation committee was limited in its scope and we needed an organization that could effectively deal with all the problems of Terra Linda," Lonich said.

Two sub chairmen, Mrs. Pat Hughes and Vivian Conway, were appointed to handle publicity toward annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael.

A three-man subcommittee (names were not divulged) was appointed to consult with the county counsel and State Board of Education to initiate recall proceedings against two trustees of Dixie School District: Marcus Savage and Walter J. Doll whose terms run until April , 1963.

TO OPPOSE RE-ELECTION

The group decided not to attempt to recall Trustees E. E. Lenander, Dorothy Brown and Robert S. Winniford, but to oppose their re-election at the polls April 18. The pro-annexationists were angered by the board's protest against annexation.

The subcommittee, which is also going to look into Dixie School District records and

Terra Linda Annex Protest Filed

The Terra Linda Recreational District today filed a protest against annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael, but with the protest deadline at 5 p.m. tomorrow, opponents of annexation appeared to represent only about 42 per cent of the assessed valuation.

To halt proceedings, owners of more than one-half of the assessed valuation of the land must protest.

The recreational district protest, representing land valued at $6,210, boosted the protesting public land to 100 per cent.

West Germany, Soviet Agree On Trade Pact

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany and the Soviet Union have agreed on a new trade pact, the government announced today. Apparently, the crucial question of Berlin's economic status has been settled.

West Germany pressed trade pact talks with Communist East Germany in East Berlin, where the same question of Berlin has remained the stumbling bloc.

In both cases, West Germany wants West Berlin treated as part of the economy of West Germany because they are tied together by a common currency. This also would insure open communications to Berlin.

The East Germans followed the Soviet lead in balking at this proposal. Furthermore, the East Germans have threatened to halt land and river traffic to Berlin, 100 miles inside the Iron Curtain, if no trade agreement with West Germany is reached by Jan. 1.

Conceivably, Soviet agreement on West Berlin's status would mean East Germany will back down on the issue.

STRANGE VISITORS TO BOSTON

Pedestrians were startled yesterday in downtown Boston when workmen removed life-hized figures from a Christmas display atop a marquee for shipment to a warehouse. Kennedy Appoints AF, Navy Heads

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy moved rapidly today toward completion of the Defense Department's upper structure by naming Eugene Zuckert, former atomic energy commissioner, as secretary of the Air Force.

John B. Connally Jr., Fort Worth, Tex., lawyer and close political associate of Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson, was named Navy secretary in the new administration last night.

Zuckert, assistant Air Force secretary when Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) was civilian head of the air force in the Truman administration, was named to succeed James H. Douglas. Connally will take over the post currently occupied by Navy Secretary William B. Franke.

Kennedy's headquarters here announced that Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was flying to Palm Beach tonight for a meeting tomorrow with the president-elect.

The incoming chief executive also arranged a conference at his seaside villa Friday with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., a former congressman from New York and currently a foreign automobile distributor.

HE WAS MENTIONED

Roosevelt worked in the Kennedy campaign and had been mentioned for the Navy post that went to Connally.

The two defense posts were filled by Kennedy in consultation with the new defense secretary-designate, Robert S. McNamara, and Johnson and Symington, both close friends of Connally and Zuckert.

Connally, 43, has served Johnson twice on Capitol Hill —as the first administrative assistant to Johnson when the Texan first went to the House in 1939; his first administrative assistant when Johnson went to the Senate in 1949. Connally directed Johnson's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination this year, and after Johnson settled for the second spot on the ticket, Connally then went to work for the Kennedy-Johnson slate.

SYMINGTON HELPER

Zuckert had a somewhat similar close tie to Symington. The new Air Force secretary was a Navy lieutenant (j.g.) late in World War II when he became assistant to Symington, then head of the Surplus Property Administration.

In 1946, Zuckert followed Symington to the war department when Symington became assistant secretary of war for air. When Symington moved up to Air Force secretary in 1947, Zuckert became an assistant secretary of the Air Force. In 1952, he was named by President Truman to the Atomic Energy Commission where he served until 1954. He now practices law in Wishington.

Connally entered the Navy in December, 1941, as an ensign and emerged as a lieutenant commander in 1946 after extensive combat sea duty in the Pacific aboard aircraft carriers. He was twice decorated for his carrier service as a fighter director officer.

Writer Says Video Show Was Rigged

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A freelance writer charges in a national magazine article that there were at least 40 rigged episodes on the television show "It Could Be You" between 1956 and 1958. He says he rigged them.

Ralph Edwards, who owns the show, immediately denied knowledge of any such improprieties. So did the National Broadcasting Co.

Al Blake, 73, wrote in Confidential magazine that he supplied people to play parts on the daytime show, which appears five times a week on NBC.

AUDIENCE SHOW

"It Could Be You" is an audience participation show in which stories involving members of the audience are unfolded. The subjects are then brought on stage and given surprises.

Blake said he rehearsed his landlady, his newsboy and friends and acquaintances for roles on the program.

He said members of Edwards' staff, including producer Stefan Hates, knew of the alleged rigging. He did not say Edwards was aware of it.

Edwards said he has affidavits from Hates and his present staff "denying that they were in any way in collusion with Blake."

NEVER SAID

"Never did he at any time state to staff members that he was manufacturing the situations as he states in the article," Edwards said.

Edwards said Blake was never a member of the show's staff and never wrote for it. The staff got information from many sources, Edwards said, and Blake was one of them.

In August, 1958, Edwards said, "we suspected the facts in one of his (Blake's) contributions and discontinued accepting material from him."

Blake acknowledged in his story that he was annoyed at the Edwards organization because it did not pay him what he thought he had coming for contributions to the show.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Sammy, May Expecting

NEW YORK (AP)—Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. and his bride, actress May Britt, announced today they are expecting a baby next August.

Davis, a Negro, and his wife, who is white, were married Nov. 18.

Final Holiday Toll

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic accidents during the 78-hour Christmas weekend killed 488 persons — an average of one about every 10 minutes.

The final toll was below the pre-holiday estimate of 510 made by the National Safety Council. It was the lowest for a three-day Christmas holiday since 1949, when 413 traffic deaths were reported.

Big Loan To Tito

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is seeking to bolster Yugoslavia's economy with a 100-million-dollar loan despite President Tito's recent charge that the Western nations were the main source of discord in the world.

The State Department announced the loan yesterday, just 24 hours after Tito declared in a speech in Belgrade that Yugoslavia and Russia had identical views on important world issues.

Flight Duplicated

NEW YORK (AP)—A United Air Lines DC8 with crash investigators on board yesterday duplicated the flight pattern of the jet that collided with another airliner over New York City on Dec. 16, killing 136 persons.

Aboard the jet were observers from United Air Lines and Trans World Airlines, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Aviation Agency and the Air Lines Pilot Assn.

One purpose of the simulated flight was to determine why the jet apparently overshot a holding area near the Jersey shore south of Staten Island.

Sparrows Fell 6

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sparrows were blamed for carbon monoxide fumes that floored six women employes of a trading stamp store yesterday.

Vent pipes to heaters of the suburban store were found clogged with birds' nests.

Cargos For Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—A fleet of Soviet merchant ships steamed through the Baltic today, bound for Cuba with cargoes of tractors, paper and other goods.

Mayor Jose Llanes Govel of Havana said in Moscow the shipments have "broken the economic blockade instituted by monopolists of the United States and other countries in an attempt to strangle the republic."

Forest Fire Erupts

CALISTOGA (UPI)—A winter forest fire burned through damp brush and pine on the south slope of Mount St. Helena today, nine miles north of here. Despite heavy fog and moist ground the fire spread quickly ahead of 25 to 30-mile-an-hour winds.

A crew of 40 state fire fighters battled the blaze.

Conferences On Air

PALM SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — John F. Kennedy will do some trail blazing at his news conferences as president. Some of them will be carried live during evening hours on nationwide television and radio.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, announced this decision — under consideration for several weeks—last night after a meeting with representatives of the major TV and radio networks.

Rhee Party Gains

SEOUL (AP)—Major gains were scored in South Korean local elections yesterday by independents, many of them members of ousted President Syngman Rhee's discredited Liberal Party.

Nine independent candidates were elected mayor. Premier John Chang's Democratic party elected 12 candidates, and the New Democratic Party won with five.

Dooley In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Tom Dooley, in great pain and barely able to walk, returned from the Orient last night and entered the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases.

Dr. Dooley 33, the American jungle doctor of Laos, was stricken with cancer in 1959, and had been described as cured after surgery.

Recent tests in Hong Kong showed that he was suffering from a degeneration of the bone structure of the spine—not officially determined as cancerous.

BOMBS NOT ENOUGH

Humans Held Needing Substitute For War

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a way to avoid H-bomb war horrors, a psychologist declared today.

He blamed the cold war mainly on human nature and the idea that mighty defenses assure security.

The way out lies through realizing this, and then seeking new ideas, said Dr. Charles E. Osgood of the University of Illinois.

SNOW TALKS

He spoke after a famous British scientist-novelist, Sir Charles P. Snow, had predicted that within, at most, six years Red China and some other countries would have nuclear bombs.

"Within, at most, 10 years, some of those bombs are going off" unless scientists and others act to prevent it, Sir Charles said.

Dr. Ralph Lapp, physicist of Arlington, Va., presented private estimates of this country's tremendous nuclear power.

50,000 BOMBS

He said he figures the United States now has nuclear weapons equal to 50,000 of the atom bombs which destroyed Hiroshima, and could produce the equivalent of 30,000 more in a half dozen more years.

The scientists addressed sessions of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. Sir Charles spoke last night and the others today in sessions sponsored by an AAAS Committee on Science in the Promotion of Human Welfare.

Dr. Osgood said "nations today are lumbering down the one habitual path to 'security' —bigger and better weapons— gathering as they go tensions which make it less and less possible to conceive of any other alternatives."

Osgood said he agrees with others who question "whether being able to annihilate an enemy 10 to 100 times over deters him much more than being able to annihilate him once."

"All this frightens the daylights out of me, but frightening people isn't enough," he said.

"What we need, and that most urgently," he said, "is an enlivened search for new alternatives to war as a means of resolving human conflicts."

A world government may be the only permanent solution, he said.

To halt the arms race, Osgood suggested one-sided steps, announced in advance, to reduce tensions. If carefully done, "pressures of public opinion both internal and external would force reciprocation."

This, he said, "assumes that the Russians are more like us than bogeymen, that they would like to find a way out of this mess as much as we would, that their motivations are derived more from insecurity than the urge to world domination.

Train Wreck, Bombings Hurt 60 In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—More than 60 persons were injured yesterday in bold daylight bombings and a train wreck blamed on saboteurs trying to undermine Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

Bombs exploded in two stores and a main power station in Havana. Fourteen persons were injured, mostly by flying glass, in one of the stores.

A Camaguey-Havana passenger train collided with another train at a crossing in Camaguey Province, injuring more than 50 persons. Officials blamed counter-revolutionaries.

Following the bombings, Castro militiamen, police and bystanders marched to Havana's central park shouting, "Saboteurs to the execution wall."

A collection was taken to aid the injured, who included five children.

They were victims of a bomb that exploded in a women's restroom adjoining a crowded cafeteria in the Fogar store, which the government expropriated from private Cuban interests.

A second bomb exploded in a small variety store in Havana's shopping district. No injuries were reported.

Another bomb went off in the power station in Tallapiedra, in east Havana. Damage was slight and no one was hurt.

Reliable sources said the power station was evacuated and that two more bombs were found after a two-hour search.

Forced Desegregation Asked By Scientists

NEW YORK (UPI)—A group of social scientists has called for forced desegregation in Southern schools, and one of the group specifically criticized President Eisenhower for showing "basic confusion" on the issue.

The scientists issued their conclusions yesterday at a symposium on desegregation sponsored by the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science which is holding its annual meeting here.

Kenneth D. Clark, associate professor at City College of New York, singled out President Eisenhower in his criticism over the need for strict law enforcement of token integration to change social attitudes of white to Negroes.

"When he (Eisenhower) talks about 'the need for time' and that we cannot hope to 'change men's hearts and minds overnight,' he demonstrates that he does not understand the difference between desegregation, an objective social, legal and political process, and integration, a subjective, psychological and attitudinal process," Clark said.

The other scientists, representing the scientific fields of sociology, anthropology and psychology, also listed criticism of politicians who urge a "need for time" approach to desegregation.

They said desegregation, accomplished by legal force such as is being carried out in some southern schools now, must come before integration, which they said was a frame of mind, rather than an actual mixing of the races.

"Prejudices can most easily be changed by gradualism and moderation, but by strict law enforcement of desegregation under firm leadership," they said in a symposium.

WOULD HAVE STOPPED WORK

N.Y. Fire Official Labels Carrier Safety 'Deplorable'

NEW YORK (AP) — City Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr. says the aircraft carrier Constellation was in such sloppy condition that he would have "ordered work stopped and the premises cleaned up if it had been a civilian project."

Officers at a naval court of inquiry looking into the disastrous Dec. 19 carrier fire listened for 2½ hours as Cavanagh criticized Navy safety procedures. An estimated 75 million dollars damage was done to the Constellation and 49 persons died in the fire at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

"Messy, deplorable and sloppy" were Cavanagh's words to characterize the housekeeping aboard the ship. Evidences of this, he said, were 42 minor fires that preceded the disaster.

"If this had been a civilian project under our jurisdiction we would have vacated this project as imminently perilous to life," he said.

He called the ship a "fully loaded bomb which needed only ignition" and said he was surprised the tragedy hadn't occurred earlier.

Previous witnesses testified that the housekeeping and fire-prevention practices on the Constellation were better than average for Navy ships.

Escapee Sent Back To Hospital

William H. Colvin, 26, of 703 Bridgeway, Sausalito, who was arrested last week on a morphine possession charge, has been sent back to Napa State Hospital, Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino reported yesterday.

On the district attorney's recommendation, Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court dismissed the morphine possession charge.

Colvin has been arrested about 10 times on narcotics charges since 1954 in various cities throughout the United States. He was an escapee from Napa State Hospital when Sausalito police nabbed him in a hotel there last week.

Rape Suspect Due Hearing

Lemone Brown, 33, Richmond garbage man, faces a preliminary hearing tomorrow morning in Marin Municipal Court on charges of raping and robbing a 32-year-old Mill Valley school teacher last Dec. 17 at her home.

The teacher said she awoke about 3 a.m. to find a man standing by her bed. She said he attacked her, then stole her purse containing about $40. She was not able to identify Brown as the attacker.

Sheriff's investigators arrested Brown from reports that Brown's car was seen parked near the woman's home that morning.

Negro Tent City Stirs Controversy

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A line of tents to house evicted sharecroppers, defended by Negroes as an emergency measure and denounced by white residents as propaganda, was expected to grow today.

Negro leaders said the tent city, now housing eight families, was set up to keep a roof over sharecroppers who lost their leases because they registered to vote. More families were scheduled to move in today.

White farmers said the leases were terminated because mechanization replaced the sharecroppers.

The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati will hear a government plea tomorrow to stop eviction of 700 sharecroppers from Fayette and adjacent Haywood County farms.

Last week, U.S. Dist. Judge Marion S. Boyd of Memphis refused the plea on grounds that the 1957 Civil Rights Act does not empower him to rule on contract and property rights.

The Justice Department Civil Rights Division claims the evictions resulted from Negroes registering and voting in numbers in the counties for the first time.

Woman Injured In Car Wreck

Mrs. Marie Amalia Iwwerks, 68, of Menlo Park, suffered injury to chest and both knees when her car was struck by a northbound vehicle as she was driving across Highway 101 just south of Hamilton Air Force Base entrance yesterday afternoon.

She was termed in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Mrs. Iwwerks had emerged from a side road and was driving west across the highway when her car was struck by one driven by Karl Sander, 64, of 81 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, the California Highway Patrol reported.

FRENCH A-EXPLOSION

Smoke curls skyward after France yesterday exploded its third atomic device in the Sahara of Africa. Today the French government shrugged off protests over the nuclear blasts, saying the nation plans to harness the atom for defense and peace. A fourth explosion is expected in a few weeks. Sales Tax Collection Record In 3rd Quarter

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California collected $174,962,100 in sales taxes in July, August and September—a record third quarter mark.

Taxable sales amounted to $5,832,070,000, the State Board of Equalization said yesterday. Even though the figure was higher than ever before, sales of some items, including automobiles, jewelry and musical instruments dropped.

And the one-half of 1 per cent gain in sales over those reported for the same period last year did not keep pace with California's growth in population and personal income.

The board's report also noted sales of non-durable goods such as food were generally higher than in the third quarter of 1959 while fewer durable goods —boats and hardware, for example—were sold. New car dealers said they sold 6 per cent fewer cars last year and used car lot operators reported their customers bought 17 per cent less cars than they did in 1959.

Man Arrested For Assault

A Tiburon bar pilot, accused of striking a woman because he wanted another drink before being taken home, faces an assault and battery charge in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

He is Capt. Willis Jennings Fowler, 60, of 2125 Paradise Drive. He was arrested last night on complaint by Mrs. Betty Lois Nichols, 31, also of 2125 Paradise Drive.

Mrs. Nichols told Sheriff's Deputy H. E. Morgan she was driving Fowler home from a cocktail party about 8 o'clock when he began insisting on going to another bar for more drinks. She said she refused because she thought he had enough to drink.

Whereupon, the captain socked her in the jaw, chipping one of her teeth and puffing her lips, she told the officer. She got out of the car and called the sheriff.

Deputy Morgan arrested the captain on a citizen's warrant signed by Mrs. Nichols. He is free on $262.50 bail.

Race Bias In Hiring Of Teachers Claimed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A state consultant says racial discrimination, particularly against Negroes, in the hiring of teachers still is a serious problem in California.

Wilson Riles, fair employment consultant to the Education Department, told the California Federation of Teachers yesterday that housing discrimination in suburbs has created "de facto segregated schools."

There are still many, many districts that do not even make an attempt to insure that teachers are employed strictly on the basis of merit," he said.

"A serious gap remains between the state's policy of equal opportunity and the hiring practices employed in most local districts."

Riles said teachers who encounter discrimination and fail to protest must share the blame with school officials for racial prejudice in teacher hiring.

He noted the passage of the Fair Employment Practices Act by the 1959 legislature, but said enforcement is impossible without formal protests.

Housing discrimination in suburbs was cited as a contributing factor.

"De facto segregated schools are created and many minority teachers fail to apply for jobs in suburban areas simply because there is no place for them to live.

Legal Block Thrown Into Hayden Plan

New legal obstacles were tossed yesterday into the plans of actor-adventurer Sterling Hayden to take his four children to Europe.

Chester L. Smith of Beverly Hills, attorney for Hayden's former wife, Betty Ann DeNoon, served notice in Marin Superior Court that he is filing an appeal to the State District Court of Appeals to block the European trip.

On Dec. 1, Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court ruled that Hayden could take his children on an 18-month trip to Switzerland and Denmark. Hayden said he wanted to go to Europe to complete a book and pay back a $75,000 debt.

On Dec. 19, Smith and the former Mrs. Hayden appeared before Judge Keating and got a stay until Jan. 6 on the permission to travel.

Smith contends the stay should be continued at least for 30 days beyond the Jan. 6 date. The attorney is also asking the District Court of Appeals to block the European trip completely.

Hayden's position is that he will not leave for Europe without his children.

functions, is to report to Lonich by next Wednesday.

After its report, the league will decide on the method of circulating petitions to initiate recall proceedings, Lonich said.

Also at last night's meeting, committee members voted to start an active campaign against the $233,000 proposed recreational bond issue which will come before the Terra Linda electorate Jan. 17.

"We will present our reasons for urging defeat of the bond issue to the public during our campaign," Lonich said.

Woman Driver Escapes Injury

Mrs. Ann S. Enyart of 1330 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato, narrowly escaped injury today when her car went out of control on the frontage road near Joseph Court in San Rafael and ripped down 30 feet of chain-link fence.

The woman told Police Sgt. Carl Selby that her accelerator pedal stuck to the floor as she rounded a curve northbound about 1 a.m. and the car ran into the freeway fencing. The vehicle stopped against a power pole.

Fraternity Award

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A national Negro fraternity yesterday voted a $250 cash award to a white New Orleans family which sent a daughter to an integrated school despite threat of violence.

The award was made by Omega Psi Phi, composed of about 20,000 graduates of predominantly Negro colleges in the United States, to the James Gabrielle family for its "contribution to democracy."

ment of public works and the county counsel."

Supervisor James Marshall seconded and the vote was unanimous.

Dr. Rosalia's letter said the constructors lacked legal ownership, had no sanction from the Army Corps of Engineers, lacked building permit or planning sanction, and had acted without consulting the opinion of local residents.

The letter charged "disregard of public opinion and legalities" and expressed the view that use of the rock for fishing will be detrimental to the area and lacking in safety precautions.

(Rosalia was given permission last August to build six apartments in two triplexes on steeply sloping land between Paradise Drive and the bay by Tiburon's picturesque "old stone tower.")

Blair's scheme has been for a four-foot platform around the 15-foot-diameter rock, on Northwestern Pacific Railroad property 70 feet offshore.

Terming this a memorial to 11-year-old Robert (Bunkie) Keemer of San Rafael, Blair received backing of Fred G. Zelinsky, large Tiburon property owner, plus $100 from the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce. Jesse Hays of Zelinsky's staff has been in charge of construction.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham said after the meeting that the stop order was served on Hays, that Zelinski later got after him in an effort to keep the job going, and that Blair called on him about the situation.

Bowman's letter said he had paid $42,000 for his home but if the fishing platform project continues, the value will deteriorate by 30 per cent.

"I protest most vigorously," said he, and indicated that plenty of others felt the same way.

Illustrating his reasons for objection, he said two men sat on the catwalk and peered through his windows.

"I have trouble keeping the bass fishermen from under my house right now," he said. "This makes things impossible."

Sanity Hearing Slated For Patrolman's Slayer

A former Glendale policeman, who murdered a highway patrolman 14 years ago, will be coming into Marin Superior Court on Friday or next week for a formal sanity hearing, which could set the wheels in motion for his execution in San Quentin's gas chamber.

Doctors at both Atascadero State Hospital and Agnews State Hospital reported to Marin Superior Court that Walker is now sane.

Marin Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said he plans to ask Judge Thomas F. Keating, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, on Friday to set a date for a formal sanity hearing.

If the judge finds Walker sane, the governor will set an execution date for the condemned man.

Walker had an illustrious background before he shot Highway Patrolman Loren Roosevelt in 1947.

He was nephew of a superior court judge and son of a one-time Los Angeles County engineer. He attended one year at California Institute of Technology, majoring in petroleum geology. He also served as rookie policeman in Glendale and fought the Japanese in the Philippines as second lieutenant during World War II.

Heart Research Grant Given Belvedere Doctor

Belvedere Dr. John J. Osborn of Presbyterian Medical Center, San Francisco, has been awarded a $6,900 heart grant by the San Francisco Heart Assn. for research on the post-operative care of children who had heart surgery.

Dr. Osborn, who is associate professor of pediatrics at Stanford University, has developed a complex of instruments designed to give physicians and surgeons reliable information about heart and lung function immediately following a heart operation.

Although most patients make a good recovery after the radical operations, a few patients run into serious trouble, Dr. Osborn said. "It is vitally important that the doctor knows just what is going wrong as soon as possible, and visible symptoms are sometimes deceptive."

Among the complications Dr. Osborn listed a contraction of the airway into the lungs, or mucus clogging the airway. Heart muscle is sometimes weakened temporarily and at other times hemorrhage may occur in the sack of tissue that holds the heart, hampering the action of the heart.

Using simple breathing and blood tests, along with an electro-cardiograph, Dr. Osborn and his associates have found that data from these tests, processed by an electronic computor, can give immediate revealing information that helps a doctor distinguish between the various complications that may occur. The equipment is mobile and can be kept in a recovery room with the patient during the critical period after the operation.

If the instruments show that the heart is functioning well, but that the airway is stopped, a bronchoscope may restore normal ventilation. On the other hand, if lung function is all right, but the heart muscle is injured, digitalis may help the heart action until the muscle can heal itself.

The Heart Assn. grant has been given to provide a technician and supplies for extensive tests with the apparatus, in the hope that it can be further simplified, and that only a few key measurements need be made to identify critical post-operative complications. These results would then be made available to a growing number of surgeons who are doing heart surgery throughout the country.

Claim Racket Charged To 2 Marinites

Two San Anselmo men were indicted by the San Francisco grand jury last night on charges of working together on a car insurance claim racket.

Earl Parino, 36, of 33 Toyon Road, insurance adjuster for the San Francisco office of the California State Automobile Assn., was alleged to have approved fictitious claims aggregating $1,150.

Some of these, the indictment charged, were paid to Parino's roommate, Garland Hampton, 33, auditor for a mattress company. Another count charged Parino with forgery of a $166.69 claim payment to himself.

Parino had authorization to approve claim payments as high as $250. A routine audit of claims was said to have revealed his illegal operations.

Member Leaving Tam Fire Board

J. A. Stuber, a commissioner for four years in the Tamalpais Valley Fire District, announced to the commission last night that he is resigning and will move to Winfield, Kan., to go into business.

Stuber, a partner in an auto appearance supply company in San Francisco, lives at 312 Poplar Street. Accompanying him to Kansas will be his wife, Leah Mae, and five children.

A replacement on the commission is to be appointed Jan. 24, according to Commissioner Donald J. Taylor.

12 Mumps Cases For Christmas

Twelve Marin children got mumps for Christmas.

The weekly report of Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, today showed a dozen cases of mumps reported last week: six in San Rafael, two each in Mill Valley and San Anselmo, one each on the Tiburon Peninsula and in a rural area.

Drunken Driver Draws $210 Fine

Earl Louis Ginder, 56, electrician of 14 Park Road, Fairfax, paid a $210 fine and must remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense.

He pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court. Ginder was caught Dec. 17 driving while intoxicated along Redhill Avenue in San Anselmo.

Furnishing Store Hit By Burglar

Brown's Home Furnishers at 38 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, was broken into during the night, police said today, and $128 in goods taken including two electric shavers, a transistor radio, some radio batteries and a charger.

Entrance was gained by snapping a lock on the back door of the building, police said. Radio and batteries were taken from the television department and the shavers from the front of the store where a small shaver case was broken open.

Bagley, Bernt Form Law Partnership

Formation of a new law partnership was announced today by William T. Bagley, Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman - elect, and C. John Bernt.

Bagley and Bernt will engage in the general practice of law and will share offices in the Albert Building in San Rafael with the law firm of Gardiner, Riede and Elliott, of which Bagley formerly was a partner. The two firms will operate independently but will be informally associated.

Bernt formerly was with the firm of Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini in San Rafael. He is a graduate of Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. Bagley is a graduate of Boalt Hall in Berkeley—which, like Hastings, is a law school of University of California.

The new association will enable Bernt to handle all legal matters of the firm while Bagley is in Sacramento during the legislative sessions.

Transient Faces Support Charge

A four-year-old warrant of arrest caught up with Leo Joseph Johnson, 56-year-old transient, because he imbibed in too much holiday cheer the day after Christmas in San Rafael.

Yesterday, Johnson appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court and admitted he had been drunk on Fourth Street the day before. He also admitted he is the one who was convicted of failing to support his family in 1956 and put on probation.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino pointed out that Johnson has made no child support payments since December of 1956, when he disappeared.

Judge Haley set 9:30 a.m. Friday for Johnson to appear in court for sentence on the drunkenness conviction and further proceedings for non-support.

Portable Television Set Stolen From Store

Thieves stole a 17-inch portable television set from the Melody Radio and TV store at 1446 Fourth Street, San Rafael, yesterday.

Curt L. Rosenthal, proprietor, reported the loss to San Rafael police at 5:51 p.m. He said the set, which had been on a stand about 20 feet from the front door, had last been seen at 2 p.m.

Librarian Interviews

The Sausalito Library Board interviewed two candidates for librarian today, and, according to City Manager Charles A. Brown, announced they would interview a third candidate Friday morning. The vacancy occurred with retirement of Mabel Wosser on Nov. 1.

Marin General Hospital Has High Occupancy Percentage

Marin General Hospital was 90.4 per cent occupied during November, the county hospital district board was told last night.

The surgical floor showed the highest occupancy—102.3 per cent of "capacity." One-hundred forty-nine babies were born at the hospital during the month.

The hospital admitted 557 patients during November, including 177 from the San Rafael area. Revenue exceeded expense by $3,872.

The board approved a schedule of fees to be charged in the new cardio-pulmonary laboratory. The laboratory, operated by Dr. John C. Bettinger, is believed to be the only one of its type in any 100-bed hospital in the country, Administrator S. Ames Pence said.

The board approved additional payments to architect Robert Stanton of Carmel, who has completed 66 per cent of the architectural work on the new wing.

Service league volunteers gave 2,458 hours of service in the month, it was reported.

OBITUARIES

Rites Held For Frank D. Guzman

Private funeral services for Frank D. Guzman, remembered most by San Anselmo residents for his friendly walks with his dog, were held today at Keaton's Chapel, San Rafael.

Guzman, 78, a retired elevator operator at the Merchant's Exchange Building in San Francisco, died Monday in a local hospital after suffering a stroke Dec. 8.

He retired last January after 30 years service as an elevator operator. He resided at 112 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo.

His dog, a 16-year-old toy shepard and terrier mixture named So So, died last month.

Guzman had enjoyed walking with his dog throughout his San Anselmo neighborhood and had friendly chats with many persons in the area.

A Marin County resident for 16 years, Guzman was a lifetime member of United Ancient Order of Druids. He received his 50-year membership pin a short time ago. He was a native Californian.

He is survived by his wife, Eleanor.

CLARA GALLEMORE

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara P. Gallemore, 11-year Marin County resident, will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at Halsted and Co. in San Francisco.

Mrs. Gallemore, 62, died unexpectedly Monday in Oceanside, San Diego County, while on a trip. She resided at 202 Kent Avenue, Kentfield.

Her husband, William E., is employed by the Electric Storage Battery Co. of Philadelphia.

She was born in Chicago and came to San Francisco in 1924. She lived in San Francisco for 25 years. Before residing in Kentfield, she lived in Los Ranchitos and San Anselmo.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Gallemore is survived by two sons, William E. Jr., San Rafael, and Victor C., Stockton; a sister, Mrs. Victoria Reske, Chicago, and four grandchildren.

HELENE ARENANDER

Mrs. Helene J. Arenander, who was born and grew up in the Tomales area, died in her sleep at the age of 79 yesterday in the Petaluma home she shared with her daughter, Mrs. Eliese Greppi.

Mrs. Arenander had been in failing health for many years.

She attended Tomales schools prior to her marriage to Ernest Arenander, who preceded her in death in 1940.

She is survived by a daughter and a son, Mrs. Greppi and Eugene Arenander of Tomales; a sister and a brother, Mrs. Martha Thompson of Petaluma and George Hulbe of San Francisco, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma. Burial will be in Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma.

ROSE SKRBEK

Mrs. Rose M. Skrbek, 85, a two-year Marin County resident, died yesterday in a local hospital. A cancer victim, she resided at 1314 Fifth Avenue in San Rafael.

Mrs. Skrbek was born in Czechoslovakia and came to the United States in 1903. After living in Wisconsin and Montana, she moved to California in 1934.

Her husband, Gustav Skrbek, died 25 years ago. He was a baker and had owned a bakery shop in Leevining, Mono County.

Mrs. Skrbek is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Arthur W. Greene of Corte Madera; three sons, Fred, of Boonville, Mendocino County; Al, of St. Francis, Wis., and Jack of Hayward, Wis.; five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

A Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. Friends will assemble at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary at 9 a.m.

The recitation of the Rosary will be tonight at 8 o'clock at the Williams mortuary. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

GEORGE MILLIGAN

Funeral services for George F. Milligan of Santa Rosa, brother of Thomas A. Milligan of San Anselmo, were held today in Santa Rosa.

Milligan died Saturday. He had been a telephone installer for 25 years.

He is survived by his wife, May; his brother, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret McClay of Philadelphia.

F. H. FORRESTER

Private funeral services for Francis H. Forrester, 95, former San Anselmo resident, were held last Friday in Guerneville, Sonoma County.

Forrester died Dec. 20 in a Sebastopol hospital. He was retired from the Southern Pacific Co. in 1933 after 20 years as a railroad man. He moved from San Anselmo to Forestville five years ago.

He was a native of California.

He is survived by his wife, Harriet E., in Forestville; two sons, Frank E. of San Anselmo and Virgil S. of Sacramento; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Felth of Sacramento and Mrs. Lorene Moran of Forestville; three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Trustee Files Candidacy Notice

Marett B. Boissevain of 2081 Center Road, Novato, incumbent trustee of the Novato Unified School District, has filed notice of intention to be a candidate to succeed himself.

His notice received yesterday by the office of the county superintendent of schools was the 17th to be received for the April 18 elections in school districts of Marin County. Candidates may file until March 17.

Boissevain is an insurance broker who was appointed to fill a vacancy 16 months ago.

Sent To Hospital

Laura Silver, 49, of Building A-25, Apartment 196, Marin City, was sent to Napa State Hospital for observation last night after neighbors told sheriff's deputies that flaming debris was being tossed out a window of her apartment.

Sergeant Faces Hearing On Hit-Run Fatality

Sgt. Maj. Edmund M. Thompson, 45, of Mill Valley, faces a preliminary hearing Jan. 25 in the hit-run death of a Greyhound bus driver at Richardson Bay Bridge last Friday.

Thompson, who lives at 49 Roque Moraes Drive, is accused of manslaughter and felony hit-run driving.

Greyhound bus driver Julius Nabers, 57, of 219 Los Gallinas Drive, San Rafael Meadows, was struck and instantly killed while he was directing another bus to give his stalled bus a push. About six hours later, Thompson called police to report he may have been in an accident.

A veteran soldier at the Presidio of San Francisco, Thompson is scheduled to be retired on an Army pension in February.

Shutout

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—A Monroe woman shut a man out of her life and in turn got shut out of her home. While she was shopping, her estranged husband nailed up the doors and windows. She needed police assistance to get back into the house.

JUDGE IN N.Y. RULES AGAINST RAILROADING LITTLE CHOU-CHOU

NEW YORK (AP)—Chou-Chou, a pocket-sized Chihuahua prescribed by a psychiatrist, can go right on living in the Martin Turoffs' apartment

This was the opinion of Brooklyn Municipal Court Justice Fred G. Morrit, who ruled yesterday in favor of Chou-Chou and his 6-year-old master.

The Prudential Management Corp. had moved to evict Mr. and Mrs. Morton Turoff, their two children and Chou-Chou because the dog's presence violated a no-pets rule of the cooperative apartment building.

But Turoff told the court that a psychiatrist had advised him to buy a dog for his young son, Steven, because the lad "needed something to cuddle."

Judge Moritt, in dismissing the petition, noted that the dog was well behaved and "so tiny as to easily fit in a man's breast pocket." He said the "boy needs a dog and the dog needs a home."

Man Jailed In Sonoma Slayings Says He'd Do It All Again

SONOMA (AP) — Police say William Chamberlain, charged with murder after a wild shooting spree, says, "I'd do the same thing again."

Chamberlain, 33, was booked yesterday in the fatal shooting of Elmer Ghiggioli, about 60, at the victim's Sonoma home Monday. Ghiggioli's two young daughters were also critically shot and his stepson was slightly wounded.

Authorities disagree about who invented the accordion. Some credit Friedrich Buschmann of Berlin. Others claim that Cyrillus Damian of Vienna invented it in 1829.

Chamberlain, held without bail, was given three days to obtain counsel for a preliminary hearing. He told police he lives in Sonoma and operates a hypno-therapy office in San Francisco.

Police said Chamberlain told them, "I didn't know until I fired that I was going to kill."

Ghiggioli's daughters, Sandra, 6, and Sharon, 13, were still in critical condition today. The dead man's stepson, Airman James Morgan, 21, was in good condition.

Chamberlain said his daughters Mary, 3, and Jane, 5, were doing "bad things sexually" that Ghiggioli's daughter, Sandra, had taught them.

Mrs. Frances Ghiggioli, wife of the dead man, and Sharon were babysitters for the Chamberlain children.

Sheriff John A. Ellis called the shooting "the strangest murder I've ever seen."

Marshland Plan Passed In Principle

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night recommended to the city council the adoption, in principle, of the circulation plan for the marshland area.

Exception was made of the proposed location of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station and facilities.

The commission also recommended adoption of the land-use plan for the area.

Commissioners reiterated their previous stand that the transit route should run east of Highway 101. The transit district proposes to route it west of the highway along the present Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way.

Commissioner Robert W. Graver said that the esthetics did not seem to have been given a great deal of consideration with regard to bridges and structures proposed by the district. For that reason "I haven't changed my mind about the location," Graver said. "This won't enhance the beauty of Mill Valley. I can't believe it will mean the death knoll to our community to move the station to another location."

County planner David Van Pelt said the location of the route east of Highway 101 would "entail another bridge across Richardson Bay, which may not be a thing of beauty either."

Richard J. Shephard, administrative assistant from the transit district, asked the commission to indicate its preference of station sites.

Commissioner Ruth Gustafson said: "I don't think the station at the East Blithedale area (Enchanted Knolls) is suitable for Mill Valley nor rapid transit. I think the Miller Avenue location across from Tamalpais High School is a compromise."

The commission suggested the circulation plan show a frontage road around the area bounded by Ashford Avenue, East Blithedale Avenue and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

The land-use plan recommends mainly civic recreational and commercial use with a feature being a commercial-recreational district on the tip of Enchanted Knolls.

The circulation plan, drawn up by the county planning staff, envisions a scenic four-lane road, to be called the waterfront parkway, to extend from Sausalito to Mili Valley along the waterfront, serve the Mill Valley Yacht Harbor and extend to Lomita Drive (presently undeveloped) to the ridge.

It also calls for a four-lane divided road with limited access for Miller Avenue from Camino Alto to the city limits; a similar four-lane divided road on Camino Alto between Miller Avenue and East Blithedale; a four-lane road on Camino Alto from East Blithedale Avenue up Corte Madera grade; a two-lane road on Sycamore Avenue extension with an elevation over the tracks if rapid transit is realized; a four-lane street from Camino Alto to Highway 101 Alto interchange, with free right turn lanes and protected left turn lanes. In event of rapid transit, East Blithedale Avenue would be elevated over the tracks.

The commission also recommended city council approval of a suggestion from the architectural advisory committee that a shoe shine stand be allowed in the east end of the arcade at the Greyhound Bus Depot.

HELD IN CUBA — Wilson Hall, National Broadcasting Co. correspondent in the Caribbean is being held incommunicado and without explanation by the Cuban government in Havana. He was arrested yesterday by secret police as he was about to leave for the United States to take part in an NBC yearend program. (AP Wirephoto)

Larkspur Council To Consider Fire Chief Pay Raise

Larkspur City Council will consider salary increases for Fire Chief George Bartram and Asst. Chief Claire Harder at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Eleven items placed on the agenda by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler for the Dec. 21 meeting and not disposed of then may come up tonight.

They include a planning program, possible year-end report, report on the North Ridge area, two building code items, Bon Air subdivision matter, report on effect of date change of planning commission meetings, earlier completion of council minutes, earlier closing of council agenda, format of council agenda and a zoning problem.

FOR OFFICES, STUDIOS

San Rafael Schedules Hearing On New Zone

Public hearings on creation of an administrative-professional zone in San Rafael will be held by the San Rafael Planning Commission on Jan. 10 and 24.

This was the decision of the commission last night.

City Planner Donald Newmark said final uses and restrictions for the new zone are still under study but added there "is a definite need for a zone with such facilities, exclusive of general commercial and residential type needs."

The zone would be chiefly limited to offices, studios and laboratories and would follow the county's administrative-professional zone, he said.

Tentative uses include accounting, advertising, legal, medical and dental offices and supplys, art galleries, non profit museums, engineering services and supplies, research laboratories, libraries and reading rooms, photographic studios, radio and television offices and studios, stenographic services and any similar type of administrative and professional use.

Many of these offices would not be the type to locate in shopping centers, Newmark explained.

One of the areas which would be considered for the new zoning is the Marin Professional Center, which was administrative zoned in the county but was changed to unclassified when it was annexed to the city.

Dr. William S. Neal, owner of the Marin Medical Center, has been one of the active spokesmen for rezoning the professional center to administrative uses. (Following his appeal of planning commission action two apartment houses permitted in the center had their use permits revoked last month.)

Newmark said some of the possible restrictions in such a zone now under consideration might be an 8,000 square foot minimum lot size; 35 feet maximum height requirement and 35 to 40 per cent maximum amount of the lot which can be built on.

He said areas where the zone will be applied will have to be decided after adoption of zone after public hearings before the planners and the city council.

Named To PUC

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today appointed George G. Grover, Corona attorney, to the State Public Utilities Commission, replacing Matthew J. Dooley of San Francisco, whose term expires Saturday.

Gate Bridge On Board's Last Agenda

A special session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. tomorrow will fill the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board position held by Leland Murphy of Inverness, which expires today.

The supervisors have not indicated whether Murphy will be appointed for another term.

This presumably will be the final meeting of the present board, including Supervisors Vera Schultz and James Marshall, who will be replaced at noon Monday by J. Walter Blair and George Ludy.

Tomorrow's meeting is without agenda and filling the bridge board vacancy is scheduled as its sole business.

Clerk George S. Jones advised the board yesterday that by law it is necessary to reorganize at noon of the first Monday after the first Sunday in January, which is Jan. 2 in this case.

So the "new board" will meet Monday noon, Blair and Ludy will be sworn in, and without transacting business the board will adjourn to reconvene for its regular weekly session the following morning.

THIEVES TAKE $400,000 FROM FLORIDA VAULT

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Burglars took $400,000 from an armored car service vault but left about $600,000 behind, officials disclosed today.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said the burglary, executed with split-second precision, apparently was an "inside job."

E. A. Rasdale, president of the firm, said the burglary was "definitely" the work of an employee of the Rasdale Armored Car Service or "a former employee."

3 Recommended For Planner Post

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night decided to recommend three men as candidates to fill the commission post of Robert W. Graver, who is resigning Saturday.

Choice among the three would be left to the city council.

They are John A. Estes, surveyor who lives at 154 Hillside Avenue; Dean N. Meyer, insurance broker of 30 Sarah Drive, and Robert C. Mountjoy, architect of 154 Hillside Avenue.

Commission Chairman A. A. Hemmerling presented Graver a certificate expressing the city's appreciation for his service of almost four years.

Church Plea Against Parking Turned Down

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night turned down a request by Rev. Michael Barkowska that Calvary Baptist Church be relieved of offstreet parking requirements.

Neighbors of the church complained about parking in the street in front of their homes. The parking provisions are part of the use permit for the church. A nearby lot has been rented to provide the required parking area, but Rev. Barkowska said the space was not needed.

The commissioners gave architectural approval to plans of Dr. and Mrs. Russell Merret of Kentfield for a drug store and office building next door to 1022 Magnolia Avenue. The Merrets were granted a variance by the city council about 18 months ago to allow them to build in a residential district.

The commission also:

1. Granted a variance to Dr. Harold Lyons to make up for a sliver of his property condemned for the Bon Air Road right of way.
2. Approved a lot split at 26 Sycamore Avenue requested by John P. Lippitt.
3. Appointed James G. Chesnut to the cut and fill ordinance committee.

Commissioner S. W. Eason was absent.

New Larkspur School Gains State Approval

Larkspur School District's contract for purchase of a school site in Mariners Cove for $275,000 from the San Clemente Land Co. has received tentative approval by the State Allocations Board in Sacramento, the district board learned last night.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel said he has received verbal assurance of approval. The state board has authorized the $827,000 school project and set aside $300,000 for the first stage—purchase of the land, site preparation and starting the foundation.

The new school, off Paradise Drive, will have 11 classrooms, two special rooms and administrative offices. The board hopes it will be completed by next October.

The trustees approved a contract with the Town of Corte Madera for a preschool children's playground on the new school site. The town will pay the cost of the apparatus and a fence. It will take 30 to 60 days to order and install the equipment, Seidel said.

Board members reaffirmed support of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission. Seidel noted that the district has budgeted $1,500 for the commission this year, but has to hold back the money until it is determined whether district income will equal estimates. He said this would be known by April.

The board also:

1. Heard the superintendent report he has asked the three parent-teacher association presidents and the citizens advisory committee to name three representatives each to a committee to suggest names for the new school.
2. Approved leave of absence for Mrs. Maureen Allen, fifth grade teacher at Neil Cummins School.
3. Approved replacement of a piano at Neil Cummins School.

Mrs. Pauline Secor and John Boyd were absent.

Mary Lyon, founder of Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass., was the first woman chosen for the Hall of Fame for Great Americans at New York University.

Supervisors Firm On Tower Ruling

Strawberry property owners staged a 10th official "battle of the tower apartments" without notice yesterday before a surprised Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Its only result was reaffirmation of action of a Dec. 13 night meeting when a Samuel R. Neider rezoning request was withdrawn.

Attorney James M. Fletcher, who said he represented "a group of Strawberry property owners," sought reversal of Chairman Walter R. Castro's ruling allowing attorney Bryan R. McCarthy to withdraw Neider's petition to rezone for apartments at Harbor Cove.

Fletcher sought through cancellation of the withdrawal decision to bring a vote on a motion made at almost the same time, by Supervisor Vera Schultz, killing the Neider proposal. This would prevent it from coming up for another two years, whereas withdrawal cleared the deck for a new effort as soon as Supervisors Schultz and James Marshall have been replaced next week by J. Walter Blair and George Ludy.

Fletcher's attempt lost, however, when the board voted 3-2, on motion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, to confirm the withdrawal permission and rule the matter was properly before the board when the withdrawal was allowed. Mrs. Schultz and Marshall voted against the motions.

It was a lawyers' holiday yesterday with fine-drawn legalizing of a sort to befuddle the understanding, and all the attorneys in sight pitching in.

These included Fletcher; McCarthy; Leland H. Jordan, until recently county counsel but leader of the Strawberry forces at the Dec. 13 night meeting, and E. Warren McGuire, who has succeeded Jordan as counsel.

Castro's right to accept the Neider withdrawal was challenged as not backed by a vote of the board. But Castro made the point that he had asked if a vote were needed and his colleagues let him speak for them.

"There was denial of democratic process when one member acted for the board," said Mrs. Schultz of Castro's ruling.

The board of supervisors yesterday also:

1. Received a protest from Marin Municipal Water District over inclusion of district lands in the Ranch Road-Tara Hills Special Assessment District. The water district said it built and maintained the road the special district wants to improve, and should not be subject to assessment for additional improvements. The matter was referred to the county counsel.
2. Appointed Warren Burt senior engineer, Department of Public Works, $401 per month, to fill a vacancy.
3. Designated the Novato Advance as the official newspaper for the county's legal advertising during the next three months.
4. Awarded a $10 safety suggestion award to William C. Bradley, sheriff's inspector, for proposing safety strips on the stairs between the first and second floors of the courthouse at the Fifth Avenue entrance.
5. Voted to install a hand railing in the middle of hte Fifth Avenue stairway entrance to the courthouse.
6. Authorized installation of stop signs in Homestead Valley at Melrose, Evergreen, Ferndale, Scott, Hawthorne, and Linden Lane intersections.
7. Received a report from the county auditor that nearly 37½ per cent of all county employees have been employed for more than four years. The breakdown: Less than one year, 14.2 per cent; one to two years, 18.1 per cent; two to three years, 16.6 per cent; three to four years, 13.7 per cent; more than four years, 37.4 per cent.
8. Accepted a $15 offer from the Las Gallinas Valley Little League for Castro Park, Santa Venetia, to be used for juvenile baseball.
9. Referred to the county administrator a Stinson Beach request for survey of adequacy of garbage disposal, finding that it would require intensive work for 10 to 14 calendar days, for which, as Supervisor Schultz put it, "somebody has to pay the bill."
10. Decided to await action by other affected counties on a request from the directors of Sunny Hills to increase monthly payment for child care from $190 to $227.
11. Belatedly adopted a resolution increasing payment for indigent burials from $200 to $250 in keeping with provision of the last budget, and retroactive to last Aug. 16.
12. Heard from the army engineers that more information was desired as to why the county has opposed extension of George Kappas's time for making Richardson Bay fill, and asked the administrator to press objections based on conflict between the Kappas work and county plans.
13. Approved tentative map of 15-acre Montecito Heights subdivision near Novato.

The 68 million dollar United Nations headquarters was financed by a 36-year, interest-free loan from the United States.

Man Cleared In Wife's Death

PETALUMA—William S. McBee, 53, was released yesterday after an autopsy showed his wife, Hilda, 51, died of natural causes.

McBee had been arrested and booked for investigation of murder after the death of his wife, which followed a beating he allegedly gave her last Friday in the Petaluma trailer court where they reside.

More than 75 per cent of the population in 14 states is now covered by health insurance.

NEEDED BY SATURDAY

United Crusade Asks For Admission Data

Marin agencies not now participating in United Crusade support, but wishing to negotiate on the subject of admission, must give notice in writing by Saturday, according to Harry J. Cooper Jr., president of Marin United Fund.

Mail received next Tuesday, at Marin United Fund headquarters at 801 B Street, San Rafael, Cooper said, will be considered to have been mailed by Saturday, in view of the long holiday weekend.

Negotiation after receipt of such notice, Cooper explained, will be for inclusion in the fall 1961 campaign, for support during the calendar year 1962. Conference during January or February, will be with the 20-member admissions and allocations committee of Marin United Fund, headed by Donald Kreps, principal of Redwood High School.

Probers' Foe Bombed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A two-quart jar filled with gasoline exploded last night at the partment house of House Un-American Activities Committee foe Frank E. Wilkinson.

No one was injured in the blast and flash fire caused by the "Molotov cocktail." Wilkinson, in New York at the time of last night's blast, is field representative of the National committee to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee. He is appealing a one-year jail sentence imposed in 1958 by an Atlanta, Ga., court for his refusal to answer questions about his political beliefs.

Teacher Subject Tests Proposed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A proposal requiring all prospective teachers in California to pass a state examination in subject matter was drafted yesterday for eventual submission to the 1961 Legislature.

The resolution will go before the annual convention of the California State Federation of Teachers this week.

If endorsed by the 100 delegates attending the three-day meeting in Sacramento, the testing proposal would be submitted as a bill to the Legislature.

Maurice Englander of San Francisco, author of the resolution, said today that the San Francisco and Los Angeles districts, with a large number of teacher applicants, already give tests on subject matter.

"This is a recognition that the present credential alone does not signify competence to teach," Englander said.

Like other recent teaching credential proposals of the State Department of Education and the Citizens' Advisory Commision on the public school system. Englander's plan would abolish the present undergraduate major in the methods specialty of education.

But Englander would go a few steps further. His proposal would also require that:

1. All candidates for a teaching credential pass examinations in subject matter, liberal arts, psychology and educational philiosophy, with most weight given exam results in subject matter.

2. All candidates take fewer education courses and get one year of salaried teaching under the direct guidance of a master teacher.

3. Instructors teach only subjects in which they have majored in college.

Lou Eilerman, president of the California federation, said the group endorsed many of the recommendations made by the citizens' commission in a recent report to the Legislature.

Ex-Senator Appointed To Accident Group

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Former State Sen. J. William Beard of El Centro has been named to the State Industrial Accident Commission by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown yesterday also reappointed Daniel F. Del Carlo, secretary-treasurer of the San Francisco Building and Construction Trades Council, to the commission.

Single-Family Zoning Advocated By Planners

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night recommended that Glenwood Unit 4 and Seaview Estates 1 and 2 on Point San Pedro Road be rezoned from planned community to single family residential to conform with the rest of Glenwood.

Commission action followed a no-protest public hearing. The rezoning will go before the city council for a public hearing.

Vote to rezone the three parcels, which lie on both sides of the Glenwood tract, was five to none (Commissioner Mae Zappetini was absent).

Under the special single family residential zoning, the minimum lot size would be 7,500 instead of 5,000 square feet.

Also required are six-foot side yard and 15-foot front yard setbacks except where a driveway and garage are at right angles to the street, when a 20-foot setback is demanded.

Commissioners granted a one-year extension, to Jan. 12, 1962, to the Berkeley Savings and Loan of approval of a tentative map for the 95-lot Seaview Estates 1. After being revised to meet the city engineer's requirements for a sewer system, the map is to be submitted to the parks and recreation commission for its consideration of a park area.

In other action dealing with subdivisions, the city planners delayed for two weeks any action of the tentative map for the 43-hillside lot Westwood Unit 2 development between Hillside Avenue and Ross Valley Drive.

A written report from City Engineer Dominic Selmi said the map showed a street system that could landlock adjacent parcels of land and the development could cause an overloading of drainage facilities on Ross Valley Drive.

The question of drainage liability for the runoff from the 10,000-square-foot lots in the subdivision is being studied by the city attorney, Selmi reported.

By vote of four to none (Commissioner Orlando Conti abstaining), the planners approved a boundary map for almost 12 acres of land zoned for special apartment use along the south side of Nova Albion Way between Las Gallinas Avenue and the Sisters of Nazareth property.

Architect Robert Liles, representing Draper Land Co., told commissioners the original map with all improvements required had been approved but "somewhere along the line someone had dropped the ball" and failed to present the map for final approval.

"We have to file this boundary map (as a final map) before the state land department will issue a permit to develop the land," Liles explained.

Developer Harry Heifetz received approval of three use permits. They include permission for a beauty salon, two unidentified shops and a storage room at 4166 Redwood Highway in the Commonwealth Light Industrial Subdivision, and a restaurant on Redwood Highway frontage road 135 feet north of Professional Center Parkway. Both are subject to construction of curbs and gutters and landscaping.

Heifetz also got commission approval for 25 storage rooms and 11 offices, with a total floor area of 25,684 square feet, in two buildings on Joseph Court in the Commonwealth Light Industrial subdivision adjacent to the Joseph Sauer Firehouse No. 3. The two buildings would have the offices in the front and storage rooms in the rear and would provide 27 parking spaces.

Commissioners approved a permit for the DeWitt Reading Clinic to use a house at 1543 Fifth Avenue for a remedial clinic for children from 7 to 14 years old. The permit was granted subject to approval by the building inspector and state fire marshal. (The clinic has been operating in the house for several months.)

A 34-foot-high Purity Stores sign was approved for the Northgate Shopping Center. The sign, which is little more than half the height of the sign formerly presented by Purity, will be on the corner of Las Gallinas Avenue and Manuel Freitas Parkway.

Commissioners voted to join the Marin County Planning Council, which is being reactivated by planners of the 10 cities and the county itself. Two delegates, chairman Pat Hetherton and Nicholas Dollwet, were selected to attend the first meeting, Jan. 19, at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. Dues will be $25 a year.

Roofer Released In Check Charge

Harold Robert Thadius Goodnough III, 28, a Mill Valley roofer, was released from the county jail yesterday on $163 bail after having been arrested Monday by Sausalito police on charges of making, drawing or passing worthless checks in Sausalito.

Police said that Goodnough, who gave his address as 141 Morningsun Avenue had written a $10 check in August to Purity Stores in Sausalito without having sufficient funds.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin County Sales Well In Front As Business Readies For New Year

Predictions for the new year and the ensuing decade are still rampant, interspread with speculations, ifs and buts. They cover everything from business in general to women's makeup. Speculation stems from uncertainty on what the new administration will do, and conflicting trends.

A new corps of leaders will bring fresh ideas to be tried and tested. They will propose, interpret and administer programs that either directly or indirectly will affect every business and the public at large. Everyone is hoping for remedial measures, business stimulation, employment stimulation, higher benefits or lower taxes—but don't look for any immediate effective corrections. With few exceptions the transitional stage between dominating political influences is not noteworthy for startling changes.

Insofar as Marin County retail sales are concerned, the third quarter of the year (the last comparative breakdown available) placed us well in the running among Bay Area counties with a gain of 3.7 per cent. This was a good 1 per cent higher than the Bay Area average, though Contra Costa, Santa Clara and San Mateo counties were still higher. But higher sales in many quarters were partially offset by lower profits.

REPORTED TRANSACTIONS of trailers, boats, motorcycles and airplanes have been low enough to indicate the consumers are still postponing the purchase of optional goods. For this next quarter, at least, there is nothing to point up an increase. Marin County boat enthusiasts might keep this in mind. You should be able to make some good buys during the next 60 or 90 days.

Among western geographical groupings, businessmen in Northern California and Hawaii are the most optimistic for the next three months, but their outlook is still conservative. "Volume will equal or exceed the first quarter of 1960," is the appraisal of three-fourths of them.

Highest confidence in any group has been expressed by transportation and public utility men.

Consolation for Marin businessmen in general is that the population is still rising and new housing is expected to have better financing. Whether big industry comes to the county or not during the next year, more people buy more goods. But even here there is a leveling trend—it has yet to be determined whether the influx of consumers will outpace an accompanying increase in new retail stores.

FAMILIES STRUGGLING with steep food prices this winter can look for some leveling off in 1961. Beef and veal should be more plentiful and cheaper, but best buys will be in lower-grade, grass-fed beef. Pork is expected to remain high for another six months.

Broilers, fryers and turkeys should be cheaper; eggs will probably remain up; fresh fruits will stay expensive until 1961 crops are harvested in the second half of the year. Lettuce and tomatoes will be higher, but cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli cheaper.

In canned commodities—peas up, but possibly lower prices on beans, spinach and limas. Frozen orange juice will be high.

Blondes and brunettes will be plentiful—and gray hair will be scarcer.

At least, that's the opinion of one cosmetician who predicts that by the end of the present decade, the only woman who won't use hair-coloring will be the woman who uses no cosmetics at all.

County Urged Not To Take Jr. Museum

County Administrator Alan Bruce yesterday recommended against county acquisition of the Junior Museum "at the present stage of development of Marin County."

However, Bruce suggested and the board of supervisors accepted an idea of discussions with the City of San Rafael and with school districts "looking toward a joint powers agreement, to be effective July 1, 1961," to provide for possible operation by the city recreation department with some financial assistance from county and school districts.

He said liquidation of existing indebtedness "certainly should be a prerequisite to assumption of Junior Museum functions by any public agency."

Bruce found that a junior museum is an appropriate city function but that Marin County is not sufficiently urbanized as yet to take on the museum as a feature of a recreation department program.

His report concluded with alternative recommendations, the first being of discussions which Supervisor Vera Schultz supported. The other possibility, not involving the county, is now being considered by the museum board and the Humane Society, said Bruce. It envisages operation as a new and changed program by the Human Society.

Bruce said that if nothing works out and the museum is closed, the county school superintendent would be prepared to have the audio-visual division take custody of some of the museum collections and exhibit materials for classroom study.

Goldfine Hearing Ordered By Judge

BOSTON (UPI)—Federal Judge George C. Sweeney today ordered the U.S. marshal to take Bernard Goldfine into immediate custody and held pending a hearing Jan. 10 on his competence to stand trial for tax evasion.

Goldfine, gift-giving industrialist who figured in a 1958 investigation of influence in Washington, was freed Saturday by Federal Judge George Hart in Washington where the 70-year-old textile tycoon had been held at St. Elizabeth's Hospital under a committment order by Sweeney.

Track Invites Scouts

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — You learn a lot of things when you become a Boy Scout. Take the Scouts in this area, for example. They can spend Saturday afternoon at the Garden State Park, New Jersey's oldest race track. The management invites Girl and Boy Scouts, Cubs, Campfire Girls and Brownies to be its guests.

49ers Only Club Fully Prepared At Pro Football Draft Sessions

HANLEY

Patience in abundant quantity is needed at the annual NFL pro football draft sessions. The only club that enters the sessions properly prepared is the 49ers. All clubs, of course, are equipped with adequate scouting reports, but only the 49ers make their selections without hesitation.

Why? Understandably teams do not want to waste draft choices on a player who won't sign with them. Therefore, they stop the proceedings to make long distance telephone calls to the candidates.

Pappy Waldorf, the 49er talent scout, and his staff take care of the necessary telephoning a week prior to the draft meeting. Waldorf's normal staff consists of himself and his administrative assistant, Roy Gilbert. But for the important telephone work he enlists 49er general manager Lou Spadia, Red Hickey and Hickey's coaching assistants, 49er ticket director Peter Giannini and any other available office hand, such as publicity man Dan McGuire.

THIS YEAR the telephone brigade operated from 49er headquarters because the team was home. Last year, however, the team was in Baltimore a week prior to the 1959 draft meeting. All during Thanksgiving week of '59 Waldorf and his telephone gang ran up a sizeable phone bill from a DuPont Plaza Hotel suite.

Waldorf had all of his files shipped from San Francisco for Operation Telephone that covered 200 possible candidates. Spadia personally talked with each potential draftee after initial contact was made. Everything was ethical and above board.

"WE DON'T know whether we will get you in the draft, but if we do would you like to play for the 49ers?" Spadio asks.

Such preparatory work, if practiced by all NFL clubs, would eliminate tedious half hour and longer delays between each draft choice. Why, for instance, on a first round choice should Baltimore take 35 minutes before voting for Ohio State's Tom Matte? Or 45 minutes elapse before St. Louis announced its first round selection of Auburn's Ken Rice?

There was not a minute's delay as the 49ers selected UCLA's Bill Kilmer, Bowling Green's Bernie Casey and Kilmer's teammate Jim Johnson 1-2-3.

HAD IT not been for the fact that most of the first round draftees were assembled in the East and West camps at Santa Clara and Stanford, the delays in initial choices might have been interminable.

It seems rather silly that NFL clubs will spend upwards of $100,000 throughout the year on scouting reports and wait until the last minute to ask the all-important question "If drafted, will you join the club?"

49ers Gain 'Home Run' Wallop In Draft

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers' three first round NFL draft choices yesterday gave proof that the team is looking for the "home-run" punch it lacked this year.

The Prospectors picked up halfbacks Bill Kilmer and Jim Johnson of UCLA and Bernie Casey of Bowling Green in their first choices.

Besides its regular first-round pick, San Francisco had an extra choice owed from Pittsburgh. Their third selection came after they traded end Dee Mackey to the Baltimore Colts for a first-round selection.

Coach Red Hickey said the team's first three draft choices "were the men we wanted. We went for fast backs because we figure we need them more than any other position."

Concerning Mackey, a promising 225-pound end who snagged 12 passes in his rookie season this year, Hickey said, "When you make a trade to get someone you really want you have to give up something." He pointed out that the team had Monty Stickles to play Mackey's tight end spot.

The addition of Johnson and Casey is expected to give the 49ers much more long-gaining potential. They were two of the nation's top five collegiate hurdlers last year. Both can break loose for the long gainer on the gridiron, and perhaps more important, both are adept pass-catchers.

Johnson is 6-foot-2, 177 pounds and Casey is 6-foot-4, 210 pounds.

Kilmer was a single wing tailback at UCLA, where he led the nation in total offense. He therefore should fit right into Coach Red Hickey's unique "Shotgun" spread offense which relies on a good tailback. Kilmer played "T" formation quarterback before going to UCLA and is also expected to see action there.

Nine draft rounds were held yesterday with 11 more scheduled today.

The 49ers drafted the following men yesterday in rounds two through nine: 2—Rowland Lakes, Wichita center; 3—Bill Cooper, Muskingum back; 4—Aaron Thomas, Oregon State end and Dale Messer, Fresno State back; 5—Bob McCreary, Wake Forest tackle; 6—Mile McClellan, Oklahoma Back; 7—George Hultz, Mississippi Southern tackle; 8—Neil Plumley, Oregon State tackle; 9—Everisto Nino, East Texas State tackle.

Kilmer, Johnson, Casey, Thomas and Messer will perform in Saturday's East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

Before the 49ers' draftees report to the 49er training camp, the Prospectors may have to outbid the American Football League for some of their services.

Most Pro Grid Draft Picks Prefer NFL Over New League

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A majority of the 11 first round National Football League draftees currently on the East and West Shrine squads here indicate they favor the NFL over the new American Football League that drafted them earlier.

Several of the players said they planned to talk with both clubs before making up their minds.

Six of the seven draftees with the East squad appeared to be leaning toward the National Football League. The seventh, tackle Ken Rice of Auburn, who was the No. 1 pick of the St. Louis Cardinals, also was the top choice of the Buffalo Bills of the AFL.

"Frankly, I don't know," Rice answered when asked which team he preferred.

Other first choices with the East are Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback and picked by Minnesota's Vikings as the No. 1 man in the draft; Bernie Casey, Bowling Green halfback picked by the San Francisco 49ers; Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end chosen by the Chicago Bears; Joe Rutgens, Illinois tackle, drafted by Washington; Herb Adderley, Michigan State halfback picked by Green Bay; and Tom Matte, Ohio State quarterback chosen by Baltimore.

In the AFL draft, Mason was picked by Boston, Ditka by Houston, Rutgens by Oakland; Casey, Adderley and Matte by New York.

"I'm glad I was picked by the 49ers," Casey said.

Marlin McKeever, the 1959 All-America end from Southern California, was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams in the NFL session after being picked earlier by the LA Chargers.

"Ever since I was a little boy I wanted to play for the hometown team and that was the Los Angeles Rams," McKeever said. "I am happy to be with them and hope I can make good."

UCLA's tailback Bill Kilmer and wingback Jim Johnson both were drafted by the 49ers which had extra first round choices by trades. Both had been also picked by the Chargers of the AFL.

Johnson, brother of decathlon champion Rafer, said, "Lou Spadia (49er general manager) talked to me and told me they were happy to have me in the organization. It's nice to know that they want me."

Kilmer, the nation's leading collegiate ground gainer, with 1,889 yards, wasn't as definite, saying, "I haven't really made up my mind. I was surprised the 49ers picked me. But I have always wanted to play in the National League. I haven't had any offers from either team, so I'm just going to wait."

The 49ers gave up star rookie end Dee Mackey to Baltimore to get the chance to draft Kilmer.

FORMER MARIN STARS DRAFTED BY L.A. RAMS

Two former Marin County high school football stars were selected by the Los Angeles Rams yesterday in the National Football League's player draft.

They are Willie Hector, guard from College of Pacific, and Reg Carolan, end from University of Idaho.

Hector, former Tamalpais High School lineman, was the Rams' fifth choice. Carolan, formerly of Drake High, was their eighth choice. Carolan, 6-foot-6, 230-pounder, is a "redshirt" because he has another year of college eligibility remaining.

Marciano Named History Maker Of The Century

NEW YORK (AP) — Retired, undefeated heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will be honored as one of the "History Makers of the Century" at the annual B'nai B'rith sports lodge awards dinner here Jan. 22.

The dinner, a memorial to the late Bill Corum, will make special awards to athletes who have been outstanding since the turn of the century.

Among the others who will receive awards are Dr. Roger Bannister, the first runner to crack the four-minute mile; jockey Johnny Longden; pitcher Don "Perfect Game" Larsen; Bobby Thomson, who hit baseball's "miracle 'homer"; tennis star Jack Kramer, and the backfield of the champion Chicago Bears of 1940—Sid Luckman, Ray Nolting, George McAfee and Bill Osmanski.

Giants Slate 27 Games In Pre-Season

The San Francisco Giants will play a 27-game spring exhibition baseball season with games against Cleveland, Boston, the Chicago Cubs and both the Los Angeles Dodgers and the new Los Angeles Angels.

Although the final decision is yet to be made by new Manager Alvin Dark, tentative training plans are for pitchers and catchers to report to Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 22 and the rest of the squad on Feb. 27.

With the exception of two games at Palm Springs against the new Angels of the American League, all the training contests will be in Arizona.

The first will be against Cleveland at Tucson on March 11 with the two clubs playing the next day at Phoenix.

After that the schedule has: March 13, Angels at Phoenix; March 14, Red Sox at Scottsdale; March 15, Cubs at Phoenix; March 16, Red Sox at Phoenix; March 17, Cubs at Mesa; March 18-19 Indians at Tucson; March 20, Indians at Phoenix; March 22-23, Angels at Palm Springs; March 24, Cubs at Mesa; March 25, Red Sox at Scottsdale; March 26-27, Cubs at Phoenix; March 28, Red Sox at Phoenix; March 29, Cubs at Mesa; March 30, Red Sox at Scottsdale; April 1, Indians at Tucson; April 2, Indians at Phoenix; April 3, Angels at Phoenix; April 4, Tacoma at Casa Grande; April 5-6, Dodgers at Phoenix; April 8-9, Indians at Salt Lake City.

San Francisco opens its regular National League season against Pittsburgh's World champions in Candlestick Park on April 11.

Drake, S.R. Tam Lose Games To Bay Rivals

Marin County Athletic League basketball quintets "batted" 0 for 3 yesterday in pre-season games with Bay Area rivals.

Drake's Pirates lost a 39-38 heart-breaker to Balboa of San Francisco, San Rafael bowed to Galileo, also of San Francisco, by a 55-31 measure and Tamalpais' Indians took a back seat to St. Mary's High of Berkeley, 59-41.

Drake Coach Carl Brown said his Pirates played their best game of the season in matching Balboa basket for basket throughout the tilt. However, the city boys made the field goal that counted in the final seconds.

Sam Johnson scored 14 points and Mike Bresnan tallied 10 for the Pirates.

Balboa also won the Class B game 37-24.

San Rafael showed the rust from its Christmas vacation as the Bulldogs connected on only 18 per cent of their floor shots. Early season mistakes also were evident as San Rafael dropped behind a 26-13 halftime deficit and 42-20 going into the fourth period.

Richard Robertson was high man for San Rafael with eight.

Bret Tovani tallied 18 points, but his Class B San Rafael teammates lost to Galileo 45-29.

St. Mary's roared off to an 11-4 first quarter lead and Tam never could recover as the Indians showed need of all-around improvement.

Norm Kreuter's 12 points, Connie Hoetger's 11 and Pete Dornbach's 16 rebounds were highlights for Tam.

Marin Youth Wins Award

The Expert Rifleman Medal, second highest award in junior shooting circles in the United States, has been won by Jan Douglas Keizer of 12 Cazneau Street, Sausalito, announced the National Rifle Assn.

Keizer attends Tamalpais High School and is a member of the Marin County Sheriffs Junior Rifle Club.

Moore-Schoeppner Title Go Sought For March 28

NEW YORK (UPI)—Promoter Humbert (Jack) Fugazy flies tonight to San Diego to negotiate for a light heavyweight title fight at New York, March 28, now that he has changed the date of his Miami Beach heavyweight title bout to March 13.

Fugazy, 74, plans to return to New York tomorrow after a San Diego conference with Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore and Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns about a New York title defense against Germany's Erich Schoeppner, champion of Europe.

The promoter did not disclose the proposed New York site for the Moore-Schoeppner fight on March 28, but it was believed he had Madison Square Garden in mind.

Fugazy announced last night that the third title bout between Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson and Swedish Ingemar Johansson would be held at the Miami Beach Convention Hall on March 13 instead of on March 20, as originally announced last week.

There were two reasons for the one-week advance of the heavyweight date: It would prevent a possible conflict in the promotions of the Miami Beach and New York fights, so close together; and it might help the Miami Beach gate by staging the fight before the end-season exodus of visitors had reached its peak.

The Patterson-Johansson fight will be sent by closed-circuit television to theaters and other locations throughout the United States and Canada. But, since the two title bouts will be staged within the same month, the additional cost to theater-TV producers and theater owners for the Moore-Schoeppner encounter would be very small. Fugazy hopes that both bouts will be on theater-TV.

Thumper To Work For Sears As Sports Promoter

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ted Williams, who retired from baseball at the end of the 1960 season, has signed a contract to help develop, test and promote outdoor sports equipment for a Chicago mail order house.

The famed Boston Red Sox outfielder, who built a lifetime batting average of .344, signed a contract yesterday for "more than five years" on a salary basis with the Sears Roebuck and Co.

"This job's right down my alley," Williams said. "I've been hunting and fishing all my life."

Williams, 42, said he will help design, field test and promote outdoor and sporting goods and would travel widely in this country and Canada, appearing at sports shows and camps.

Williams said Sears would become the biggest customer of his own company, Ted Williams, Inc., a fishing tackle firm in which golfer Sam Snead holds a part interest.

Jockey Howard Grant and his agent, Steve Vaonakis, are going into the horse breeding business. They have purchased one share in Sailor's Guide who enters stud next season at Meadowview Farm, Moorestown, N. J.

Grid Club Honors Forest Evashevski

NEW YORK (AP)—Forest Evashevski, football coach at Iowa for the past nine years, is winner of the New York Touchdown Club award for 1960, club President Arlo Wilson said today.

The award is given annually to the person deemed to have done the most for football over a period of years.

Chargers Cooking Up New Strategy For AFL Playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Sid Gillman is cooking up some new offensive strategy for the Los Angeles Chargers in their New Year's Day game at Houston against the Houston Oilers.

At stake is the championship of the American Football League. Houston won the Eastern Division title and the Chargers tied down the Western crown. The teams met three times this year. They split two regular season games and the Chargers took their first game, played during the exhibition stage.

Los Angeles is placing considerable emphasis on improving the blocking for its fleet Paul Lowe, leading ground gainer of the team. His sweeps and cutbacks spearheaded the Charger ground game this season.

Jack Kemp, Charger quarterback who led all others statistically in the AFL, figures to wage a stirring duel in the air lanes against Houston's veteran, George Blanda, who formerly called the signals for the Chicago Bears.

SHRINE CLASSIC

East-West Starting Lineups Announced

SANTA CLARA (UPI)—Coach Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin has named his starting East lineup for Saturday's East-West Shrine Classic in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium.

The offensive team: LE—Co-Captain Mike Ditka of Pittsburgh, LT—Jim Tyrer of Ohio State, LG—Ron Maltony of Purdue or Myron Pottois of Notre Dame (depending on whether Maltony's injured knee has healed), C—Dick Grecni of Ohio University, RG—Tom Gilburg of Syracuse, RT—Bernard Daree of Tulane, RE—Elbert Kimrough of Northwestern, Q—Tom Matte of Ohio State, LH—Herb Adderly of Michigan State, RH—Tom Mason of Tulane, FB—Tom Wiesner of Wisconsin.

The defensive team: LE—Co-Captain Fred Arbanas of Michigan State, LT—Joe Rutgens of Illinois, RT—Ken Rice of Auburn, RE—Earl Faison of Indiana, Linebackers — Pattois, Ross Hawkins of North Carolina and Mark Manders of Iowa, Deep Backs—Jim Herbstreit of Ohio State, Jim Kerr of Penn State, Tom Wilson of Michigan State, Lowndes Shingler of Clemson.

STANFORD (UPI)—Bill Barnes, coach of the West Shrine team, yesterday named his starting lineup for the Shrine game.

The offensive team: Ends—Marv Luster of UCLA and Marlin McKeever of USC, tackles—Dean Hinshaw of Stanford and Ken Peterson of Utah, guards—Dave Urell of Oregon and Carl Kammerer of College of Pacific, center—E. J. Holub of Texas Tech. Quarterback—Bill Kilmer of UCLA, halfbacks—Keith Lincoln of Washington State and Jim Johnson of UCLA, fullback Jerry Hill of Wyoming.

DEFENSIVE TEAM

The defensive team: Ends—Aaron Thomas of Oregon State and converted fullback Tom Watkins of Iowa State, tackles—Bob Lilly of TCU and Jerry Mays of SMU, guards—Roger Mietz of USC and Tony Polychronis of Utah, linebackers—Arvie Martin of TCU and Fred Hageman of Kansas. Defensive backs—Skip Face of Stanford, Dale Messer of Fresno State and Glynn Gregory of SMU.

Yesterday, Barnes introduced some new offensive plays to the team.

Naval Graduate

Marshall E. Fenstermaker, Navy apprentice petty officer third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Fenstermaker of 620 Vendola Drive, San Rafael, has been graduated from nine weeks of recruit training at the Naval Training Center at San Diego.

Dick Sisler, whose 1950 home run won the National League pennant for the Phils, will coach with Cincinnati in 1961.

Italy Foils Aussie Sweep In Davis Cup

SYNDEY, Australia (AP) — Neale Fraser's game knee went bad on him today and Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli pulled out a last match singles victory which foiled an Australian sweep of the Davis Cup Challenge Round.

Playing in top form and fighting for every point, the baby-faced Roman defeated Australia's limping Wimbledon champion, 11-9, 6-1, 1-6, 6-2, after Rod Laver had given Australia its fourth straight point by cutting down the giant Orlando Sirola, 9-7, 6-2, 6-3.

This made the final score of the series 4-1 in favor of the Australians. There were 5,000 empty seats in the 17,000-capacity White City stands for the final two matches which had no way of reversing the result.

The Cup was clinched by the Aussies yesterday, giving them the trophy for the ninth time in the last 11 years.

Shortly before taking the court against Pietrangeli, Fraser disclosed that doctors had suggested an operation on his knee which buckled on him in the practice week before the challenge round.

Even though hobbled, Fraser mustered enough fight to take the third set with the loss of only one game when Pietrangeli relaxed the pressure.

Norcal Quints Dominate West Coast Cage Tourney

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There will be four northern California quintets in the semi-final round of the West Coast Athletic Conference Basketball Tournament.

San Jose State stunned last year's champ, Loyola of Los Angeles, 53-51, and St. Mary's slipped past Fordham 75-74 in WCAC tournament play at San Francisco.

In the WCAC semi-finals tomorrow night, St. Mary's battles San Jose and Santa Clara engages host USF.

Center Joe Braun paced the San Jose5s Spartans to a semi-final berth and dashed Loyola's hopes of two straight WCAC tourney titles. The Spartans grabbed the lead with nine minutes to play and held off the threatening Lions. Braun scored 12. Ed Bento of Loyola tallied 14 and Jerry Grote had 13 for the Lions.

The Fordham-St. Mary's tilt was tight all the way. The Gaels moved in front after four minutes of the second half and though the Rams stayed with St. Mary's, the New Yorkers were never able to grab the lead again. Tom Meschery scored 28 for St. Mary's. Sophomore Bob Melvin, an agile 6-4, scored 25 for the Rams.

UPI Selects All-Stars In American League

U.P. INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Abner Haynes, the Dallas Texans' versatile 185-pound halfback, was the outstanding choice today on the first American Football League All-Star Team selected by United Press International.

The Houston Oilers, who won the Eastern Division title, placed five players on the 22-man, two-platoon squad selected for UPI by the votes of 24 writers —three from each league city.

The Los Angeles Chargers, whom the Oilers meet in the championship playoff at Houston next Sunday, were represented by four players.

Haynes was one of nine first-year professionals who won All-Star honors following the AFL's maiden season. The 15 other players had previous experience in either the National football league or the Canadian league.

Haynes, who led the AFL in rushing and in punt returns and also ranked among the top 10 players in pass receiving, kickoff returns and scoring, polled 23 of a possible 24 votes.

Ron Mix of the Chargers, a rookie offensive tackle from Southern California, was the second highest vote-getter with 18, while the next most popular choice was Bud McFadin, the Denver Bronco's 280-pound defensive tackle playing his fifth season of pro football. McFadin polled 17 votes and offensive end Lionel Taylor of Denver had 17.

Besides Haynes and Mix, the first-year pros honored were: Bill Groman, Houston offensive end; Rich Michael, Houston offensive tackle; Jack Davis, Boston Patriots guard; halfback Paul Lowe of Los Angeles; fullback Dave Smith of Houston; defensive end Mel Branch of Dallas, and linebacker Paul McGuire of Los Angeles.

Four positions on the first team were decided by a margin of one vote. In the close offensive races, Groman edged Don Maynard of the Titans at end, and Michael beat out Jerry Cornielson of Dallas at tackle. On defense, Torczon and Branch, each with 10 votes, poled one more than Paul Miller of Dallas at end, and Matsos Barely beat out Sherrill Headrick of Dallas as the middle linebacker.

Voters were required to differentiate on their ballots between middle and outside linebackers.

Haynes, who played his collegiate football at North Texas State, was a "one-man gang." He led the league in rushing with 875 yards in 156 carries for an average of 5.6 per try and in punt returns with an average of 15.4 for 14.

He also caught 55 passes for a total of 576 yards to rank fifth in that department, carried back 19 kickoffs an average of 22.8 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

More Golfers Make Money On Pro Tour

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — About 40 golf professionals on the tour are making "at least" $20,000 a year, former PGA champion Bob Rosburg said today.

"And the tour in 1961 will be richer than ever," he added. "It will be better organized. The golf tour now is big business."

Rosburg, chairman of the PGA rules committee, thinks there is nothing like the golf tour for a young man looking for an exciting, healthy, money-making fututre.

"The official winnings for Arnold Palmer this year show he has made around $75,000," says Rosburg. "But recently he told me he would gross closer to $150,000.

"Ken Venturi won $45,000 'officially', but his gross for the season will be about $80,000.

"And look at me. I haven't won a tournament all year. And my official earnings have been set at around $15,000. But I'll come close to $50,000. Of course,, I won $18,000 on TV matches."

When Rosburg, who won the National PGA championship in 1959, turned pro in 1954, there were only about 20 men making a "good living" on the tour.

"But you could say that at least 30 make a very good living now," he says, "and at least 40 are making better than $20,000 per year."

At the ripe young golf age of 34, Rosburg isn't about to settle down to the rocking chair.

"I'll stay on the tour until I'm 38 or 40," he says. "Then I'll take a job as a club pro. I expect to stay in golf as long as I live."

The some-times hot-tempered man with the baseball grip on his club thinks the caliber of youngsters coming up in the golf game is as good as ever—if not better.

"We have young lads like Bobby Nichols of Texas, Dave Hill of Denver and Jon Gustine of Gladwyne, Pa., who will be the greatest of the future. Every year some kids come along who show great promise."

Some 24 teams took part in this year's Christmas Basketball Tournament Sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department and held at the San Rafael High School gymnasium.

Winners in the various age groupings were as follows: 18-and-under, Marvel Athletic Club; 16-and-under, San Rafael High School Pistons; 14-and-under, St. Raphael's; 12-and-under, St. Raphael's.

First and second place finishers were presented with trophies, announced Dennis Sullivan of the department.

Huskies, Gophers Rated Dead Even

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rose Bowl writers and amateur kibitzers taking part in the annual pre-game guessing party rate Minnesota and Washington virtually dead even.

A ballot at the football writers' luncheon yesterday showed 56 votes for Washington, 54 for Minnesota and three for a tie.

The point spread for Washington ranged from one to 32; for Minnesota from one to 19.

Professional oddsmakers have Minnesota a 6½-point favorite.

The FISHIN' FOOL

I-J Fish and Game Writer

Fishing Spotty, But There Are High Hopes For Radical Improvement

STEVENS

It is 1:30 p.m. Christmas Day. Ernie Titus of Point Arena, and his brother-in-law, Milton Iverson, just drove up to their house with two nice steelhead they took in the Garcia.

I quizzed Mrs. Titus on the streams conditions in that section of the country.

"All the streams; the Gualala, Garcia, Navarro and the Fort Bragg streams are in A-1 condition. Not too many fish being taken, though. Yesterday practically no fish were landed in the Gualala, although conditions were okay. Not too hot on the Garcia, either. I lost a nice one and Ernie never had a hit. Much better today, Ernie just called out to me," she replied.

That on-the-spot report was about on a par with the word from the Navarro and the Fort Bragg streams. As for the Russian—sorry! I have no dope.

As most of you know the Russian is the last river along the north coast to return to normal. Could be that by the time you read this it will also be in prime condition. Always provided there are no hard rains in that sector.

AT THE PRESENT time, prospects for a continued spell of clear weather look good, but don't bank on it. Get in touch with someone who is on the spot, or call your weather bureau for what has happened, is happening or is expected to happen only a few hours before you shove off from home and family.

Mind you, never judge weather and water conditions either north or south of the Gate by what is taking place hereabouts.

I was asked to report on what's doing in the Inverness Area — Tomales Bay and Papermill Creek, so I called a man who should know — Davis Campbell of the Golden Hinde Boats at Inverness. First about steelhead:

"NO, STEVE, not yet. Probably next month, but nothing doing at present." About Salmon — "We expect there will be another run of salmon later on, but nothing now." Striped bass — "Prospects are good at present. The herring are again in the Bay. Some very large stripers are contesting the birds and the seals for the little fellows. One of my regular customers reported hooking two huge fish while trolling, but lost them both. Exceptionally large bass, apparently."

So that's that. Best appraisal would be to call all fishing spotty at present, with high hopes for a radical improvement.

Local fishing for stripers, flounders and catfish can be rated generally good. The upper San Pablo Bay has been yielding some nice catches — limits and near limits. The back country has been hot one day, only lukewarm the next day. Catfishing, especially for a number of East Bay anglers, has been about perfect for quality and quantity.

JOE NAVARRO of the C. V. Sportsmen's Center called to report that Don Pereira and Manuel Silva displayed 30 catfish weighing a total of 36 pounds — some 2½ pounders. L. Pilkington and son, Ronny limited with big cats the same day, and Katherine and Al Duerta fished the Old River Mecca and accounted for 12 fish each from two to three pounds.

Some fair catches made in Franks Tract and Big Break with fish to 12 pounds reported. John Rodriques and son Larry took a 17 and a 22 pounder near West Aisland near the Antioch Bridge. Correction: Larry took the big ones. Daddy John's top fish was a 12-pounder.

Charles Timental called to report a congestion of geese in the Colusa area at present. Charlie took an easy limit. Bob Preston and L. Foster reported limits of ducks taken recently out of Hastings Slough in the Suisun Bay. Other reports on ducks in the Napa Marshes and the upper San Pablo Bay were rather pessimistic.

Pardon me, please. I was just called for Christmas dinner. See you on Thursday. Until then, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Coaches Tardy To Gophers' Practice, Players Fine 'Em

PASADENA (AP) — Minnesota football players gleefully "fined" Coach Murray Warmath and four assistants $5 for showing up late for practice yesterday.

The staff was delayed at a luncheon and arrived several minutes after the scheduled 2 p.m. starting time.

"We're a democratic outfit," Warmath explained later. "I asked for a show of hands on whether the coaches ought to be fined, and everybody's hand went up. We didn't have much of a defense.

"We're going to pool our interests," he said, "and bet on a long shot at the races."

Detroit Lion Wins 1961 Rookie Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gail Cogdill, a six-foot-two, 190-pound offensive end who caught 43 passes for the Detroit Lions, today was named the 1960 National Football League Rookie-of-the-Year by United Press International.

The 23-year-old former Washington State Star, who possesses all the qualities for becoming a star end in the N. F. L., received 17 votes in a poll of 39 writers—three from each city—who covered league games.

Halfback Tom Moore of the Green Bay Packers and fullback Ted Dean and linebacker Maxie Baughan, key operatives in the Philadelphia Eagles' march to the Eastern Division title, each received four votes.

Guard Mike McGee of the St. Louis Cardinals and end Dan Colchio of the San Francisco Forty-Niners each had two votes and six other players each got one vote in the wide-open balloting.

Cogdill, a native of Spokane Wash., got his chance to play in the Lions' second game during past season — against the Forty-Niners — and he made the most of it by catching eight passes for 115 yeards.

"That gave me a big lift, knowing they had that much confidence in me," said Cogdill. "From then on I had all the confidence in myself I needed."

Cogdill went on to catch 35 more passes for a season total yardage pickup of 642. Teammate Jim Gibbons caught 51 passes for the Lions but Cogdill gained more yards with his 43 receptions.

Army Aide Named Coach At Cornell

ITHACA, N.Y., (UPI)—Tom Harp, backfield coach at Army, today was named to succeed George (Lefty) James as head coach of the Cornell University football team.

Harp, 33, will be the youngest head football coach in the Ivy League. He is expected to assume his new duties Jan. 5 and should assemble his staff of assistants within three weeks.

James was fired as head coach following the Thanksgiving Day Cornell-Pennsylvania game, which ended one of the Big Red's worst seasons.

OUT OF THE OLD SOUTH is this delicious recipe for Creole Shrimp Jambalaya. Explore the myriad possibilities of shrimp in cans for easy main dishes the entire family will enjoy. So, in your pet recipes calling for cooked shrimp, just switch to canned. And canned shrimp will substitute smoothly in most of those conversation-piece dishes created for the fresh or frozen product.

So Easy, So Thrifty With Canned Shrimp

Would you like to serve shrimp often at mealtime and feel that you were minding the budget, too?

Then explore the myriad possibilities of shrimp in cans for easy main dishes the whole family will enjoy.

Canned shrimp, you'll discover, is a most convenient, affordable source of this most popular of the shellfish.

It is not a new product by any means. Actually, in this, the 150th year of the faithful tin can, we learn that shrimp were first canned commercially 93 years ago.

First methods were crude, of course, and the shrimp were cleaned by hand. Well and good for 1867, but it was not until a mere decade ago that the costly chore of peeling and deveining shrimp by hand began to be taken over by automatic machines. Modern methods have made all the difference in the happy emergence of canned shrimp from an occasional treat or a party tidbit to a practical choice in meal planning.

A little flexing of the imagination will show what a good thing comes in this small package. You will find more individual shrimp packed curve to curve in those small-seeming cans than you'd imagine until you count them. By weight, you can figure, for example, that it requires at least one pound of whole, unpeeled fresh shrimp to fill the flat, familiar 4½-ounce can of deveined shrimp.

All sizes, from colossal to tiny, are available in cans. There is no waste, so a can or two of any size shrimp can be made to go a long, long way in putting together main dishes which will be hearty, satisfying family affairs.

The trick is to team them with favorite extenders such as rice, noodles, and all the shapes and kinds of pasta. Serve them with vegetables—squash, eggplant, okra, corn. Heap them in avocados and other natural cases such as large onions, tomatoes, sweet pepper. Cream them, curry them, serve them endlessly in casserole. Or send them to the table a la Louisianne, as in jambalaya, gumbo, shrimp creole.

For practical purposes, canned means cooked. So, in your pet recipes calling for cooked shrimp, just switch to canned. And canned shrimp will substitute smoothly in most of those conversation-piece dishes created for the fresh or frozen product.

2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp
½ pound diced hot sausage or ham
2 tablespoons shortening
½ cup chopped green onions and tops
1 cup diced green pepper
3 cloves garlic, chopped
¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup uncooked rice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
1 teaspoon crushed thyme
1 bay leaf

Drain and rinse shrimp. Saute sausage or ham in shortening about 2 minutes. Add onions, pepper, garlic and cook until tender. Add remaining ingredients and shrimp. Bring to a boil and reduce to low heat. Cover closely and cook without stirring for 30 minutes, or until rice is fluffy. Serves six.

Lamb Riblets

NEW YORK (UPI)—Molasses lamb riblets are a broiler dish you can make in 15 minutes. Mix ⅓ cup of molasses with 2 tablespoons of vinegar, 1 teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, and ½ teaspoon of thyme. Brush 1½ pounds of lamb riblets with sauce, and broil 5 to 7 minutes on each side 3 to 4 inches from heat source. Brush with remaining sauce before broiling second side.

Ring Out The Old, Ring In New Year With Cranberry Recipes

When the New Year arrives cranberry harvest time is over . . . but fresh cranberries still brighten the fresh fruit counters at local stores.

So ring out the old year with an old favorite . . . rib roast of pork. Ring in the new year with a sensational stuffing to make the pork a crowning touch on your table. The tang of the cranberry is the perfect flavor mate for meat. Use ready mixed bread stuffing or day-old bread cubes in making stuffing for your rib roast. Take your pick of the following. . . .

CRANBERRY APPLE STUFFING

1 (8-oz.) package ready-mixed bread stuffing
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
½ cup hot water
½ cup fresh cranberries, chopped
½ cup finely chopped apple

Combine stuffing, sugar, salt and poultry seasoning. Melt butter in skillet. Add onion and cook slowly 5 minutes. Add with water and fruits to bread mixture. Toss lightly. Use as stuffing in slits between chops or rib roast of pork. Cover meat with Cranberry Glaze 30 minutes, before meat is done, basting several times.

CRANBERRY GLAZE: Combine 1 cup fresh cranberries, ¼ cup water, ½ cup light corn syrup. Cook over medium heat till berries are soft.

CRANBERRY STUFFING

1½ cups fresh cranberries
½ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
4 cups bread cubes
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon marjoram
¼ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup dry white wine

Coarsely chop cranberries. Melt butter in large skillet. Stir in onion and bread cubes. Stir constantly over low heat for 5 minutes. Mix sugar, marjoram, thyme, salt and pepper together. Add with chopped cranberries to bread mixture. Mix well. Press into buttered baking dish. Pour white wine over mixture. Bake one hour in 325 degree F. oven. Place stuffing in wedges beside roast of pork or atop baked pork chops.

Here's another specialty to ring in the new year. Frosted cranberries make a most delicious snack. Each shiny red berry looks frosted with snow. They'll be favorites any time of the day . . . a healthful treat to be served as a confection atop cakes and cookies or as a nibbler. Store them in gay apothecary jars.

FROSTED CRANBERRIES

1 egg white
½ teaspoon water
1 cup fresh cranberries
1 cup granulated sugar

Lightly beat egg white and water together until just blended. Dip cranberries in mixture until completely coated. Roll in sugar. Let stand until dry at room temperature. Store in refrigerator.

With canned cranberry sauce, you'll like this meat relish. . . .

SHARP 'N SPICY CRANSHIRE RELISH

1 (1-lb.) can jellied cranberry sauce
½ teaspoon seasoned salt
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
Dash of red pepper

Beat jellied cranberry sauce until smooth and velvety. Stir in remaining ingredients. Heat and serve with meat. Makes about 1 pint.

SPECIAL FOR the New Year are two new Cranberry ideas Cranberry Stuffing for a roast pork and Frosted cranberries. Bedecked with snow these cranberries make a perfect confection for cakes and cookies or a healthful nibbler between meals.

TEA FOR A CROWD

California Fruit Bars Tea

CALIFORNIA FRUIT BARS

3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
1 cup butter
1½ cups firmly packed dark brown sugar
¼ cup honey
4 eggs
Fruit mixture
1 cup chopped walnuts

Grease 2 jelly roll pans (15 by 10 by 1 inch). Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda and spices. Cream butter, sugar and honey; beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, then fruit mixture and nuts. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cool in pans on wire racks; cut into bars about 2 by 2 inches. Makes 80.

FRUIT MIXTURE: Mix 2 cups raisins (rinsed in hot water, drained and coarsely chopped), 1 cup soft dried figs (cut in small pieces) and ½ cup each candied cherries, lemon and pineapple; add ¼ cup sherry. Let stand several hours.

Tasty Snack

NEW YORK (UPI) — Puffed rice balls make a tasty snack for teen-agers. Measure 5 cups of puffed rice into a shallow pan and heat 10 minutes in 350-degree oven. Pour into a large greased bowl.

In a double boiler, melt ⅓ cup of butter or margarine, ½ cup of peanut butter and ½ pound of large fresh marshmallows (about 32), stirring occasionally. Pour this over puffed rice, stirring until evenly coated. Grease hands and mold coated cereal into 12 balls, using whole marshmallows as cores. Cool and wrap in foil.

Some Famous Old Dishes Of Virginia

Savoy Biscuit—One quart of flour. One pound of sugar, eight eggs, beaten separately and one fourth of a pound of butter. Roll thin, cut in rounds or squares, and bake in a quick oven. These are very nice to serve with coffee or wine. If desired, a little grated nutmeg and cinnamon can be sprinkled over the cakes before baking.

Arlington Tea-Cake—One pound of flour, one pound of sugar, one half pound of butter, two eggs and one and one-half teaspoons of cinnamon. Mix the butter and sugar, then the eggs and lastly the flour into which sprinkle the cinnamon. Roll thin, cut with a cake cutter, glaze each cake with the beaten white of egg and sprinkle nutmeg and cinnamon over them. Bake in a moderately quick oven.

Sweet Potato Pudding—Roll and mash two pounds of sweet potatoes. While hot stir in three fourths of a pound of butter; add six eggs, beaten separately, one pound of powdered sugar beaten into the yolks, and the juice and grated rind of two lemons. Bake without a paste in a buttered dish. Serve either hot or cold. It is best when served with currant jelly, preserved damsons or any acid jam or preserve.

Queen Charlotte Pudding—One pound of flour, five eggs, three fourths of a pound of sugar and one half pound of butter. Mix like a cake and just before baking add one small teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one teaspoonful of vinegar.

Sauce for the pudding: Cream one half pound of sugar and one half pound of butter; add the yolk of one egg well beaten and the grated rind and juice of a lemon. Set it over the fire, and stir until hot; grate in a little nutmeg.

Good Suggestions For Punch Bowls

Holiday time is here, and with it a succession of open-house parties and fireside camaraderie. Rod and Charlotte Strong, of the newly-established Tiburon Vintners, have several suggestions for punch bowls, using California wines, both white and red.

(Tiburon Vintners' special "Christmas Punch" is guaranteed to chase away that holiday hung-over feeling, and if taken generously the night before, will never let that ouch feeling get started in the first place.)

CHRISTMAS PUNCH

2 cups California Port wine
½ cup lemon juice
1 (6 oz.) can frozen orange juice concentrate
1 cup sugar
1 4/5 qt. California Burgundy or other Red Table Wine, chilled.
1 large bottle sparkling water, chilled.

Combine Port, lemon juice, frozen orange juice concentrate and sugar in a punch bowl. Stir until orange juice concentrate is completely thawed and sugar is dissolved. Pour in Burgundy and sparkling water. Add a block of ice or a tray of ice cubes. Serve at once. Makes about 3 quarts.

CALIFORNIA WINE PARTY PUNCH

2 (6 oz.) cans frozen orange juice.
2 (6 oz.) cans frozen lemonade concentrate
2 bottles (4/5 qt. each) California Sauterne, chilled
2 large bottles sparkling water, chilled
Berries or sliced fruit for garnish

Mix frozen juices with wine and blend until smooth. Just before serving pour in sparkling water. Add ice cubes or block of ice. Garnish with berries, cherries, or slices of orange, lemon or pineapple. Makes about 40 three-ounce servings.

MULLED WINE

Dissolve 1 cup sugar in 4 cups water in large saucepan. Add peel of ½ lemon and 18 whole cloves. Boil 15 minutes. Add 2 large (4/5 qt.) bottles California Burgundy or Claret; heat gently. Do not boil. Serve hot in preheated mugs or cups. Garnish each with cinnamon stock, to use for stirring. (This recipe makes about 20 servings.)

Rosy Peach Garnish

Rosy, piquant peaches make gay trimmings for your holiday turkey or goose. Prepare them ahead of time and keep in refrigerator until the festive day. Stick whole cloves into canned cling peach halves. Measure ½ cup syrup from peaches. Combine with ½ cup EACH water and sugar and ¼ cup EACH red cinnamon candies and vinegar. Simmer about 5 minutes, add peaches and simmer about 10 minutes longer. Add few drops red food coloring, if needed. Use chilled peaches to decorate meat platter, or fill with whipped cream cheese as dinner salad.

Cheetham-Champlin Wedding Held In Community Church

Mill Valley's Community Church with its Christmas decor was the setting for the marriage Friday evening, Dec. 23, of Mrs. Betry Mee Champlin of Mill Valley and Jack Willis Cheetham of Columbus, Ohio.

The double ring rites were performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Samuel A. Wright Jr. of the Unitarian Church of Marin.

When the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Fraser Bradford Champlin of Petaluma, she was wearing a street length dress of olive green organza over taffeta fashioned in shirtwaist style with three-quarter sleeves. Her hat was of silk ribbon matching her dress and she carried a bouquet of holly.

Matron of honor Mrs. Theodore Voyvodick of San Francisco was attired in a brown brocade sheath and matching hat, and gowned identically was the maid of honor, the bride's older daughter, Sally Champlin of Mill Valley. Her younger daughter, Mimi Lizette Champion of Mill Valley, wore a street length chocolate pink formal with jacket and beige hat. All attendants carried bouquets of holly.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of W. P. Cheetham of New Straitsville, Ohio, was the bride's son, William Bradford Champlin of Mill Valley, and showing guests to their seats were Rolland McCready of Stinson Beach and Theodore Voyvodick of San Francisco.

Miss Jan McCready of Stinson Beach sang "Love Walked In" by Gershwin, and Mrs. John Barnard played a medley of Christmas music on the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception for some 40 guests was held at the couple's home, 31 Longfellow Road, Eenchanted Knolls, Mill Valley. It was decorated in a Christmas theme.

The new Mrs. Cheetham is a native of Alameda and was graduated from Mills College.

Her husband attended Ohio University and was employed in industry in Columbus five years. He served with the United States Armed Forces in Korea. His one sister is Mrs. L. S. Holst of Little Rock, Ark.

Novato Scouts Pay Visit To Atomic Plant At Vallvicitos

Senior Girl Scout Troop 345 and Explorer Post 56 of Novato enjoyed a trip to Vallvicitos, the experimental atomic plant operated by PG&E and General Electric Co., recently.

Fifteen Senior Scouts and 20 Explorers traveled by chartered bus, accompanied by Misses Barbara Mugg and Jo Cheney, leaders of Troop 345, and Robert C. Beebe and Doug Johnston, advisors of Post 56.

Their guide explained that Vallvicitos, which is Spanish for "little valley" and located between Pleasanton and Livermore, was the first privately financed atomic plant in the entire world. The plant has the Atomic Commission License No. 1, of which they are very proud.

PG&E produce 5,000 kilowatts of electricity from atomic energy, which is transmitted for use in the local area. The two companies built the plant largely as an experiment, to iron out any engineering and scientific "bugs" which may exist. As a result, PG&E is now building a plant in Eureka, similar to Vallvicitos, which will produce electricity on a competitive basis with oil and gas.

The group especially enjoyed seeing how the surrounding area was checked for radioactive material, and how the atoms were actually transformed into energy to produce electricity. They learned that within the foreseeable future, cities, factories and private homes would enjoy many benefits of atomic energy at inexpensive rates.

The students, interested in learning about future careers in this field, were told that a shortage now exists in engineers, lab technicians and scientists in the field of peacetime atomic energy uses.

The trip was arranged through the courtesy of Lee Wise, manager of the Novato Branch of PG&E.

Two Couples Host Party For Students

The junior day students of Dominican Upper School presented their Christmas dance at the San Rafael Yacht Club on San Pedro Road. The gala affair was on Thursday evening, Dec. 22. The festive decorations carried out the theme "Christmas Carousel". The 20 couples were hosted by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hartmann and Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Boss.

Belrose Dancers Conclude Shows With A Party

Dancers and entertainers from the Belrose Dance Studio have had a busy Christmas season doing many benefit shows.

A show was presented at the County Hospital in Lucas Valley to start off the season.

Entertainers next performed for the Safeway Employees Childrens' Christmas Show. The Marin Rod and Gun Club welcomed the entertainers and dancers for their annual Christmas show and Santa Claus was there to present them with gifts. This busy season next found some of the Belrose Dancers performing in the Christmas program sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department.

In all the benefit shows many fast moving tap numbers were performed — several pantomimes and the ballet "Hansel and Gretel" was presented.

To round out this festive series of performances and shows the Belrose Studio had a Christmas party on Dec. 22, with 100 children attending.

GALA HOLIDAY PARTY FETES MARIN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

A gala Christmas party and dinner were given recently at Maria's Pueblo in San Rafael by the Drake Diplomats of Sir Francis Drake High School for the exchange students in Marin County. Maria's Pueblo is under the management of Frank Gargiulo whose brother, Michael A. Lopez of the Drake High School faculty is a member of the school's American Field Service Committee. He is now leading a tour of teachers through Mexico.

Games were played and Christmas carols sung. A highlight of the party was the breaking of the pinata by Chuck Katungi, a Redwood High School exchange student, whose home is in Uganda, East Africa. Other exchange students present were: Alkis Mangriotis of Greece; Ahmet Guciuyener, Turkey; Amparo Huici, Spain; Linda Speh, France; Jacques Delaquroix, France; Roger Smeet, Belgium; Ricardo Gallo, Chile and Charo Lorca, Spain.

More than 50 guests attended the affair including American "brothers and sisters" of the exchange students, Drake Diplomats officers, Mike Ungersma, president; Debbie Rossman, vice president; Leslie Smith, secretary; Mrs. Donald W. Robinson, adviser of the Drake Diplomats and Joseph D. Gargiulo of Novato High School, representing his brother, Michael Lopez, and Mrs. Gargiulo.

Hobby Show At Hospital With Party

A special hobby show was held by talented personnel at Marin General Hospital in connection with its annual Christmas Party Thursday Dec. 22 in the annex at the hospital.

Attracting much attention was a ceramic display by Russell Brown, chief laboratory technician. Lafayette Ottinger, surgery technician showed some fascinating driftwood which he collects along the beaches from here to Oregon.

One of the most interesting exhibits included several baby crib coverlets created by Carol Ild, R.N., who weaves designs in old curtains.

An example of beautiful hand knitting was shown by Nancy Rake, assisting admitting officer; Elinor Welzin, assistant dietitian, showed several of her paintings; Al Carpenter, Licensed Vocational Nurse exhibited an upholstered chair; and Mrs. Alice Shepley, chief PBX operator, showed a picture painted by her son, William McEvoy as well as a mosaic which she had done.

Lodge Card Party

Mt. Tamalpais Lodge No. 399 IOOF and Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 will give a public New Year's Eve card party at the temple in Mill Valley starting at 8:15 p.m.

Refreshments will be served afterward. In charge are Richard Bennett and Mrs. Clifford Spinney.

Caroling Groups Add To Gaiety During Holidays

Caroling groups added to the gaiety of the Yuletide Holiday at Marin General Hospital with their joyous voices. Ten Blue Birds, under the leadership of Mrs. W. C. Nuckolls of Mill Valley, sang at 4:15 p.m. on Dec. 18.

The Freshman Sodality Group from Marin Catholic High School sang on the evening of Dec. 22 at 7 p.m. Sister David Emanuel was in charge. A group of 25 girls from Job's Daughters sang at 8:30 p.m. on that same evening under the leadership of Mrs. James Ricksecker, of Belvedere.

On Christmas Eve sixth graders from Fairfax, under the leadership of Mrs. Betty Hutchinson of Fairfax, caroled for the hospital patients. Mrs. Hutchinson incidentally is a former Marin General Hospital nurse.

Many more groups offered to carol at the hospital but, due to tight scheduling, it was impossible to accommodate all those who wished to add joy to those hospitalized during the holiday season.

Gains, Losses In Many Fields Marked Woman's World 1960

By MARCIA MILANOWSKI

CHICAGO (UPI) — Women wrote a major chapter in the history of 1960.

The names that stood out as the first year of the new decade ended included Jacqueline Kennedy, Princess Margaret, Pat Nixon, Queen Elizabeth, Barbara Powers, and Queen Farah Diba.

They were central figures in election campaigns, in royal births and marriages, and international incidents.

There were pageantry and simplicity, hope and the end of longing in the walk down the aisle of Westminster Abbey for Britain's Princess Margaret. The girl just about everyone had relegated to spinsterhood married a commoner and former photographer, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Escapades of heiress debutantes sparked the flame of romance in adventurers around the world. Gamble Benedict and ex-chauffeur Andre Porumbeanu, 35, finally said "I do" in a North Carolina town after a hide-and-seek elopement to Paris and a tug-of-war battle with Grandmother Benedict, the power behind the Remington typewriter fortune.

Nanette Wallace married her soldier from North Carolina with the blessings of her mother, but only after an elopement from France to Germany. Miss Wallace's mother, Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, is the ex-wife of millionaire Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.

Queen Elizabeth gave Britain its second royal prince, the first to be born to a reigning British monarch in more than a century. Queen Farah Diba of Iran presented the Shah with his first son, and the throne with its next heir.

Princess Michiko of Japan gave birth to her first child, also a boy.

King Baudouin, the bachelor monarch of Belgium, surprised royal matchmakers by taking a Spanish bride, Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon. The beloved Princess Suga of Japan married a commoner.

America's queens made headlines, too. Skating star Carol Heiss won a gold medal at the Winter Olympics and later her fifth world figure skating title; negro athlete Wilma Rudolph became the new queen in women's track, taking three gold medals in Olympic contests in Rome.

LOVELY QUEEN

A lovely queen from Montague, Mich., took the Miss America crown. She's 18-year-old Nancy Anne Fleming.

In politics Pat Nixon launched a campaign of her own for First Lady, but lost out to 31-year-old Jacqueline Kennedy. In November, Mrs. Kennedy gave birth to her second child and first son, John F. Kennedy Jr.

Maurine Neuberger won her late husband's senatorial seat in Oregon. She'll be on the opposite side of the aisle from Margaret Chase Smith, Maine Republican, who was reelected after a historic race with another woman, Mrs. Lucia Cormier. It was the first time in history two women competed for a Senate seat.

In Ceylon, Mrs. Sirima Bandaranaike, 44, was elected premier, the first woman in history to hold such a post. She succeeded her husband who was assassinated.

May day, and a fateful mission, the haunting story of a pilot's wife—Barbara Powers, wife of the U-2 pilot sentenced to 10 years of hard labor in Russia after being convicted of espionage. The 26-year-old Georgia woman was plummeted into an international spotlight that dimmed only when the goodbyes were said in a dark and bare Moscow prison.

Space news took a woman's turn with adventurous Jerrie Cobb. The slender 29-year-old blonde from Oklahoma underwent a series of physical and psychological tests, similar to those taken by seven male Astronauts.

Mrs. Jane Baldasare, the 24-year-old housewife from New York, set a new world's underwater endurance record, but failed in two attempts to swim the English channel underwater endurance record, but failed in two attempts to swim the English channel under water.

It took Dr. Barbara Moore 85 days, but the 56-year-old British vegetarian walked from San Francisco to New York on a diet of grass juice and fruit. Dr. Moore hoped to break the cross country walking record, but fell behind two British servicemen by 18 days.

In Hollywood, these names were in the news:

MOVIE MARRIAGES

Cheryl Crane, the teenage daughter of actress Lana Turner, twice tried to escape from the school for wayward girls where she was committed for supervision. Her mother marked 1960 with her fifth marriage, to wealthy rancher Fred May. Other movie marriages included Nancy Sinatra and Tommy Sands; Sandra Dee and Bobby Darin; Debbie Reynolds and Harry Karl; Swedish actress May Britt and Negro singer Sammy Davis Jr.; actress Jill St. John and Lance Reventlow, only son of dime store heiress Barbara Hutton, and John Barrymore Jr. and Italian starlet Gaby Palazzoli.

Parted were Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller; Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger; Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier; Laraine Day and former baseball manager Leo Durocher; Mamie VanDoren and bandleader Ray Anthony; Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

Deaths in 1960 included Emily Post, the etiquette expert who gave her blessings to doughnut dunking as long as it was informal; Diana Barrymore, 39; former actress Clara Kimball, 70; Mrs. Elivera Doud, 82-year-old mother of Mamie Eisenhower; actress Margaret Sullivan, and Sylvia Pankhurst, British crusader for women's rights, 79.

But probably the death that stunned the world most, and the world of women particularly, was that of movieland's king, Clark Gable, who died of a heart attack at the age of 59.

Michaeline Mealman Bride Of Don W. Allison Of San Anselmo

In a recent candlelight ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, Michaeline Mealman of Kentfield became the bride of Don Wheeler Allison of San Anselmo.

For the 8 o'clock ceremony, the altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums, holly and Christmas greens.

Rev. John Riley was the officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mealman of Kentfield. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Allison of San Anselmo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white satin fashioned with a portrait neckline and long, tapered sleeves. The lowered waistline formed a drape in the back accented with four Dior roses. Two panels extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl tiara and she carried white roses on a white prayer book.

Mrs. Philip Bates of San Anselmo was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Allison, Mrs. Roger Murphy and Miss Judy Cox. Little Deborah Bates, the bride's niece, was flower girl. They wore sheaths of red velvet styled with portrait necklines, short sleeves and Empire waistlines. A Dior bow centered the bodice. They had white fur muffs centered with holly sprigs and red streamers.

David Allison was best man for his brother. Ushering guests to their seats were Ronald Markson, Donald Lazzarini, and Robert Barossi, all of San Anselmo.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mealman wore a beige lace sheath with short jacket, matching accessories and white orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom chose blue chiffon with pastel flowered hat and matching accessories. Her flowers were white orchids.

For a wedding trip to Las Vegas, the bride wore a mink brown suit with black accessories, emerald green hat and black Persian lamb muff.

The bride was graduated from Tamalpais High School and College of Marin. She studied two years in London at the Oxford School of Languages. Mrs. D. L. Clifford of Arlington, Mass., and Mrs. Bates of San Anselmo are her sisters. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. O'Neil of Huntington Beach and Mrs. Dorothy Smith of Richmond are her grandparents.

The benedict was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin. He is now a student in political science at San Jose State College. His fraternity is Sigma Phi Epsilon. He is the grandson of Mrs. G. B. Waterman of San Rafael.

The newlyweds will reside in San Jose.

FRIGHTFUL FORECAST

Population Of Future: Five Gals For Two Males

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A couple of Houston doctors believe that the day will come when there will be five women to every two men.

The two put in a couple of comforting "ifs," however—if, the standards of living today continue, and if the human life expectancy hits 100 years.

The doctors, in a recent medical publication, pointed out that as the life expectancy gets longer, there are fewer and fewer men around.

"After a lifetime of struggle, the man just wears out faster," observed Dr. Homer Taylor, a general practitioner.

"It's a man's job in most instances to keep things together, both at home and at his job," Dr. Taylor said. "He generally bears the financial responsibility for keeping the home running and sending the kids to school."

A good deal of the blame, said Dr. Taylor, can be put on feminine shoulders. He said too often a woman's "ambition will drive a man to his grave."

But on the other hand, he said, man't life expectancy is shorter also because he doesn't take care of himself as a woman does.

"Men don't go to the doctor's office for check-ups as often and they don't follow doctor's orders when they do," he said. "And a man doesn't pay as much attention to his diet as a woman does."

Dr. Robert Norris, a gynecologist and co-author of the medical publication, stated flatly that "the female definitely is the stronger sex."

"She can withstand many things that a man cannot," Dr. Norris said. "There is a theory that female hormones are probably a detterent factor in coronary cases."

He said that four times as many men have heart trouble as women and that there definitely is more lung cancer in men than women.

Humor Tinged Reports When Jackie Covered Inauguration

By PATRICK YOUNG

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy will watch her husband take the oath of office as the 35th President of the United States on Jan. 20, only eight years after she covered the first inauguration of President Eisenhower as a combination reporter-photographer-artist.

Her name was Jacqueline Bouvier then and she was working for the Washington Times-Herald.

A warm winter sun flooded the Inauguration day crowd as she moved through the streets, recording her impressions with ink drawings. The following day, her story and art work appeared and graphically captured the Inauguration day spirit. Her drawings included a woman eating a box lunch ,a dancing Indian and a dignified, homburg-wearing diplomat buying a hot dog.

"Jackie" was only 23, but in the year she had been working for the paper, her "inquiring camera girl" feature had become well known in the capital.

CUB REPORTER

It seemed strange that the girl who had been voted the "most beautiful debutante" of 1948 in Newport, R.I., and New York, would become a cub reporter.

But Jacqueline wanted to become a writer, even at $42.50 a week.

As inquiring photographer, she asked some questions which were to become important to her in later years. They included: "Should a candidate's wife campaign with her husband? Do you think Inauguration day should follow closer upon election day? How does a candidate's looks influence your vote?"

Among the people she interviewed were Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, Mrs. Morris Cafritz, Washington hostess, two of Mamie Eisenhower's nieces — and the man she later married. Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Senate's then most eligible bacheior.

Her camera and note pad recorded the views of Nixon and Kennedy in 1953 when she asked them about the Senate pages. She also asked the pages about the senators.

"I would predict that some future statesman will come from the ranks of the page corps," Vice President Nixon told Jacqueline Bouvier. "I notice that they are very quick boys, most of whom have a definite interest in politics."

"I've often thought that the country might be better off if we senators and the pages traded jobs," Kennedy said.

Said Jerry Hoobler, a page, "Senator Kennedy's always being mistaken for a tourist by the cops because he looks so young. The other day he wanted to use the special phones, and they told him, 'Sorry, mister, but these are reserved for senators'."

Jacqueline also interviewed Nixon's daughter, Patricia, shortly after her father was elected Vice President.

"What do you think of Senator Nixon now?" was the question.

ALWAYS AWAY

"He's always away," answered Miss Nixon, then 6. "If he's famous why doesn't he stay home?"

Jacqueline ended her reportorial career shortly before her marriage to Kennedy with coverage of Queen Elizabeth's coronation in June, 1953.

She returned to the United States and on Sept. 12, 1953, she married John F. Kennedy in one of the biggest society weddings of the year.

A short time ago, a reporter asked Mrs. Kennedy if she had really written the column herself.

"Listen, I wouldn't sign my name to anything I didn't write," she said flatly.

SYMPHONY FOUNDATION TO FETE MAESTRO, MRS. ENRIQUE JORDA

As musicians practice long beforehand to polish their performances, smart party planners review their plans in advance to assure perfection. That's why hostesses for the annual San Francisco Symphony Foundation reception for members and honoring Maestro and Mrs. Enrique Jorda and members of the orchestra at the San Francisco Museum of Art on Saturday, Jan. 6, will attend an advance briefing session at the San Francisco home of Mrs. L. H. Garland on the preceding Tuesday morning, 10 a.m., Jan. 3.

Marinites includes Mesdames William L. Hilliburn Jr., Carl Brown Jr., George E. McKenna, Gregory F. Sheehan, Edwin Sinclair, Henry Grandin Jr., John Munson, Robert Johnson, Douglas Ballinger, J. R. Hoffman Jr., and Herbert Hanson.

Husbands of many of the hostesses will serve as hosts. Gregory F. Sheehan of San Rafael is chairman of the men's committee. Also aiding will be Drs. John J. Piel, Bernard M. Kramer, and Philip S. Boone.

The reception, a colorful social event, is one of the benefits of membership in the Symphony Foundation, of which James H. Schwabacher Jr., is president.

Driving Tips Enhance Chance Of Staying Alive

NEW YORK (UPI) — Statistics show that highway accidents increase in winter months.

To increase plublic awareness of winter driving hazards, the makers of one anti-freeze (Prestone) sent two auto safety bandwagon teams across the country this fall to promote highway safety.

Here are some of the experts' tips to help you stay alive this winter:

—observe the speed limits set by law, by road and weather conditions and by common sense.

—don't drive when you drink.

—pass only on straight, level roads when all is clear both behind and ahead.

—be especially careful on icy or snowy roads.

—don't get into races or any kind of driving game. Remember that driving is a serious business and that showing off is foolish—and often fatal.

Dieting Trims Some Food Sales

NEW YORK (UPI)—The diet-conscious housewife has altered radically the pattern of food sales in the last 30 years.

Louis Stein, president of Food Fair Stores, Inc., said sales of meat, fish and poultry are up 25 per cent in that period, and citrus fruits are up 50 per cent. Sales of cereals, flour and potatoes have declined by more than 30 per cent.

Weighty

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 112-pound woman exerts as much as 4,000 pounds of pressure per square inch when she walks in shoes with metal tipped stiletto heels.

Don't Overheat Or Drown Your Holiday Plants

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heeding a few tips will prolong your enjoyment of the poinsettias, azaleas and other plants brightening your house during the holiday season.

Most professional growers ship gift plants in porous clay pots to insure plants of the highest quality. But if you have received a holiday plant in a thin-wall, nonporous container, transfer it to a clay pot to preserve its health and beauty.

Horticulture experts say that over-watering is a leading reason behind the premature death of plants. One rule of green thumb gardening indoors is to water all your plants at the same time daily until water runs out of the drainage hole in the bottom of the clay pot.

Overheating is the second greatest hazard to holiday potted plants. Keep them away from radiators or other heat outlets. Open the window in a nearby room during the sunny period of the day to freshen the air.

Yule Party Highlights Lodge Meet

Highlight of the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley was the Christmas party held in the Odd Fellows Hall after noble grand Mrs. Eldora Clinton conducted a brief business session.

The program presented under the supervision of Mrs. Herbert Maxey consisted of carols sung by members of the lodge led by Mrs. Myrtle Dahl, a Christmas story told by Mrs. Marguerite Carpenter, a poem recited by Herbert Maxey and a skit entitled "Addressing Christmas Cards" enacted by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes.

David Dodds dressed as Santa Claus then gave each member an exchange gift.

Decorated Christmas trees were placed in front of the four officers' stations in the hall, and bells were hung from ribbons on the stage curtains.

Dining tables were decorated with Christmas sards covered with clear plastic and with angels, churches, Christmas trees, snow flakes and candy canes.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames Herbert Maxey, R. W. McAnally, Clifford Spinney and Mrs. Carpenter.

Mrs. Foster Lawrenz, vice grand of Tamel Rebekah Lodge of San Rafael, was the distinguished guest of the evening.

Dame Fashion Dimples Floors Of Huge Planes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dame fashion in her spike heels has given one maker of jet planes a flight problem not covered in engineering manuals.

Boeing Airplane Co. reported that the women created it when they started treading jet floor panels of traditional aluminum honeycomb.

Each slim heel on the shoe of a 110-pound female delivered an impact considerably in excess of 2,240 pounds per square inch.

The floor panels, designed several years ago before the advent of the needle heels, had withstood streams of pedestrian traffic.

But the punishing jabs of the new heels broke the edges of the honeycomb cells just below the contact surface. The surface of the sub-flooring was found punched with dimples.

Instead of trying to change fashion, the maker of planes developed new spike-heel resistant floor panels which will replace the honeycomb panels on 707 jets in production.

Designers say they should last about eight times as long as the honeycomb panels.

American Airlines, a firm with 33 of the jets in service, said it costs about $200 to replace each damaged panel of aluminum.

Janina O'Hanrahan To Marry July 15

A romance that began last year in Mexico is revealed by the announcement of the engagement of Janina Helen Winter O'Hanrahan and Everado Rodriguez Ruiz, formerly of Guanajuato, Mexico, now of San Francisco. The engagement was announced by the bride-elect parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seamus O'Hanrahan of San Francisco.

Janie as the bride-elect is called, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wess of San Anselmo and the reception will take place at their home following the wedding on July 15 at St. Anselm's Church in Ross. Janie is the sister of Bridget Jane O'Hanrahan and Tighe Roderick O'Hanrahan. She attended Dominican Convent in San Rafael, the Verde Valley School in Sedona, Ariz., and will graduate in June from Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Everardo is the son of Senor and Senora Everardo Ruiz Ocampo and the brother of Senora Carmen de Machuca, all of Guanajuato, Mexico. He attended prep school in Guanajuato, and was graduated in 1957 from the University of Mexico's School of Electrical Engineering. He is a member of the Mexican Society of Mechanical Engineers. He worked in Mexico for the Mexican government but is now an electrical engineer with the Coast Guard in San Francisco.

Georgia Stapleton's Betrothal To Rudy Tulipani Announced

The engagement of Georgia Ann Stapleton of Ross to Rudy L. Tulipani of San Rafael was announced on Christmas Day at a family dinner party given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. Raymond Vizzard in San Francisco.

Georgia is the daughter of Mrs. Vizzard and the late George Stapleton. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of Arizona where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi. She has one sister, Mrs. Thomas Morrison of Ross.

The bridegroom to be is the son of Jack Tulipani of San Rafael. A graduate of San Rafael High School, he attended San Francisco City College and San Francisco State College. He is a vice president of the Marin Title Guaranty Co. of San Rafael.

A wedding is planned after Dr. and Mrs. Vizzard return from a trip to Central America in the spring. They leave by freighter on Jan. 20 and will return about six weeks later after touring Central America.

Trouser Fads

Underpinnings for trouser fashions come from an underwear firm that has developed a new process of full-fashioned knitting. The process makes it possible to produce a skin-smooth pant in three lengths. For wear under shorts and jamaicas, there's the brief. For perfectly smooth fit under bermudas and brief skirts, there's the trunk model. And the medium tight model underlines, without a wrinkle, stretch pants, toreadors and culottes.

Energy Saver

NEW YORK (UPI) — Contemporary builders are taking a leaf from the books of ancient Greeks and Persians in the use of ceramic tile for exteriors as well as interiors of home.

Many of the most beautiful homes of ancient times in Greece and Persia had dazzling facings of ceramic tile. Today's builders are using tile for the outside of homes in decorative applications that are also practical. Tile requires little upkeep.

Order Of Day

Sporty dresses hit the high road to the southland. Women's Wear Daily reports that hemlines slightly above the knee and well above the knee are the order of the day. The short look offers a feminine alternative to shorts.

Furniture Fashions Reflect The Past

CHICAGO (UPI) — Furniture fashions did some extensive growing up in 1960 and showed signs of continuing to mature, both in comfort and style, in 1961. Many changes reflected the influence of the past.

Case goods grew as tall as antiques, took on curves and became more conventional, if not downright traditional. Upholstered goods, too, borrowed from the best of the past. The result was furniture without the austerity of early modern.

More important, virtually all furntiure showed better design in 1960. Quite possibly for the first time, really good designs were available in all price ranges, and most furniture collections were pieces styled to go together without looking alike. The once standard suite of matched furniture was conspicuous by its absence for popular-priced collections.

Signs of the times reflected in furniture ware the continuing trends toward space-saving sectionals, double-duty pieces, durability, and foreign influence.

The taller, narrow look of chests, cabinets, bookcases, breakfronts and room dividers evolved from the trend to space saving, but also paved the way back to traditional shapes for furniture.

Curves took contemporary furniture still further along this road. Designer Edward Wormley tapered the backs of contemporary chairs and cantilevered the arms of sofas. Lawrence Peabody designs followed suit with flared sofa arms and gently curved sofa backs, reminiscent of the Regency and and Empire periods.

More traditional touches turned up in other collections — rosewood insets in the walnut tops of tables, ornate antique brass hardware, round dining and occasional tables.

The foreign influence aided the return to elegance. From the Italians came straight fluted legs; from the Spanish, filigreed iron and brass hardware on a rural English collection. Reproductions of French and Italian Provincial furniture as well as early American designs continued to gain in popularity. Exotic imported woods—teak, rosewood, zebrawood — came into vogue.

Space-saving, most evident in tall, narrow case goods, also took the forms of wall-hung and shallower furniture. Most spectacular of the wall-hung furniture was a collections of cabinets, bookcases and a desk mounted on strips of molding called a "space wall." Metal knobs on the backs of the units fitted into key-like holes running along the molding, permitting the units to be shifted into different arrangements.

Sectional furniture, both upholstered and case goods, continued popular. One new case goods collection, designed by Sanford Wallack included 54 styles of chest, cabinets, bookcases and desks, all scaled to fit together, side by side, or one atop the other.

Upholstered sectionals went to any length by adding or subtracting wedge-shaped ottomans at one end.

It's Time To Put Public On Regulatory Boards

State boards and commissions exist, really, only for one reason: to serve the public.

They have no authority nor power except what's granted by "we the people."

This is all part of the idea of "the consent of the governed," which is the keystone of our American form of self-government.

But do these state boards and commissions always keep this obligation to serve all the public foremost in mind?

Many of the things they do indicate that they occasionally forget the public at large.

Within the framework of the State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards there exist a number of boards to regulate and police their respective professions.

Among these, for example, is the State Board of Pharmacy. It is composed of seven members, all pharmacists.

There isn't a lay person representing we the people on the board. We the people have no one's ear.

We members of the drug-buying public are stuck with whatever the pharmacy board decides, whether it serves the best interests of all the people or not.

And the pharmacy board is no different from other state boards and commissions made up of special interest membership with close ties to respective special interest groups like the druggists' association.

We first discussed this situation in this space last May.

At that time we concluded:

"What's the solution? How can we the people get back our voice in affairs affecting our interests?

"Our suggestion is for the governor to appoint some 'public' members to these special boards and commissions.

"If three or four of the seven pharmacy board members represented the drug-buying public (instead of just drug sellers), we the people would be adequately represented.

"We could be sure that our interests would NOT be ignored."

Since that time, Governor Brown has upon occasion endorsed the idea of 'public' members of state boards and commissions.

So has the governor's Consumer Counsel. She (Mrs. Helen Ewing Nelson of Mill Valley) has mentioned the need for having consumer-public representation.

And our own Senator McCarthy of Marin County has expressed an interest in introducing legislation to provide for lay public representation on the regulatory boards in the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

Let us hope that the interests of the governor, his Consumer Counsel and our Senator McCarthy are strong enough to bring action at the forthcoming session of the state legislature.

EXPERT READ WRONG METER

An irate taxpayer sent in a speedy complaint to the local sanitary commission when his monthly water bill was four times the usual amount.

To his embarrassment he learned that it was his own fault. When sending in his regular report, he had read the gas instead of the water meter. He was billed $107 instead of $28.

To his greater embarrassment was the fact that he himself was an official of the sanitary commission.

Anyone can make a mistake, but it always hurts when we blunder in a field in which we are supposed to excel. Only then do we realize that even our strong points need an occasional sharpening.

The best way to keep on guard is to go back to basic principles: God, our fellow men and ourselves.

If we are powered by the determination to make our lives an endless service of others, even our weaknesses begin to take on new strength.

"Gladly therefore will I glory in my infirmaties, that the strength of Christ may dwell in me."

(2 Corinthians 12:9)

Keep us on the high road to heaven, O Lord, by a careful regard for our duties.

'Twas The Week After Christmas And Life Gets Sort Of Sluggish

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happened to "Jingle Bells?"

There was a tune that was sweeping the country from coast to coast last week. But it seems to have died out in the last couple of days. Maybe too much over exposure.

"Have a nice Christmas?" asks the pretty secretary, returning to work a day late from the holidays.

"No thanks!" grumbles the office grouch. "Just had one."

An unknown virus of lassitude sweeps the nation between the departure of Santa Claus and the arrival of the New Year.

It is the week of "the great letdown." Everybody rests on his ears in the doldrums of desire.

No one wants to sing a carol. No one yearns to throw a snowball. Life settles down into a vast sluggishness of mind and body and spirit. It becomes a big fat yawn.

Everyone is seasonally worn out from welcomes and wassail and turkey and pudding and good will and shopping and opening packages.

Everyone secretly wants to crawl into a cocoon and dwell there and dream there until the first robin of spring blows his rusty bugle.

Who wants to be up and doing?

At home the housewife takes a longer afternoon nap on the couch than usual. In the evening she sits and stares at the winking, blinking Christmas tree, which has already begun to shed its needles. She knows she should be scribbing Happy New Year cards to the people she forgot to send Christmas cards to, but somehow she doesn't feel quite up to it.

AT THE OFFICE you'd have to fire a 21-gun salute throughout the day to keep the staff awake. The tasks they now spend all week postponing they'd ordinarily romp through in half a morning any other time of the year.

THE BOSS IS in the same fix. He knows he ought to be planning the firm's progress in the year ahead, but he doesn't want to.

Ennui holds the race of mankind from its usual promise. It is easier to postpone everything than to do anything.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

More To Lose Than Two Books

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Congratulations on your recent editorial condemning the book-banning efforts of the Rev. Michael Barkowska and his fellow-clerics.

As a Presbyterian minister for nearly 20 years and the father of two girls who look forward to attending high school in the Tamalpais District, I want our school libraries to be stocked with realistic, mature and compassionate novels such as Of Mice and Men, and The Catcher in the Rye.

Steinbeck and Salinger are using language appropriate to the characters they happen to be portraying. They are not "using the name of the Lord in vain." By contrast, Barkowska & Co. are "using the name of the Lord in vain" in a destructive way—by trying, in His name, to curtail His gift of freedom.

This is again a case of "a foot in the door" which must be stepped on firmly every time it appears, lest our schools lose a great deal more than just two fine books from their library shelves.

Return The Bridge To The People

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Golden Gate Bridge has ever been a happy hunting ground and gravy train for men of position, wealth, and influence. These men have been appointed bridge directors usually because they were "names," and, it seems, because they could lend some sort of dignity or class to the bridge setup.

What has been the record of these men of prominence in the Golden Gate Bridge directorship? It need not be repeated here as it is a matter of continual newspaper report and comment. It can be said that the directors have not impaired the mechanical operation of the bridge. The galling thing is that their stewardship has been chiefly notable for its consistent and stubborn determination to waste toll money.

And, like true, arrogant bureaucrats, these directors evidence eminent and, at times, violent indignation when anyone has the audacity to question their flagrant disregard for prudence in the handling of that public money.

So, how about it? Let's give our Golden Gate Bridge back to those who are paying for it, "Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen." Let's appoint men and women to the bridge directorship who are dedicated to public service, who are dedicated to operating the bridge as a public utility, and not as an instrument of personal glory and aggrandizement, and not as a private empire for the chosen, favored few. These men and women need not be "big wheels" or "names." They need be only honest, sincere, reputable citizens.

Our County Boards of Supervisors are empowered to appoint Golden Gate Bridge directors. All of us residing in the bridge district should contact our supervisors, urging them to help return our bridge to us.

Still Small Voice In Wilderness?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Is Rev. Barkowska the still, small voice in the wilderness, crying out for the purity of our children's minds? Is it the only one?

Judging by the recent I-J editorial, the pseudo-intellectual attack in Carleton Williams' column, the Letters to the Editor and some news articles, one would certainly think this was so. Personally, I have questioned the apparent bias of the I-J, but was assured that they have always presented both sides of every question fairly.

In our recent election a very noisy minority insisted that we should not use the taxpayers money to prevent tooth decay in our children. If parents wanted this treatment, they should pay for it themselves.

Now, another minority group (or is it the same one?) is insisting that the taxpayers money SHOULD be used to INSTILL decay in our children's minds!!

Regardless of what the adult taste for literature might be, we should not lose sight of the fact that the trustees are selecting the reading material for children. Legally, they are dependent upon their parents for support and it will be another three years after they leave high school that they will be considered old enough to assume legal debts, handle liquor, or cast a ballot.These children do not —and because they lack the maturity—cannot read these books with the same maturity of mind as can an adult.

I would hope that the Tamalpais Union High School District trustees could somehow, somewhere find some literature more suitable for our children when it is our tax money that they are spending.

Those who wish their children's minds to be rotted and decayed with filth and smut and godlessness can follow the example of Carleton Williams who stated in the Dec. 16 I.J.: "There are only eight more days until Christmas and I must remember to buy a couple of copies of John Steinbeck's Of Mice and Men and J. B. (It should have been "D.") Salinger's Catcher in the Rye for my teen-agers."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Fritz Loewe, composer of "My Fair Lady" and "Lancelot," was so impoverished in the Depressed Thirties, that he couldn't pay a $12 installment on his rented piano. When three stalwarts arrived to repossess the instrument, Loewe pleaded, "Let me play just a little longer on it." So the three men sat down on the floor while Loewe gave them a concert of Beethoven and Chopin. When he stood up, the men did too, then reached into their pockets and gave him the 12 dollars that enabled him to hang onto the piano for another month.

"Only in America," insists Loewe gratefully, "could such a thing like that happen."

Historians insist a teacher reminded his class, that the British lost the Revolutionary War battle of Saratoga because their dapper General William Howe chose to remain in Philadelphia. When one of the students, therefore, was asked to explain Britain's defeat at Saratoga on his final examination, he wrote simply, "Lack of no Howe."

"The beatnik," rejoices Burton Hillis, "is rapidly going the way of the American buffalo—to which he bears a strong resemblance."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Guide Tells Teachers All Sorts Of Things That Parents Should Know

San Rafael city schools administrators are great believers in the precept, "get it down in writing." They therefore keep the mimeograph machines busy turning out a steady stream of guides, outlines, reports, etc., for use of personnel in the city schools.

One of the most interesting is a 16-pager issued recently, entitled, "Parent Conference."

The very first paragraph of this bulletin contains a sentence which deserves recognition and repetition:

"Sometimes, quite unconsciously, our role as teacher, the importer of knowledge, the instructor, the teller, can pervade all of our relationships and we tend to treat everyone as children."

REMAINING PAGES of the bulletin contain much sound advice on avoiding the dictatorial approach and arriving at a meeting of minds with the parent called for conference with her (or sometimes his) child's teacher.

Only once, that I discovered, does it contradict itself.

"Don't bring the I.Q. into the conversation, as this information is strictly confidential. Any test results must be handled very, very carefully."

BUT THE REALLY fascinating portion of the bulletin, to the non-teacher, is contained in a checklist of "How Can the Home Supplement the Elementary School?" credited to one Albert Grant, coordinator of curriculum in Inglewood schools.

It is suggested that the parent can help the child in language in these ways, among others:

"Teach child to use the telephone courteously and correctly. Help child to learn suitable ways of introducing people."

Both these seem to be good things for a parent to teach a child, but their value in language instruction escapes me.

To help the child in arithmetic, it is suggested that the parent "enable children to get much first-hand experience with arithmetic terms as larger, smaller, double, thirds, quart, inch, square, round, etc."

THE CHILD'S science studies will be helped, the list suggests, by teaching him how to care for pets. To advance him (or her) in arts and crafts, the child should be given a part in selecting his (or her) own clothes.

In that strange assortment lumped together as social studies, it is suggested: "Help the child learn to know the civic life of his community by taking him on trips TO SEE SUCH PLACES (my capitals) as the Post Office, City Hall, Police Station, Library, State Employment Office, Bureau of Motor Vehicles." ("Look, junior, that's the post office; now you know how the mail is distributed.")

THE LIST ALSO suggests that the parent help the child to understand the school report cards. From discussions heard at meetings of the San Rafael Board of Education, I think someone needs to explain the present report cards to the teachers.

Anyhow, I am somewhat at a loss as to why Mr. Grant's five-page list of suggestions for parents was included in a bulletin distributed only to teachers.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Dillon's Acceptance Of Treasury Post Bodes Well For Economy

WASHINGTON—The dominantly conservative hue of the Kennedy Cabinet is inconsistent with only part of the Democratic platform.

True, the national platform offered the voters large spending programs which Richard Nixon and President Eisenhower could fairly argue would put the government perilously in the red and spur more inflation.

But the Democrats also pledged a balanced budget, except under two conditions —a national emergency or acute recession.

Sen. John Kennedy repeated this qualifying commitment—that increased federal spending must be kept within a balanced budget under all but the most extenuating circumstances — many times during the campaign.

THEREFORE, THE moderate complexion of the Cabinet reflects the President-elect at two central points:

His intention to defend the soundness of the dollar as the touchstone for all other measures.

His recognition that the new administration must unite a country divided right down the middle by the closeness of the election.

This is why Kennedy did not put professional or intensely partisan politicians in any of the three critical Cabinet posts — State, Treasury, and Defense.

This is why two of these three Cabinet positions went to highly respected middle-road Republicans — Douglas Dillon at the Treasury and Robert McNamara at Defense.

FROM A POLITICAL standpoint, Kennedy's appointment of a top Eisenhower official as his chief fiscal adviser, and Dillon's acceptance are disconcerting to some Republicans, including President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower felt that for Dillon to move from Under Secretary of State in his administration to Secretary of the Treasury under Kennedy could blur the issue of "fiscal responsibility" as between the two parties.

Dillon could say with careful precision—and he would not misquote the President—that Eisenhower expressed no "objection (to his taking the Treasury appointment) if I felt that this was something which would be in the national security interest of the country and if we were to work toward a sound fiscal policy as is the case."

But the Eisenhower-Dillon conversation went beyond this point. My information is that the President made two main points:

THE PRESIDENT counselled Dillon against accepting the Kennedy appointment lest it blur the issue of fiscal responsibility. Eisenhower hoped that Dillon would be identified with the progressive leadership in the Republican party during the next years.

He also said that if Dillon felt it his duty to serve as Secretary of the Treasury in the national interest, the President would want him to decide for himself.

Nixon agreed with the President and warned Dillon against being "used" by the Kennedy administration unless Dillon felt he was responding to a real emergency call.

Dillon acted on his own judgment. And when he said on the now famous Georgetown steps that we (Kennedy and himself) are "to work towards a sound fiscal policy as is the case," this could only mean that Dillon had a firm assuranace from the President-elect on fiscal policy and that their views were parallel.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 28, the 363rd day of the year with three more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1832, Vice President John Calhoun resigned — the only vice president ever to do so.

In 1856, Woodrow Wilson, the 28th president of the United States was born in Staunton, Va.

In 1869, members of the Knights of Labor observed this day as the first Labor Day in American history.

In 1869, chewing gum was patented by William Semple of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

In 1945, Congress officially recognized the patriotic "pledge of allegiance" to the flag of the United States.

A thought for today: President Woodrow Wilson said: "There must be, not a balance of power; but a community of power; not organized rivalries, but an organized common peace."

Patience And Understanding Are Best Way To Help Faltering Pupil

Have a child who is falling behind at school? Is he in danger of failing? I'm sure you want to help him.

Here are some suggestions:

Don't punish him. He's not lazy. Almost certainly he has failed so often that he's concluded he can't succeed. Therefore, he is afraid to try. If you punish him you only add to his fear and his failure.

Make success possible. Get the teacher to scale down the assignments, so he can succeed at least a little. His greatest need is to learn that he can do schoolwork after all. When he makes that golden discovery he'll be a new person.

Don't accept a group intelligence test as a valid measure of his ability. Group tests are the ones given to the whole class at once. They depend largely on ability to read. They require concentration. Many bright but flighty children make low scores on group tests. Have a psychologist give your boy an individual intelligence test. It will be more dependable. You'll find psychologists on the faculty of any college.

Have a regular study time at home. Give him a quiet, comfortable, well-lit place in which to work. Maybe you'll be able to coach him, maybe not. Be sure to check with the teacher so you will use the right methods.

Try to be patient. He's in a bad spot. Nothing undermines mental health faster than failure. He may get sore and fight back. He may resent school and everything about it. Don't lose your temper too. You'll just add to the confusion. Habits of failure aren't overcome in a day.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it true that study at school under the teacher's supervision is better than study at home?"

H.S.P.

(A) Yes, it is. Supervised study is especially valuable in the drill subjects, such as math and spelling. With the teacher helping them the children don't memorize mistakes. At home they often do.

Terra Linda Trash Dumper Gets Citation

Donald Bentley, 45, of 703 Butternut Drive, Terra Linda, was cited by the California Highway Patrol Monday on a charge of dumping garbage on a public highway.

The case required a little detective work on the part of Patrolman J. R. Greer after he was notified by a motorist on Highway 101 that he had just seen and scolded a garbage-dumper at the ramp shoulder from the Lucas Valley Road access to the freeway.

Greer promptly went to the indicated spot, found plenty of freshly dumped rubbish of various kinds, but the dumper had departed. So he started to sort the debris. Address labels had been removed from a number of packages, but in one case he had a clue.

As result Greer got in touch with Bentley who, he said, acknowledged the offense, explaining that he had gone to a dump which was closed for the day so he got rid of his load at a convenient place. Later Bentley went back and picked up what had been thrown away, but was cited nevertheless.

Editors Of Marin To Talk Of 1961 On KTIM's Panel

Five Marin newspaper editors will appear on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow to predict what 1961 holds in store for the county.

The five are Chapin A. Day, Independent-Journal; Jack Lenz, Mill Valley Record; Roger Esteves, Times-Pelican Publications; George Barnwell, Novato Advance, and Donald DeWolfe, Baywood Press. John M. Harlan, editor of the Marin News, was invited but is unable to appear, said moderator Kitty Oppenheimer.

Questions telephoned to the station will be directed to the panel members. The program will be re-broadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

2 Named To Society

Two Marin County men have been elected to office in the San Francisco Society of Clinical Hypnosis — Dr. William H. Pemberton, Mill Valley consulting psychologist, as president, and Dr. William C. Andrews of Kentfield, as a director.

More Smoking Cigarettes Despite Scare

NEW YORK (UPI) — More Americans smoked more tobacco this year than ever before despite "health scares," the head of the Tobacco Institute, Inc., reported yesterday.

During the year Americans spent 7.5 billion dollars for tobacco—6.6 billion dollars of it for 489 billion cigarettes, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates cited by Tobacco Institute President George V. Allen. In a yearend statement, Allen said the average annual consumption was 197 packs of 20 cigarettes per person of smoking age in the nation.

These figures, Allen said, were among new records set despite "attacks" on tobacco "ranging from health scares to unfair taxation and labeling proposals."

"There is every indication," he said, "that comparable progress will continue in the next and succeeding years."

Admitting the situation was "seemingly paradoxical," Allen said there was increased smoking because "facts are finally replacing opinions and the general public is becoming aware of this."

"A growing body of scientific research findings has failed to support the many charges thrown at tobacco use during the past few years," he said.

Allen said the charges "come largely from statistical compilations attempting to establish a relationship between tobacco use and longevity. . . . Statistics can be used to prove a variety of conclusions on this subject."

Work Furlough Inmate Caught

There was no Christmas leave for Marin County Jail inmates, but Leonard Amuel Trimuar, 25, of 1256 Cambridge Street, Novato, took the weekend off anyway.

Trimuar, who was arrested last October for drunkenness, was serving a 90-day jail term, with work furlough privilege. Last Friday morning, he left jail for work as usual, but he failed to return that night.

Sunday, shortly after midnight, Sgt. Carl Selby of San Rafael police spotted Trimuar enjoying himself at a Fourth Street bar. Deputy Sheriff George Tsegeletos escorted him back to the county jail.

Loiterer Gets 45 Days In Jail

A former Kentfield janitor drew three years' probation and 45 days in county jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court because he took two little girls for a ride around Belvedere Island last September.

David W. Robertson, 27, who now lives in San Francisco, began serving the jail term this morning. Judge Harold J. Haley also ordered Robertson to seek psychiatric help and to abstain from liquor during probation.

Last Sept. 17, Robertson parked his panel truck near Belvedere City Park and induced two girls to enter his car. He then took them on a 20-minute ride but did not molest them.

He was convicted of illegally loitering at a park where children were playing.

Keating To Head Appellate Court

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court will continue as presiding judge of the appellate department of superior court for 1961.

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson made the announcement today. The other two judges on the appellate department are Judges N. Charles Brusatori and Richard M. Sims Jr.

The three-judge appellate department hears appeals from judgments of municipal and justice courts.

Fire Destroys Firemen's Pet Project

TUOLUMNE CITY (AP) — Fifty-seven years ago the fire department in Tuolumne, then a village, decided to build and maintain a theater.

Disaster has befallen the project four times—four times the uninsured property has burned to the ground.

Nov. 28 the latest fire caused more than $50,000 loss. The Tuolumne City Fire Department for the fifth time faces the question whether to rebuild. There is little doubt, however, that the Tuolumne City theater project is closed permanently.

For the past 10 years, attendance at movies had fallen off and in August of last year regularly scheduled shows were abandoned.

The first Firemen's Theater opened in 1903 when Tuolumne Hose Company 1 was incorporated. It burned in 1916.

The rebuilt structure burned two years later.

Again the firemen rebuilt, this time providing a hall for dances and community entertainments, as well as movies.

Fire destroyed the third structure in December, 1944. It was immediately replaced. Soon television and other outside attractions cut down on theater attendance, however, and the latest was a losing venture.

It is a safe conjecture that no effort will be made to build a fifth firemen's theater.

But if one should be constructed, one town official says it's a safe wager it will be insured. None of the others was.

DAILY NEWSPAPERS SELL DAIRY PRODUCTS FROM PASTURE TO PUBLIC

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY, with sales of $12 billion a year from hundreds of types of products, is a giant of the great food business.

The daily newspaper, another giant, is a dominant influence in helping dairy manufacturers and dairy associations to increase the public's demand for their products. These advertisers use the daily newspaper as a national force to keep the public aware of the innovations and nutritional value of dairy products.

The thousands of local processors and retailers of dairy products use the daily newspaper regularly to keep their products moving from store to home.

The daily newspaper is a vital force in this mass movement of dairy products from the moment they are processed to the moment they are placed on the table. With practically everyone consuming them, it is necessary to move them through the medium that reaches practically everyone. The daily newspaper reaches nationally—and reaches locally—with 58,299,723 news-filled copies every day.

Bulldozers Ruining U.S. Anthropologist Asserts

NEW YORK (UPI)—To some, the bulldozer is a symbol of progress. To Leonard Outhwaite, anthropologist and explorer, it also is a symbol of what's happening to "America, the beautiful."

Outhwaite has no quarrel with progress, nor for that matter with the bulldozer—when used discriminately. But he would like to see the preservation of some of our natural heritage for us and future generations to contemplate and enjoy.

Outhwaite is research consultant to the nature centers for Young America, Inc., a recently formed organization to encourage villages, towns and cities to set aside—"while there is still time"—some part of the natural setting nearby for use, not as a formal park, but to preserve the native flora and fauna . . . a big slice of the area as it was before urbanization set in.

"The bulldozers have leveled the life out of the hills and the fields," says the centers' brochure. Outhwaite adds, "If we don't start preserving soon, we'll be engulfed."

"In so many parts of America already," Outhwaite continued, "you drive 25 to 30 miles outside the city limits . . . still past nothing but housing developments."

"There is no time to waste," he continued. And the urgency with which the anthropologist talked created visions immediately of a land one day bare of the things we used to take for granted — fields, trees, grass, native flowers, streams and wildlife.

"The centers would be used for both relaxation and education," he said. "A way to teach children botany, zoology, conservation — better than they every could learn them from books."

The anthropologist recently completed a 14,000-mile motor trip around the nation looking for likely locations for nature centers, for zoological parks and museums.

He said many communities already are aware of how urbanization is cutting back nature and are doing something about it. Stamford, Conn., is one of the pioneers and has set aside close to 100 acres of streams and woodland.

Tucson, Ariz., has a desert museum nature center of 200 to 300 acres on the edge of a forest preserve and is planning to add more, he said.

Outhwaite became interested in preserving natural settings through his work in museum planning.

"When I started working with museum people," he said, "We had architects but no one researching the response of people once inside museums. An anthropologist you know is a student of human behavior."

Outhwaite's career has spanned several years of teaching at the University of California at Berkeley, consultant to business and government on personnel, designer of exhibits for world's fairs, and in 1929-30 captain of his own schooner exploration of the Atlantic Ocean —covering 14,000 miles and touching on four continents.

Bid For Grading Accepted By Board

A low bid of $111,424 for excavation and grading work at the county civic center and fairgrounds was accepted yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

This action was taken after an exchange of some civic center property for land owned by the Smith Brothers, action requested by public works director Marvin W. Brigham as necessary preliminary to proceeding with the excavation.

The low bid was from the firm of J. W. Richards in Rio Vista, Solano County. It was lowest of nine which ran as high as $196,070.

Liquor Licenses Will Be Suspended

The Black Point Inn's on-sale liquor licenses will be suspended for 15 days beginning Feb. 2, the California Department of Alcoholics Beverage Control announced today.

The suspension was decreed for permitting a minor to consume liquor and remain on public premises where liquor is sold, the department said. Licensees are Paul and Virginia Franklin.

New Teaching Chief Lauds State Schools

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's new teaching chief is an ex-Marine drill instructor with a doctor's degree in education who believes California's schools rank with the world's best.

Richard M. Clowes, 44, was appointed this month to head the Division of Instruction in the State Education Department.

He brings to the job 11 years experience as superintendent of the Oxnard Elementary School District and a firm belief that California and the United States have the world's best schools.

FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR

Clowes studied comparative education in Europe last summer as a Fulbright scholar.

"I came away with more pride than ever in our schools," he said in an interview.

"First, we are dedicated to a system which gives equal opportunity to all. We have comprehensive high school programs which recognize that not all our children are college-bound.

"Another reason for our justifiable pride is that our schools are responsive to the need for change. As a result, we see many changes taking place today."

VIEW OF JOB

He sees his job as providing leadership to local schools in meeting the need for change and keeping teachers abreast of up-to-date methods and materials.

Clowes, a history major as a college undergraduate, declined to take sides in the battle between those who demand a return to fundamentals in the schools and those who stress "life adjustment."

Commenting on the recent report of a citizen advisory commission on the public schools in which a number of recommendations called for more basic subjects and fewer frills, he said:

"We have to analyze it in the light that the American public school system is designed to serve all the children—not just a select few."

He said he agreed with the proposal that some "marginal-type" courses be discarded from school curricula, however.

State studies and programs to strengthen and revamp the teaching of mathematics, science and foreign languages won praise from Clowes.

He discounts the frequent criticism that European schools stress foreign languages more than do those in American.

Point to the fact that 30 million immigrants came to the United States in the 19th century, he said, "The need was to get them to speak one language—English."

That aim has been achieved, he said, and now the nation is seeking an awakening of interest in foreign languages.

Board Names Inverness Man To Water Unit

Leslie J. Meszaros of Inverness was appointed yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to serve on the new Marin County Water Advisory Committee as representative of Marin areas outside the two water districts.

Meszaros was nominated in a letter from Ernest Schallinger, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County, and is chairman of the committee's sub-committee on water supply, sewage, drainage and flood control.

But Supervisor William D. Fusselman promptly challenged Schallinger's authority, declaring that "the citizen-committee hasn't had a quorum for several meetings. This isn't based on action of the committee."

"He's from Inverness and a good man," countered Supervisor James Marshall. "I move that we appoint him."

Nobody objected to the appointment but Clerk George S. Jones volunteered to check up on the committee and, in case members weren't interested, lay the ground for a reshuffle

More Students Taking Russian

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Education reported yesterday that the number of California high school students taking Russian has doubled since last year.

The department estimated that more than 2,000 students are getting instruction in Russion this year. Last year, 1,099 students in 31 schools studied the language.

At a recent workshop at the University of California at Santa Barbara, high schools were advised not to treat Russian as a passing fad, but to offer a solid three or four-year program.

69 Pieces Of Silver

PINE VALLEY (AP)—Twenty months after the manager of the Hobat House restaurant hung 600 silver dollars on leather straps as wall decorations, he decided to count them. There were 69 missing.

The State of Arizona has towns named Bumble Bee, Cat Back, Ali Chuk Son, Clip, Cowlic, Glance, Gripe, Wake-up Wash, Happy Jack, Growler, Rok, and Roll.

SAFE PLACE TO FISH? — A large "keep off" sign today warned away any youthful fisherman who might plan to throw their lines from the Elephant Rock fishing platform, intended by County Supervisor-elect J. Walter Blair as a safe angling place for youngsters. The county public works department ordered construction stopped for (1) lack of a building permit and (2) lack of planning approval. After this photo was taken, however, a workman showed up again. (Independent-Journal photo)

Blaze Brings Tighter Plan For Building

County Inspector Concerned Over Housing Materials

By JOHN CHAMBERS

Marin County Building Inspector Otto Meyer said today he will recommend that county amendments to the 1961 building code include provisions for more fire-resistant home constructions.

Meyer said the changes would apply especially to Eichler homes and others of similar "open" ranch style construction.

The question of fire hazard in some 800 Eichler homes in Marinwood, Terra Linda and Lucas Valley was fanned by a Christmas blaze which gutted the home of Robert M. Major of 2098 Huckleberry Road, Marinwood, with an estimated $40,000 loss. Cause of the fire was still under investigation today.

OPEN CONSTRUCTION

Meyer said the fire danger in Eichler homes stems from their "wide open construction" without full floor-to-ceiling partitions and from highly flammable plywood paneling.

The building code, which is revised every three years, will be presented to the building inspector's office next month for analysis and addition of local amendments, Meyer said. It is usually adopted by the board of supervisors by fall.

Meyer said he would recommend that one of the local amendments be a limitation of the square feet of wood finish in any area of a house unless it has fire retardent treatment.

Palo Alto, where more than a dozen Eichler homes have burned to the ground in the last five years, has a city ordinance requiring a fire-retarding chemical to be added to the flammable glue which holds the paneling together. Santa Clara County passed an ordinance this year that sheetrock must be used to back the wood paneling in "open" construction.

PALO ALTO PARLEY

Marinwood Fire Chief Donald G. Ray returned from a conference with Palo Alto officials yesterday and reported that individual Eichler home owners can retard fire hazards in their houses for as little as $35.

Included in measures which the peninsula officials recommended were chemicals, paints, construction alterations and fire alarms.

The cheapest, Ray said, are chemicals which can be painted over the inside paneling of the house. He said these cost about $2 a pound and would run about $35 for the entire inside of the house.

OTHER CHEMICALS

Other chemicals are available for spraying rugs, drapes and curtains at about 10 to 25 cents per square foot. An electrical alarm with standby battery connected to inside and outside bells can be bought for $154. A heat alarm system sells for $250 to $300.

Another alternative would be to construct a door to separate the living room-kitchen area and bedroom wing, which would cost about $75 to $100. This would help prevent flames from racing through the length of the house, Ray said.

"If people use reasonable caution and use these preventative measures we can hold fire down to a minimum, the chief said. He urged home owners to call the Marinwood Fire Department for advice on fire prevention.

Fighting Erupts In Belgian Strike

Threatened Premier Calls More Troops

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Thousands of Socialist strikers rioted through major cities in Belgium today and battled police tear gas and clubs with iron bolts and stones in a growing threat to the government of Premier Gaston Eyskens.

Heavily armed troops replaced civilian police around Eyskens' office in Brussels where 10,000 strikers rampaged through the streets with shouts of "Eyskens to the gallows." They smashed windows of buses, street cars and pro-government newspaper offices.

In Ghent, scene of the heaviest fighting, strikers tried to invade the electricity and gas offices. Riot police charged the mob with tear gas and were met with a bombardment of stones and iron bolts.

SEVERAL INJURED

The Socialists said several persons were injured and one woman hospitalized in Ghent.

Eyskens tonight rejected a Socialist demand for the immediate recall of parliament, in recess until Jan. 3, and ordered military and naval guards at all main government offices. Paratroopers previously were ordered to guard railway stations and the central post office.

The government announced that soldiers on expiring leave from Germany must report back for duty at one of the 15 main garrison towns in Belgium by Friday noon.

LIFE SLOWS

The nation's life was at almost a standstill. The government denied reports it planned to declare martial law or recall King Baudouin from his Spanish honeymoon — which would be an admission the situation was out of control.

However, a military plane was standing by in Sevilla, Spain, ready to take off with Baudouin.

The strikes were called by the Socialists and Socialist-led labor unions in opposition to an austerity budget prepared by the Social Christian (Catholic) Eyskens government to offset the financial setback caused by loss of the Congo. The Socialists fear insurance, unemployment and other benefits will be cut off.

MARIN COUNTY POPULATION JUMP CLAIMED

Marin's population has increased 5,545 since the April census, in the belief of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

The foundation, basing its estimates on new home construction, utilities installations, etc., today declared the county will enter 1961 with a population of 152,345.

Biggest increase since the federal census in April has been in San Rafael, the foundation declared. It gave the population of San Rafael now as 22,383, up 1,923 from the April census figure.

Estimates of populations in the other nine cities are as follows:

Novato, 18,595, up 714 since the census; San Anselmo, 11,734, up 150; Mill Valley, 10,612, up 201; Corte Madera, 6,192, up 230; Fairfax, 6,015, up 202; Larkspur, 5,948, up 238; Sausalito, 5,586; up 255; Ross, 2,574, up 23; Belvedere, 2,176, up 28.

U.S. Broadens Move Against Pharmacy Unit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Justice today broadened its attack on alleged price fixing by Northern California Pharmacists by filing a civil anti-trust complaint asking for an injunction.

The Northern California Pharmaceutical Assn. was indicted Dec. 14 at the request of the government on charges of criminally violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

ON PRICE LISTS

The civil suit seeks an injunction to prevent the association and its 1,500 members from formulating and distributing price lists for prescription drugs.

Lyle Jones, anti-trust chief, said most prescription drugs are compounded by manufacturers and require no further work by pharmacists. They do not sell the prescription drugs under trade marks or brand names.

The complaint said 75 per cent of Northern California pharmacies are owned by members of the association, that their annual sales of prescription drugs exceed 75 million dollars.

ARRAIGNMENT DUE

The association and Donald K. Hedgpeth, the group's former president who composed a suggested price list, are scheduled to be arraigned on the criminal charges tomorrow before Judge George B. Harris.

Pharmacist spokesmen deny that the association has violated anti-trust laws. They claim that price lists have been employed only as guides to help pharmacists in pricing a large variety of rapidly changing commodities.

The government, however, claims that the association had "suppressed or eliminated" price competition.

Deputy D.A. Wolters Plans To Quit Post

Harold F. Wolters, 35, deputy district attorney in Marin since 1955, will leave for a new job in Nevada County next Feb. 1.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said today that Wolters has accepted a job as deputy district attorney under Harold Berliner in Nevada County.

"It will not be easy to replace Harry," Garety declared. "He has done an excellent job in his office. I know that he and his family have wanted for some time to move to that county, and I wish him the best of success."

The district attorney has not definitely decided on a successor for Wolters. At the time Charles L. Convis was appointed deputy district attorney, Garety said there were applications from several outstanding lawyers. From this group, he plans to make a selection of a new deputy.

Wolters will continue his private practice, which he has in San Rafael with P. Roy Vallarino as his partner.

Wolters entered public service in 1953 when he became deputy public defender under Judge Leonard A. Thomas, then public defender. After two years with the public defender's office, Wolters joined the district attorney's office and has been there ever since.

Wolters, his wife and their children will move to Nevada County in January or February.

'STOP ORDER' IGNORED

Neighbors Protest Fishing Platform

An irate Tiburon home owner walked into the afternoon session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday and voiced vehement protest against the "Elephant Rock fishing memorial" sponsored by Supervisor-elect J. Walter Blair, who takes office next week.

Leonard Bowman of 2000 Paradise Drive presented letters from Dr. Orazio G. Rosalia and himself and charged that both legalities and the views of the local community had been flouted in the fishing platform project.

Not only had there been no approval by planning commission or department of public works, and no issuance of a building permit, but a works department "stop order" was served last Friday only to have work continue Monday — a holiday — the supervisors were told.

"I came home one day to find out what was going on," said Bowman, "and there was a man working off power he got by plugging into my line. When I asked his authority, he said he had been allowed to do it by the board of supervisors."

Blair's name was at no time mentioned during the discussion.

Principal Planner B. D. Dobbs of the planning department staff confirmed that construction of a platform around the rock and a catwalk leading to it had been started without official sanction. A stop order was issued on complaint of nearby residents last Friday, he disclosed.

"But work was going on again only yesterday," Bowman added.

Work on the catwalk reportedly resumed about 11 a.m. today, despite the stop order and the supervisors' action.

Dobbs said that for such a project the planners should first approve a master plan, then a development plan. Only after that could a building permit be issued. It appeared no permit had ever been asked.

"They should stop work after receiving a stop-work order," commented Supervisor Vera Schultz, whose seat on the board will be taken by Blair next week. "I move we refer these two letters to the planning commission, the depart-

Red Aircraft Damages U.S. Plane In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — A Soviet-made Ilyushin-14 plane dropping military supplies to leftist Laotian rebel forces attacked and machine gunned an unarmed American plane watching the operation, the U.S. Embassy reported today.

The American plane was crippled by the shooting yesterday but was able to make it back safely to Vientiane on one engine. It was not known if the Ilyushin was manned by Russians or Communist bloc fliers.

Officials of the U.S. Embassy here said the American C-47 was assigned to the U.S. air attache in Saigon, South Viet Nam. It was on loan to the embassy here to replace the aircraft regularly assigned to the air attache in Vientiane which was damaged in the recent fighting for this capital city.

Officials said the U.S. plane, carrying a three-man crew, was observing the Soviet air supply operation at the request of the Laotian government.

STRONG WINDS SWEEP AWAY MARIN'S FOG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Strong north winds whipped away the fog in Northern and Central California today. Skies became sparkling clear.

The northerly winds hit up to 35 m.p.h. around San Francisco Bay, where small craft warnings were displayed. The wind was expected to diminish tonight.

The five-day forecast, through next Monday, said there appears to be a possibility of rain in the extreme north Sunday or Monday, but none elsewhere. Temperatures should range close to normal for late December.

Wife Slayer Executed In Gas Chamber

At 10 a.m. today, Raymond L. Cartier, 32, was escorted into San Quentin Prison's green, octagonal gas chamber, and three minutes later cyanide pellets were dropped into a vat of hydrochloric acid to snuff out his life

Cartier was sentenced to death for the 1957 murder of his wife in their San Diego home. He dismembered her body with a meat cleaver, then set fire to the house. Neighbors called police as he stood laughing outside the burning building.

As Cartier died, a half dozen Quakers, including an 11-year-old girl, prayed outside the gates of San Quentin Prison. After a vigil since midnight, the group quietly left the prison after his death was announced at 10:10 a.m.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown had granted a reprieve to Cartier Oct. 26 to permit psychiatric examination. Brown turned down the last reprieve plea by Cartier Monday, saying that he was legally sane at the time of the murder of his 32-year-old wife, Geneva Ellen, in their San Diego home.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said Cartier was "calm and collected" right up to the time of the execution. His meal last night was roast prime rib of beef with chocolate cake for desert. He topped it off with a large chocolate candy bar.

Cartier had attempted suicide last summer and had recently written a letter to Governor Brown asking to die.

After sleeping soundly from 1 a.m. to 6:40 a.m., Cartier had neither breakfast nor coffee this morning. Before he retired last night, he had been visited by Frady, Warden Fred R. Dickson and the prison Catholic chaplain, Rev. Edward Dingberg.

Annex Group Reforms, Sets 3-Point Goal

The Terra Linda Annexation Committee reorganized itself into the Terra Linda Taxpayers League last night and launched a program for (1) annexation to San Rafael, (2) recall of two Dixie School Board members and (3) defeat of the Terra Linda Recreational District bond issue.

Anton Lonich was appointed acting chairman of the league until members can hold a general meeting and elect a chairman and board of directors.

FOUR-HOUR MEETING

Last night's action was the result of a four-hour meeting of 18 members of the committee in Lonich's house at 1091 Las Pravadas Avenue, Terra Linda.

"We felt the annexation committee was limited in its scope and we needed an organization that could effectively deal with all the problems of Terra Linda," Lonich said.

Two sub chairmen, Mrs. Pat Hughes and Vivian Conway, were appointed to handle publicity toward annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael.

A three-man subcommittee (names were not divulged) was appointed to consult with the county counsel and State Board of Education to initiate recall proceedings against two trustees of Dixie School District: Marcus Savage and Walter J. Doll whose terms run until April , 1963.

TO OPPOSE RE-ELECTION

The group decided not to attempt to recall Trustees E. E. Lenander, Dorothy Brown and Robert S. Winniford, but to oppose their re-election at the polls April 18. The pro-annexationists were angered by the board's protest against annexation.

The subcommittee, which is also going to look into Dixie School District records and

Terra Linda Annex Protest Filed

The Terra Linda Recreational District today filed a protest against annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael, but with the protest deadline at 5 p.m. tomorrow, opponents of annexation appeared to represent only about 42 per cent of the assessed valuation.

To halt proceedings, owners of more than one-half of the assessed valuation of the land must protest.

The recreational district protest, representing land valued at $6,210, boosted the protesting public land to 100 per cent.

West Germany, Soviet Agree On Trade Pact

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany and the Soviet Union have agreed on a new trade pact, the government announced today. Apparently, the crucial question of Berlin's economic status has been settled.

West Germany pressed trade pact talks with Communist East Germany in East Berlin, where the same question of Berlin has remained the stumbling bloc.

In both cases, West Germany wants West Berlin treated as part of the economy of West Germany because they are tied together by a common currency. This also would insure open communications to Berlin.

The East Germans followed the Soviet lead in balking at this proposal. Furthermore, the East Germans have threatened to halt land and river traffic to Berlin, 100 miles inside the Iron Curtain, if no trade agreement with West Germany is reached by Jan. 1.

Conceivably, Soviet agreement on West Berlin's status would mean East Germany will back down on the issue.

STRANGE VISITORS TO BOSTON

Pedestrians were startled yesterday in downtown Boston when workmen removed life-hized figures from a Christmas display atop a marquee for shipment to a warehouse. Historians say the streets of Boston were built following the paths of cows. This tradition almost was brought up to date for awhile yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

Kennedy Appoints AF, Navy Heads

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy moved rapidly today toward completion of the Defense Department's upper structure by naming Eugene Zuckert, former atomic energy commissioner, as secretary of the Air Force.

John B. Connally Jr., Fort Worth, Tex., lawyer and close political associate of Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson, was named Navy secretary in the new administration last night.

Zuckert, assistant Air Force secretary when Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) was civilian head of the air force in the Truman administration, was named to succeed James H. Douglas. Connally will take over the post currently occupied by Navy Secretary William B. Franke.

Kennedy's headquarters here announced that Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was flying to Palm Beach tonight for a meeting tomorrow with the president-elect.

The incoming chief executive also arranged a conference at his seaside villa Friday with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., a former congressman from New York and currently a foreign automobile distributor.

HE WAS MENTIONED

Roosevelt worked in the Kennedy campaign and had been mentioned for the Navy post that went to Connally.

The two defense posts were filled by Kennedy in consultation with the new defense secretary-designate, Robert S. McNamara, and Johnson and Symington, both close friends of Connally and Zuckert.

Connally, 43, has served Johnson twice on Capitol Hill —as the first administrative assistant to Johnson when the Texan first went to the House in 1939; his first administrative assistant when Johnson went to the Senate in 1949. Connally directed Johnson's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination this year, and after Johnson settled for the second spot on the ticket, Connally then went to work for the Kennedy-Johnson slate.

SYMINGTON HELPER

Zuckert had a somewhat similar close tie to Symington. The new Air Force secretary was a Navy lieutenant (j.g.) late in World War II when he became assistant to Symington, then head of the Surplus Property Administration.

In 1946, Zuckert followed Symington to the war department when Symington became assistant secretary of war for air. When Symington moved up to Air Force secretary in 1947, Zuckert became an assistant secretary of the Air Force. In 1952, he was named by President Truman to the Atomic Energy Commission where he served until 1954. He now practices law in Wishington.

Connally entered the Navy in December, 1941, as an ensign and emerged as a lieutenant commander in 1946 after extensive combat sea duty in the Pacific aboard aircraft carriers. He was twice decorated for his carrier service as a fighter director officer.

Writer Says Video Show Was Rigged

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A freelance writer charges in a national magazine article that there were at least 40 rigged episodes on the television show "It Could Be You" between 1956 and 1958. He says he rigged them.

Ralph Edwards, who owns the show, immediately denied knowledge of any such improprieties. So did the National Broadcasting Co.

Al Blake, 73, wrote in Confidential magazine that he supplied people to play parts on the daytime show, which appears five times a week on NBC.

AUDIENCE SHOW

"It Could Be You" is an audience participation show in which stories involving members of the audience are unfolded. The subjects are then brought on stage and given surprises.

Blake said he rehearsed his landlady, his newsboy and friends and acquaintances for roles on the program.

He said members of Edwards' staff, including producer Stefan Hates, knew of the alleged rigging. He did not say Edwards was aware of it.

Edwards said he has affidavits from Hates and his present staff "denying that they were in any way in collusion with Blake."

NEVER SAID

"Never did he at any time state to staff members that he was manufacturing the situations as he states in the article," Edwards said.

Edwards said Blake was never a member of the show's staff and never wrote for it. The staff got information from many sources, Edwards said, and Blake was one of them.

In August, 1958, Edwards said, "we suspected the facts in one of his (Blake's) contributions and discontinued accepting material from him."

Blake acknowledged in his story that he was annoyed at the Edwards organization because it did not pay him what he thought he had coming for contributions to the show.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Sammy, May Expecting

NEW YORK (AP)—Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. and his bride, actress May Britt, announced today they are expecting a baby next August.

Davis, a Negro, and his wife, who is white, were married Nov. 18.

Final Holiday Toll

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic accidents during the 78-hour Christmas weekend killed 488 persons — an average of one about every 10 minutes.

The final toll was below the pre-holiday estimate of 510 made by the National Safety Council. It was the lowest for a three-day Christmas holiday since 1949, when 413 traffic deaths were reported.

Big Loan To Tito

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is seeking to bolster Yugoslavia's economy with a 100-million-dollar loan despite President Tito's recent charge that the Western nations were the main source of discord in the world.

The State Department announced the loan yesterday, just 24 hours after Tito declared in a speech in Belgrade that Yugoslavia and Russia had identical views on important world issues.

Flight Duplicated

NEW YORK (AP)—A United Air Lines DC8 with crash investigators on board yesterday duplicated the flight pattern of the jet that collided with another airliner over New York City on Dec. 16, killing 136 persons.

Aboard the jet were observers from United Air Lines and Trans World Airlines, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Aviation Agency and the Air Lines Pilot Assn.

One purpose of the simulated flight was to determine why the jet apparently overshot a holding area near the Jersey shore south of Staten Island.

Sparrows Fell 6

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sparrows were blamed for carbon monoxide fumes that floored six women employes of a trading stamp store yesterday.

Vent pipes to heaters of the suburban store were found clogged with birds' nests.

Cargos For Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—A fleet of Soviet merchant ships steamed through the Baltic today, bound for Cuba with cargoes of tractors, paper and other goods.

Mayor Jose Llanes Govel of Havana said in Moscow the shipments have "broken the economic blockade instituted by monopolists of the United States and other countries in an attempt to strangle the republic."

Forest Fire Erupts

CALISTOGA (UPI)—A winter forest fire burned through damp brush and pine on the south slope of Mount St. Helena today, nine miles north of here. Despite heavy fog and moist ground the fire spread quickly ahead of 25 to 30-mile-an-hour winds.

A crew of 40 state fire fighters battled the blaze.

Conferences On Air

PALM SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — John F. Kennedy will do some trail blazing at his news conferences as president. Some of them will be carried live during evening hours on nationwide television and radio.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, announced this decision — under consideration for several weeks—last night after a meeting with representatives of the major TV and radio networks.

Rhee Party Gains

SEOUL (AP)—Major gains were scored in South Korean local elections yesterday by independents, many of them members of ousted President Syngman Rhee's discredited Liberal Party.

Nine independent candidates were elected mayor. Premier John Chang's Democratic party elected 12 candidates, and the New Democratic Party won with five.

Dooley In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Tom Dooley, in great pain and barely able to walk, returned from the Orient last night and entered the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases.

Dr. Dooley 33, the American jungle doctor of Laos, was stricken with cancer in 1959, and had been described as cured after surgery.

Recent tests in Hong Kong showed that he was suffering from a degeneration of the bone structure of the spine—not officially determined as cancerous.

Train Wreck, Bombings Hurt 60 In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—More than 60 persons were injured yesterday in bold daylight bombings and a train wreck blamed on saboteurs trying to undermine Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

Bombs exploded in two stores and a main power station in Havana. Fourteen persons were injured, mostly by flying glass, in one of the stores.

A Camaguey-Havana passenger train collided with another train at a crossing in Camaguey Province, injuring more than 50 persons. Officials blamed counter-revolutionaries.

Following the bombings, Castro militiamen, police and bystanders marched to Havana's central park shouting, "Saboteurs to the execution wall."

A collection was taken to aid the injured, who included five children.

They were victims of a bomb that exploded in a women's restroom adjoining a crowded cafeteria in the Fogar store, which the government expropriated from private Cuban interests.

A second bomb exploded in a small variety store in Havana's shopping district. No injuries were reported.

Another bomb went off in the power station in Tallapiedra, in east Havana. Damage was slight and no one was hurt.

Reliable sources said the power station was evacuated and that two more bombs were found after a two-hour search.

The state motto of California is "Eureka" from the Greek word meaning "I have found it."

Forced Desegregation Asked By Scientists

NEW YORK (UPI)—A group of social scientists has called for forced desegregation in Southern schools, and one of the group specifically criticized President Eisenhower for showing "basic confusion" on the issue.

The scientists issued their conclusions yesterday at a symposium on desegregation sponsored by the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science which is holding its annual meeting here.

Kenneth D. Clark, associate professor at City College of New York, singled out President Eisenhower in his criticism over the need for strict law enforcement of token integration to change social attitudes of white to Negroes.

"When he (Eisenhower) talks about 'the need for time' and that we cannot hope to 'change men's hearts and minds overnight,' he demonstrates that he does not understand the difference between desegregation, an objective social, legal and political process, and integration, a subjective, psychological and attitudinal process," Clark said.

The other scientists, representing the scientific fields of sociology, anthropology and psychology, also listed criticism of politicians who urge a "need for time" approach to desegregation.

They said desegregation, accomplished by legal force such as is being carried out in some southern schools now, must come before integration, which they said was a frame of mind, rather than an actual mixing of the races.

"Prejudices can most easily be changed by gradualism and moderation, but by strict law enforcement of desegregation under firm leadership," they said in a symposium.

WOULD HAVE STOPPED WORK

N.Y. Fire Official Labels Carrier Safety 'Deplorable'

NEW YORK (AP) — City Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr. says the aircraft carrier Constellation was in such sloppy condition that he would have "ordered work stopped and the premises cleaned up if it had been a civilian project."

Officers at a naval court of inquiry looking into the disastrous Dec. 19 carrier fire listened for 2½ hours as Cavanagh criticized Navy safety procedures. An estimated 75 million dollars damage was done to the Constellation and 49 persons died in the fire at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

"Messy, deplorable and sloppy" were Cavanagh's words to characterize the housekeeping aboard the ship. Evidences of this, he said, were 42 minor fires that preceded the disaster.

"If this had been a civilian project under our jurisdiction we would have vacated this project as imminently perilous to life," he said.

He called the ship a "fully loaded bomb which needed only ignition" and said he was surprised the tragedy hadn't occurred earlier.

Previous witnesses testified that the housekeeping and fire-prevention practices on the Constellation were better than average for Navy ships.

Escapee Sent Back To Hospital

William H. Colvin, 26, of 703 Bridgeway, Sausalito, who was arrested last week on a morphine possession charge, has been sent back to Napa State Hospital, Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino reported yesterday.

On the district attorney's recommendation, Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court dismissed the morphine possession charge.

Colvin has been arrested about 10 times on narcotics charges since 1954 in various cities throughout the United States. He was an escapee from Napa State Hospital when Sausalito police nabbed him in a hotel there last week.

Rape Suspect Due Hearing

Lemone Brown, 33, Richmond garbage man, faces a preliminary hearing tomorrow morning in Marin Municipal Court on charges of raping and robbing a 32-year-old Mill Valley school teacher last Dec. 17 at her home.

The teacher said she awoke about 3 a.m. to find a man standing by her bed. She said he attacked her, then stole her purse containing about $40. She was not able to identify Brown as the attacker.

Sheriff's investigators arrested Brown from reports that Brown's car was seen parked near the woman's home that morning.

BOMBS NOT ENOUGH

Humans Held Needing Substitute For War

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a way to avoid H-bomb war horrors, a psychologist declared today.

He blamed the cold war mainly on human nature and the idea that mighty defenses assure security.

The way out lies through realizing this, and then seeking new ideas, said Dr. Charles E. Osgood of the University of Illinois.

SNOW TALKS

He spoke after a famous British scientist-novelist, Sir Charles P. Snow, had predicted that within, at most, six years Red China and some other countries would have nuclear bombs.

"Within, at most, 10 years, some of those bombs are going off" unless scientists and others act to prevent it, Sir Charles said.

Dr. Ralph Lapp, physicist of Arlington, Va., presented private estimates of this country's tremendous nuclear power.

50,000 BOMBS

He said he figures the United States now has nuclear weapons equal to 50,000 of the atom bombs which destroyed Hiroshima, and could produce the equivalent of 30,000 more in a half dozen more years.

The scientists addressed sessions of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. Sir Charles spoke last night and the others today in sessions sponsored by an AAAS Committee on Science in the Promotion of Human Welfare.

Dr. Osgood said "nations today are lumbering down the one habitual path to 'security' —bigger and better weapons— gathering as they go tensions which make it less and less possible to conceive of any other alternatives."

Osgood said he agrees with others who question "whether being able to annihilate an enemy 10 to 100 times over deters him much more than being able to annihilate him once."

"All this frightens the daylights out of me, but frightening people isn't enough," he said.

"What we need, and that most urgently," he said, "is an enlivened search for new alternatives to war as a means of resolving human conflicts."

A world government may be the only permanent solution, he said.

To halt the arms race, Osgood suggested one-sided steps, announced in advance, to reduce tensions. If carefully done, "pressures of public opinion both internal and external would force reciprocation."

This, he said, "assumes that the Russians are more like us than bogeymen, that they would like to find a way out of this mess as much as we would, that their motivations are derived more from insecurity than the urge to world domination.

Negro Tent City Stirs Controversy

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A line of tents to house evicted sharecroppers, defended by Negroes as an emergency measure and denounced by white residents as propaganda, was expected to grow today.

Negro leaders said the tent city, now housing eight families, was set up to keep a roof over sharecroppers who lost their leases because they registered to vote. More families were scheduled to move in today.

White farmers said the leases were terminated because mechanization replaced the sharecroppers.

The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati will hear a government plea tomorrow to stop eviction of 700 sharecroppers from Fayette and adjacent Haywood County farms.

Last week, U.S. Dist. Judge Marion S. Boyd of Memphis refused the plea on grounds that the 1957 Civil Rights Act does not empower him to rule on contract and property rights.

The Justice Department Civil Rights Division claims the evictions resulted from Negroes registering and voting in numbers in the counties for the first time.

Woman Injured In Car Wreck

Mrs. Marie Amalia Iwwerks, 68, of Menlo Park, suffered injury to chest and both knees when her car was struck by a northbound vehicle as she was driving across Highway 101 just south of Hamilton Air Force Base entrance yesterday afternoon.

She was termed in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Mrs. Iwwerks had emerged from a side road and was driving west across the highway when her car was struck by one driven by Karl Sander, 64, of 81 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, the California Highway Patrol reported.

FRENCH A-EXPLOSION

Smoke curls skyward after France yesterday exploded its third atomic device in the Sahara of Africa. Today the French government shrugged off protests over the nuclear blasts, saying the nation plans to harness the atom for defense and peace. A fourth explosion is expected in a few weeks. Sales Tax Collection Record In 3rd Quarter

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California collected $174,962,100 in sales taxes in July, August and September—a record third quarter mark.

Taxable sales amounted to $5,832,070,000, the State Board of Equalization said yesterday. Even though the figure was higher than ever before, sales of some items, including automobiles, jewelry and musical instruments dropped.

And the one-half of 1 per cent gain in sales over those reported for the same period last year did not keep pace with California's growth in population and personal income.

The board's report also noted sales of non-durable goods such as food were generally higher than in the third quarter of 1959 while fewer durable goods —boats and hardware, for example—were sold. New car dealers said they sold 6 per cent fewer cars last year and used car lot operators reported their customers bought 17 per cent less cars than they did in 1959.

Man Arrested For Assault

A Tiburon bar pilot, accused of striking a woman because he wanted another drink before being taken home, faces an assault and battery charge in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

He is Capt. Willis Jennings Fowler, 60, of 2125 Paradise Drive. He was arrested last night on complaint by Mrs. Betty Lois Nichols, 31, also of 2125 Paradise Drive.

Mrs. Nichols told Sheriff's Deputy H. E. Morgan she was driving Fowler home from a cocktail party about 8 o'clock when he began insisting on going to another bar for more drinks. She said she refused because she thought he had enough to drink.

Whereupon, the captain socked her in the jaw, chipping one of her teeth and puffing her lips, she told the officer. She got out of the car and called the sheriff.

Deputy Morgan arrested the captain on a citizen's warrant signed by Mrs. Nichols. He is free on $262.50 bail.

Race Bias In Hiring Of Teachers Claimed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A state consultant says racial discrimination, particularly against Negroes, in the hiring of teachers still is a serious problem in California.

Wilson Riles, fair employment consultant to the Education Department, told the California Federation of Teachers yesterday that housing discrimination in suburbs has created "de facto segregated schools."

There are still many, many districts that do not even make an attempt to insure that teachers are employed strictly on the basis of merit," he said.

"A serious gap remains between the state's policy of equal opportunity and the hiring practices employed in most local districts."

Riles said teachers who encounter discrimination and fail to protest must share the blame with school officials for racial prejudice in teacher hiring.

He noted the passage of the Fair Employment Practices Act by the 1959 legislature, but said enforcement is impossible without formal protests.

Housing discrimination in suburbs was cited as a contributing factor.

"De facto segregated schools are created and many minority teachers fail to apply for jobs in suburban areas simply because there is no place for them to live.

Legal Block Thrown Into Hayden Plan

New legal obstacles were tossed yesterday into the plans of actor-adventurer Sterling Hayden to take his four children to Europe.

Chester L. Smith of Beverly Hills, attorney for Hayden's former wife, Betty Ann DeNoon, served notice in Marin Superior Court that he is filing an appeal to the State District Court of Appeals to block the European trip.

On Dec. 1, Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court ruled that Hayden could take his children on an 18-month trip to Switzerland and Denmark. Hayden said he wanted to go to Europe to complete a book and pay back a $75,000 debt.

On Dec. 19, Smith and the former Mrs. Hayden appeared before Judge Keating and got a stay until Jan. 6 on the permission to travel.

Smith contends the stay should be continued at least for 30 days beyond the Jan. 6 date. The attorney is also asking the District Court of Appeals to block the European trip completely.

Hayden's position is that he will not leave for Europe without his children.

functions, is to report to Lonich by next Wednesday.

After its report, the league will decide on the method of circulating petitions to initiate recall proceedings, Lonich said.

Also at last night's meeting, committee members voted to start an active campaign against the $233,000 proposed recreational bond issue which will come before the Terra Linda electorate Jan. 17.

"We will present our reasons for urging defeat of the bond issue to the public during our campaign," Lonich said.

Woman Driver Escapes Injury

Mrs. Ann S. Enyart of 1330 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato, narrowly escaped injury today when her car went out of control on the frontage road near Joseph Court in San Rafael and ripped down 30 feet of chain-link fence.

The woman told Police Sgt. Carl Selby that her accelerator pedal stuck to the floor as she rounded a curve northbound about 1 a.m. and the car ran into the freeway fencing. The vehicle stopped against a power pole.

Fraternity Award

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A national Negro fraternity yesterday voted a $250 cash award to a white New Orleans family which sent a daughter to an integrated school despite threat of violence.

The award was made by Omega Psi Phi, composed of about 20,000 graduates of predominantly Negro colleges in the United States, to the James Gabrielle family for its "contribution to democracy."

ment of public works and the county counsel."

Supervisor James Marshall seconded and the vote was unanimous.

Dr. Rosalia's letter said the constructors lacked legal ownership, had no sanction from the Army Corps of Engineers, lacked building permit or planning sanction, and had acted without consulting the opinion of local residents.

The letter charged "disregard of public opinion and legalities" and expressed the view that use of the rock for fishing will be detrimental to the area and lacking in safety precautions.

(Rosalia was given permission last August to build six apartments in two triplexes on steeply sloping land between Paradise Drive and the bay by Tiburon's picturesque "old stone tower.")

Blair's scheme has been for a four-foot platform around the 15-foot-diameter rock, on Northwestern Pacific Railroad property 70 feet offshore.

Terming this a memorial to 11-year-old Robert (Bunkie) Keemer of San Rafael, Blair received backing of Fred G. Zelinsky, large Tiburon property owner, plus $100 from the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce. Jesse Hays of Zelinsky's staff has been in charge of construction.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham said after the meeting that the stop order was served on Hays, that Zelinski later got after him in an effort to keep the job going, and that Blair called on him about the situation.

Bowman's letter said he had paid $42,000 for his home but if the fishing platform project continues, the value will deteriorate by 30 per cent.

"I protest most vigorously," said he, and indicated that plenty of others felt the same way.

Illustrating his reasons for objection, he said two men sat on the catwalk and peered through his windows.

"I have trouble keeping the bass fishermen from under my house right now," he said. "This makes things impossible."

Marin General Hospital Has High Occupancy Percentage

Marin General Hospital was 90.4 per cent occupied during November, the county hospital district board was told last night.

The surgical floor showed the highest occupancy—102.3 per cent of "capacity." One-hundred forty-nine babies were born at the hospital during the month.

The hospital admitted 557 patients during November, including 177 from the San Rafael area. Revenue exceeded expense by $3,872.

The board approved a schedule of fees to be charged in the new cardio-pulmonary laboratory. The laboratory, operated by Dr. John C. Bettinger, is believed to be the only one of its type in any 100-bed hospital in the country, Administrator S. Ames Pence said.

The board approved additional payments to architect Robert Stanton of Carmel, who has completed 66 per cent of the architectural work on the new wing.

Service league volunteers gave 2,458 hours of service in the month, it was reported.

Heart Research Grant Given Belvedere Doctor

Belvedere Dr. John J. Osborn of Presbyterian Medical Center, San Francisco, has been awarded a $6,900 heart grant by the San Francisco Heart Assn. for research on the post-operative care of children who had heart surgery.

Dr. Osborn, who is associate professor of pediatrics at Stanford University, has developed a complex of instruments designed to give physicians and surgeons reliable information about heart and lung function immediately following a heart operation.

Although most patients make a good recovery after the radical operations, a few patients run into serious trouble, Dr. Osborn said. "It is vitally important that the doctor knows just what is going wrong as soon as possible, and visible symptoms are sometimes deceptive."

Among the complications Dr. Osborn listed a contraction of the airway into the lungs, or mucus clogging the airway. Heart muscle is sometimes weakened temporarily and at other times hemorrhage may occur in the sack of tissue that holds the heart, hampering the action of the heart.

Using simple breathing and blood tests, along with an electro-cardiograph, Dr. Osborn and his associates have found that data from these tests, processed by an electronic computor, can give immediate revealing information that helps a doctor distinguish between the various complications that may occur. The equipment is mobile and can be kept in a recovery room with the patient during the critical period after the operation.

If the instruments show that the heart is functioning well, but that the airway is stopped, a bronchoscope may restore normal ventilation. On the other hand, if lung function is all right, but the heart muscle is injured, digitalis may help the heart action until the muscle can heal itself.

The Heart Assn. grant has been given to provide a technician and supplies for extensive tests with the apparatus, in the hope that it can be further simplified, and that only a few key measurements need be made to identify critical post-operative complications. These results would then be made available to a growing number of surgeons who are doing heart surgery throughout the country.

Claim Racket Charged To 2 Marinites

Two San Anselmo men were indicted by the San Francisco grand jury last night on charges of working together on a car insurance claim racket.

Earl Parino, 36, of 33 Toyon Road, insurance adjuster for the San Francisco office of the California State Automobile Assn., was alleged to have approved fictitious claims aggregating $1,150.

Some of these, the indictment charged, were paid to Parino's roommate, Garland Hampton, 33, auditor for a mattress company. Another count charged Parino with forgery of a $166.69 claim payment to himself.

Parino had authorization to approve claim payments as high as $250. A routine audit of claims was said to have revealed his illegal operations.

Member Leaving Tam Fire Board

J. A. Stuber, a commissioner for four years in the Tamalpais Valley Fire District, announced to the commission last night that he is resigning and will move to Winfield, Kan., to go into business.

Stuber, a partner in an auto appearance supply company in San Francisco, lives at 312 Poplar Street. Accompanying him to Kansas will be his wife, Leah Mae, and five children.

A replacement on the commission is to be appointed Jan. 24, according to Commissioner Donald J. Taylor.

12 Mumps Cases For Christmas

Twelve Marin children got mumps for Christmas.

The weekly report of Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, today showed a dozen cases of mumps reported last week: six in San Rafael, two each in Mill Valley and San Anselmo, one each on the Tiburon Peninsula and in a rural area.

Drunken Driver Draws $210 Fine

Earl Louis Ginder, 56, electrician of 14 Park Road, Fairfax, paid a $210 fine and must remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense.

He pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court. Ginder was caught Dec. 17 driving while intoxicated along Redhill Avenue in San Anselmo.

Sanity Hearing Slated For Patrolman's Slayer

A former Glendale policeman, who murdered a highway patrolman 14 years ago, will be coming into Marin Superior Court on Friday or next week for a formal sanity hearing, which could set the wheels in motion for his execution in San Quentin's gas chamber.

Doctors at both Atascadero State Hospital and Agnews State Hospital reported to Marin Superior Court that Walker is now sane.

Marin Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said he plans to ask Judge Thomas F. Keating, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, on Friday to set a date for a formal sanity hearing.

If the judge finds Walker sane, the governor will set an execution date for the condemned man.

Walker had an illustrious background before he shot Highway Patrolman Loren Roosevelt in 1947.

He was nephew of a superior court judge and son of a one-time Los Angeles County engineer. He attended one year at California Institute of Technology, majoring in petroleum geology. He also served as rookie policeman in Glendale and fought the Japanese in the Philippines as second lieutenant during World War II.

Furnishing Store Hit By Burglar

Brown's Home Furnishers at 38 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, was broken into during the night, police said today, and $128 in goods taken including two electric shavers, a transistor radio, some radio batteries and a charger.

Entrance was gained by snapping a lock on the back door of the building, police said. Radio and batteries were taken from the television department and the shavers from the front of the store where a small shaver case was broken open.

Bagley, Bernt Form Law Partnership

Formation of a new law partnership was announced today by William T. Bagley, Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman - elect, and C. John Bernt.

Bagley and Bernt will engage in the general practice of law and will share offices in the Albert Building in San Rafael with the law firm of Gardiner, Riede and Elliott, of which Bagley formerly was a partner. The two firms will operate independently but will be informally associated.

Bernt formerly was with the firm of Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini in San Rafael. He is a graduate of Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. Bagley is a graduate of Boalt Hall in Berkeley—which, like Hastings, is a law school of University of California.

The new association will enable Bernt to handle all legal matters of the firm while Bagley is in Sacramento during the legislative sessions.

Transient Faces Support Charge

A four-year-old warrant of arrest caught up with Leo Joseph Johnson, 56-year-old transient, because he imbibed in too much holiday cheer the day after Christmas in San Rafael.

Yesterday, Johnson appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court and admitted he had been drunk on Fourth Street the day before. He also admitted he is the one who was convicted of failing to support his family in 1958 and put on probation.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino pointed out that Johnson has made no child support payments since December of 1956, when he disappeared.

Judge Haley set 9:30 a.m. Friday for Johnson to appear in court for sentence on the drunkenness conviction and further proceedings for non-support.

Portable Television Set Stolen From Store

Thieves stole a 17-inch portable television set from the Melody Radio and TV store at 1446 Fourth Street, San Rafael, yesterday.

Curt L. Rosenthal, proprietor, reported the loss to San Rafael police at 5:51 p.m. He said the set, which had been on a stand about 20 feet from the front door, had last been seen at 2 p.m.

OBITUARIES

Rites Held For Frank D. Guzman

Private funeral services for Frank D. Guzman, remembered most by San Anselmo residents for his friendly walks with his dog, were held today at Keaton's Chapel, San Rafael.

Guzman, 78, a retired elevator operator at the Merchant's Exchange Building in San Francisco, died Monday in a local hospital after suffering a stroke Dec. 8.

He retired last January after 30 years service as an elevator operator. He resided at 112 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo.

His dog, a 16-year-old toy shepard and terrier mixture named So So, died last month.

Guzman had enjoyed walking with his dog throughout his San Anselmo neighborhood and had friendly chats with many persons in the area.

A Marin County resident for 16 years, Guzman was a lifetime member of United Ancient Order of Druids. He received his 50-year membership pin a short time ago. He was a native Californian.

He is survived by his wife, Eleanor.

CLARA GALLEMORE

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara P. Gallemore, 11-year Marin County resident, will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at Halsted and Co. in San Francisco.

Mrs. Gallemore, 62, died unexpectedly Monday in Oceanside, San Diego County, while on a trip. She resided at 202 Kent Avenue, Kentfield.

Her husband, William E., is employed by the Electric Storage Battery Co. of Philadelphia.

She was born in Chicago and came to San Francisco in 1924. She lived in San Francisco for 25 years. Before residing in Kentfield, she lived in Los Ranchitos and San Anselmo.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Gallemore is survived by two sons, William E. Jr., San Rafael, and Victor C., Stockton; a sister, Mrs. Victoria Reske, Chicago, and four grandchildren.

HELENE ARENANDER

Mrs. Helene J. Arenander, who was born and grew up in the Tomales area, died in her sleep at the age of 79 yesterday in the Petaluma home she shared with her daughter, Mrs. Eliese Greppi.

Mrs. Arenander had been in failing health for many years.

She attended Tomales schools prior to her marriage to Ernest Arenander, who preceded her in death in 1940.

She is survived by a daughter and a son, Mrs. Greppi and Eugene Arenander of Tomales; a sister and a brother, Mrs. Martha Thompson of Petaluma and George Hulbe of San Francisco, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma. Burial will be in Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma.

ROSE SKRBEK

Mrs. Rose M. Skrbek, 85, a two-year Marin County resident, died yesterday in a local hospital. A cancer victim, she resided at 1314 Fifth Avenue in San Rafael.

Mrs. Skrbek was born in Czechoslovakia and came to the United States in 1903. After living in Wisconsin and Montana, she moved to California in 1934.

Her husband, Gustav Skrbek, died 25 years ago. He was a baker and had owned a bakery shop in Leevining, Mono County.

Mrs. Skrbek is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Arthur W. Greene of Corte Madera; three sons, Fred, of Boonville, Mendocino County; Al, of St. Francis, Wis., and Jack of Hayward, Wis.; five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

A Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. Friends will assemble at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary at 9 a.m.

The recitation of the Rosary will be tonight at 8 o'clock at the Williams mortuary. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

GEORGE MILLIGAN

Funeral services for George F. Milligan of Santa Rosa, brother of Thomas A. Milligan of San Anselmo, were held today in Santa Rosa.

Milligan died Saturday. He had been a telephone installer for 25 years.

He is survived by his wife, May; his brother, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret McClay of Philadelphia.

F. H. FORRESTER

Private funeral services for Francis H. Forrester, 95, former San Anselmo resident, were held last Friday in Guerneville, Sonoma County.

Forrester died Dec. 20 in a Sebastopol hospital. He was retired from the Southern Pacific Co. in 1933 after 20 years as a railroad man. He moved from San Anselmo to Forestville five years ago.

He was a native of California.

He is survived by his wife, Harriet E., in Forestville; two sons, Frank E. of San Anselmo and Virgil S. of Sacramento; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Felth of Sacramento and Mrs. Lorene Moran of Forestville; three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Trustee Files Candidacy Notice

Marett B. Boissevain of 2081 Center Road, Novato, incumbent trustee of the Novato Unified School District, has filed notice of intention to be a candidate to succeed himself.

His notice received yesterday by the office of the county superintendent of schools was the 17th to be received for the April 18 elections in school districts of Marin County. Candidates may file until March 17.

Boissevain is an insurance broker who was appointed to fill a vacancy 16 months ago.

Sent To Hospital

Laura Silver, 49, of Building A-25, Apartment 196, Marin City, was sent to Napa State Hospital for observation last night after neighbors told sheriff's deputies that flaming debris was being tossed out a window of her apartment.

Sergeant Faces Hearing On Hit-Run Fatality

Sgt. Maj. Edmund M. Thompson, 45, of Mill Valley, faces a preliminary hearing Jan. 25 in the hit-run death of a Greyhound bus driver at Richardson Bay Bridge last Friday.

Thompson, who lives at 49 Roque Moraes Drive, is accused of manslaughter and felony hit-run driving.

Greyhound bus driver Julius Nabers, 57, of 219 Los Gallinas Drive, San Rafael Meadows, was struck and instantly killed while he was directing another bus to give his stalled bus a push. About six hours later, Thompson called police to report he may have been in an accident.

A veteran soldier at the Presidio of San Francisco, Thompson is scheduled to be retired on an Army pension in February.

Shutout

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—A Monroe woman shut a man out of her life and in turn got shut out of her home. While she was shopping, her estranged husband nailed up the doors and windows. She needed police assistance to get back into the house.

JUDGE IN N.Y. RULES AGAINST RAILROADING LITTLE CHOU-CHOU

NEW YORK (AP)—Chou-Chou, a pocket-sized Chihuahua prescribed by a psychiatrist, can go right on living in the Martin Turoffs' apartment

This was the opinion of Brooklyn Municipal Court Justice Fred G. Morrit, who ruled yesterday in favor of Chou-Chou and his 6-year-old master.

The Prudential Management Corp. had moved to evict Mr. and Mrs. Morton Turoff, their two children and Chou-Chou because the dog's presence violated a no-pets rule of the cooperative apartment building.

But Turoff told the court that a psychiatrist had advised him to buy a dog for his young son, Steven, because the lad "needed something to cuddle."

Judge Moritt, in dismissing the petition, noted that the dog was well behaved and "so tiny as to easily fit in a man's breast pocket." He said the "boy needs a dog and the dog needs a home."

Man Jailed In Sonoma Slayings Says He'd Do It All Again

SONOMA (AP) — Police say William Chamberlain, charged with murder after a wild shooting spree, says, "I'd do the same thing again."

Chamberlain, 33, was booked yesterday in the fatal shooting of Elmer Ghiggioli, about 60, at the victim's Sonoma home Monday. Ghiggioli's two young daughters were also critically shot and his stepson was slightly wounded.

Authorities disagree about who invented the accordion. Some credit Friedrich Buschmann of Berlin. Others claim that Cyrillus Damian of Vienna invented it in 1829.

Chamberlain, held without bail, was given three days to obtain counsel for a preliminary hearing. He told police he lives in Sonoma and operates a hypno-therapy office in San Francisco.

Police said Chamberlain told them, "I didn't know until I fired that I was going to kill."

Ghiggioli's daughters, Sandra, 6, and Sharon, 13, were still in critical condition today. The dead man's stepson, Airman James Morgan, 21, was in good condition.

Chamberlain said his daughters Mary, 3, and Jane, 5, were doing "bad things sexually" that Ghiggioli's daughter, Sandra, had taught them.

Mrs. Frances Ghiggioli, wife of the dead man, and Sharon were babysitters for the Chamberlain children.

Sheriff John A. Ellis called the shooting "the strangest murder I've ever seen."

Marshland Plan Passed In Principle

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night recommended to the city council the adoption, in principle, of the circulation plan for the marshland area.

Exception was made of the proposed location of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station and facilities.

The commission also recommended adoption of the land-use plan for the area.

Commissioners reiterated their previous stand that the transit route should run east of Highway 101. The transit district proposes to route it west of the highway along the present Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way.

Commissioner Robert W. Graver said that the esthetics did not seem to have been given a great deal of consideration with regard to bridges and structures proposed by the district. For that reason "I haven't changed my mind about the location," Graver said. "This won't enhance the beauty of Mill Valley. I can't believe it will mean the death knoll to our community to move the station to another location."

County planner David Van Pelt said the location of the route east of Highway 101 would "entail another bridge across Richardson Bay, which may not be a thing of beauty either."

Richard J. Shephard, administrative assistant from the transit district, asked the commission to indicate its preference of station sites.

Commissioner Ruth Gustafson said: "I don't think the station at the East Blithedale area (Enchanted Knolls) is suitable for Mill Valley nor rapid transit. I think the Miller Avenue location across from Tamalpais High School is a compromise."

The commission suggested the circulation plan show a frontage road around the area bounded by Ashford Avenue, East Blithedale Avenue and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

The land-use plan recommends mainly civic recreational and commercial use with a feature being a commercial-recreational district on the tip of Enchanted Knolls.

The circulation plan, drawn up by the county planning staff, envisions a scenic four-lane road, to be called the waterfront parkway, to extend from Sausalito to Mili Valley along the waterfront, serve the Mill Valley Yacht Harbor and extend to Lomita Drive (presently undeveloped) to the ridge.

It also calls for a four-lane divided road with limited access for Miller Avenue from Camino Alto to the city limits; a similar four-lane divided road on Camino Alto between Miller Avenue and East Blithedale; a four-lane road on Camino Alto from East Blithedale Avenue up Corte Madera grade; a two-lane road on Sycamore Avenue extension with an elevation over the tracks if rapid transit is realized; a four-lane street from Camino Alto to Highway 101 Alto interchange, with free right turn lanes and protected left turn lanes. In event of rapid transit, East Blithedale Avenue would be elevated over the tracks.

The commission also recommended city council approval of a suggestion from the architectural advisory committee that a shoe shine stand be allowed in the east end of the arcade at the Greyhound Bus Depot.

HELD IN CUBA — Wilson Hall, National Broadcasting Co. correspondent in the Caribbean is being held incommunicado and without explanation by the Cuban government in Havana. Larkspur Council To Consider Fire Chief Pay Raise

Larkspur City Council will consider salary increases for Fire Chief George Bartram and Asst. Chief Claire Harder at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Eleven items placed on the agenda by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler for the Dec. 21 meeting and not disposed of then may come up tonight.

They include a planning program, possible year-end report, report on the North Ridge area, two building code items, Bon Air subdivision matter, report on effect of date change of planning commission meetings, earlier completion of council minutes, earlier closing of council agenda, format of council agenda and a zoning problem.

FOR OFFICES, STUDIOS

San Rafael Schedules Hearing On New Zone

Public hearings on creation of an administrative-professional zone in San Rafael will be held by the San Rafael Planning Commission on Jan. 10 and 24.

This was the decision of the commission last night.

City Planner Donald Newmark said final uses and restrictions for the new zone are still under study but added there "is a definite need for a zone with such facilities, exclusive of general commercial and residential type needs."

The zone would be chiefly limited to offices, studios and laboratories and would follow the county's administrative-professional zone, he said.

Tentative uses include accounting, advertising, legal, medical and dental offices and supplys, art galleries, non profit museums, engineering services and supplies, research laboratories, libraries and reading rooms, photographic studios, radio and television offices and studios, stenographic services and any similar type of administrative and professional use.

Many of these offices would not be the type to locate in shopping centers, Newmark explained.

One of the areas which would be considered for the new zoning is the Marin Professional Center, which was administrative zoned in the county but was changed to unclassified when it was annexed to the city.

Dr. William S. Neal, owner of the Marin Medical Center, has been one of the active spokesmen for rezoning the professional center to administrative uses. (Following his appeal of planning commission action two apartment houses permitted in the center had their use permits revoked last month.)

Newmark said some of the possible restrictions in such a zone now under consideration might be an 8,000 square foot minimum lot size; 35 feet maximum height requirement and 35 to 40 per cent maximum amount of the lot which can be built on.

He said areas where the zone will be applied will have to be decided after adoption of zone after public hearings before the planners and the city council.

Named To PUC

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today appointed George G. Grover, Corona attorney, to the State Public Utilities Commission, replacing Matthew J. Dooley of San Francisco, whose term expires Saturday.

Gate Bridge On Board's Last Agenda

A special session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. tomorrow will fill the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board position held by Leland Murphy of Inverness, which expires today.

The supervisors have not indicated whether Murphy will be appointed for another term.

This presumably will be the final meeting of the present board, including Supervisors Vera Schultz and James Marshall, who will be replaced at noon Monday by J. Walter Blair and George Ludy.

Tomorrow's meeting is without agenda and filling the bridge board vacancy is scheduled as its sole business.

Clerk George S. Jones advised the board yesterday that by law it is necessary to reorganize at noon of the first Monday after the first Sunday in January, which is Jan. 2 in this case.

So the "new board" will meet Monday noon, Blair and Ludy will be sworn in, and without transacting business the board will adjourn to reconvene for its regular weekly session the following morning.

THIEVES TAKE $400,000 FROM FLORIDA VAULT

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Burglars took $400,000 from an armored car service vault but left about $600,000 behind, officials disclosed today.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said the burglary, executed with split-second precision, apparently was an "inside job."

E. A. Rasdale, president of the firm, said the burglary was "definitely" the work of an employee of the Rasdale Armored Car Service or "a former employee."

3 Recommended For Planner Post

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night decided to recommend three men as candidates to fill the commission post of Robert W. Graver, who is resigning Saturday.

Choice among the three would be left to the city council.

They are John A. Estes, surveyor who lives at 154 Hillside Avenue; Dean N. Meyer, insurance broker of 30 Sarah Drive, and Robert C. Mountjoy, architect of 154 Hillside Avenue.

Commission Chairman A. A. Hemmerling presented Graver a certificate expressing the city's appreciation for his service of almost four years.

Church Plea Against Parking Turned Down

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night turned down a request by Rev. Michael Barkowska that Calvary Baptist Church be relieved of offstreet parking requirements.

Neighbors of the church complained about parking in the street in front of their homes. The parking provisions are part of the use permit for the church. A nearby lot has been rented to provide the required parking area, but Rev. Barkowska said the space was not needed.

The commissioners gave architectural approval to plans of Dr. and Mrs. Russell Merret of Kentfield for a drug store and office building next door to 1022 Magnolia Avenue. The Merrets were granted a variance by the city council about 18 months ago to allow them to build in a residential district.

The commission also:

1. Granted a variance to Dr. Harold Lyons to make up for a sliver of his property condemned for the Bon Air Road right of way.

2. Approved a lot split at 26 Sycamore Avenue requested by John P. Lippitt.

3. Appointed James G. Chesnut to the cut and fill ordinance committee.

Commissioner S. W. Eason was absent.

New Larkspur School Gains State Approval

Larkspur School District's contract for purchase of a school site in Mariners Cove for $275,000 from the San Clemente Land Co. has received tentative approval by the State Allocations Board in Sacramento, the district board learned last night.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel said he has received verbal assurance of approval. The state board has authorized the $827,000 school project and set aside $300,000 for the first stage—purchase of the land, site preparation and starting the foundation.

The new school, off Paradise Drive, will have 11 classrooms, two special rooms and administrative offices. The board hopes it will be completed by next October.

The trustees approved a contract with the Town of Corte Madera for a preschool children's playground on the new school site. The town will pay the cost of the apparatus and a fence. It will take 30 to 60 days to order and install the equipment, Seidel said.

Board members reaffirmed support of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission. Seidel noted that the district has budgeted $1,500 for the commission this year, but has to hold back the money until it is determined whether district income will equal estimates. He said this would be known by April.

The board also:

1. Heard the superintendent report he has asked the three parent-teacher association presidents and the citizens advisory committee to name three representatives each to a committee to suggest names for the new school.
2. Approved leave of absence for Mrs. Maureen Allen, fifth grade teacher at Neil Cummins School.
3. Approved replacement of a piano at Neil Cummins School.

Mrs. Pauline Secor and John Boyd were absent.

Mary Lyon, founder of Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass., was the first woman chosen for the Hall of Fame for Great Americans at New York University.

Supervisors Firm On Tower Ruling

Strawberry property owners staged a 10th official "battle of the tower apartments" without notice yesterday before a surprised Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Its only result was reaffirmation of action of a Dec. 13 night meeting when a Samuel R. Neider rezoning request was withdrawn.

Attorney James M. Fletcher, who said he represented "a group of Strawberry property owners," sought reversal of Chairman Walter R. Castro's ruling allowing attorney Bryan R. McCarthy to withdraw Neider's petition to rezone for apartments at Harbor Cove.

Fletcher sought through cancellation of the withdrawal decision to bring a vote on a motion made at almost the same time, by Supervisor Vera Schultz, killing the Neider proposal. This would prevent it from coming up for another two years, whereas withdrawal cleared the deck for a new effort as soon as Supervisors Schultz and James Marshall have been replaced next week by J. Walter Blair and George Ludy.

Fletcher's attempt lost, however, when the board voted 3-2, on motion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, to confirm the withdrawal permission and rule the matter was properly before the board when the withdrawal was allowed. Mrs. Schultz and Marshall voted against the motions.

It was a lawyers' holiday yesterday with fine-drawn legalizing of a sort to befuddle the understanding, and all the attorneys in sight pitching in.

These included Fletcher; McCarthy; Leland H. Jordan, until recently county counsel but leader of the Strawberry forces at the Dec. 13 night meeting, and E. Warren McGuire, who has succeeded Jordan as counsel.

Castro's right to accept the Neider withdrawal was challenged as not backed by a vote of the board. But Castro made the point that he had asked if a vote were needed and his colleagues let him speak for them.

"There was denial of democratic process when one member acted for the board," said Mrs. Schultz of Castro's ruling.

The board of supervisors yesterday also:

1. Received a protest from Marin Municipal Water District over inclusion of district lands in the Ranch Road-Tara Hills Special Assessment District. The water district said it built and maintained the road the special district wants to improve, and should not be subject to assessment for additional improvements. The matter was referred to the county counsel.
2. Appointed Warren Burt senior engineer, Department of Public Works, $401 per month, to fill a vacancy.
3. Designated the Novato Advance as the official newspaper for the county's legal advertising during the next three months.
4. Awarded a $10 safety suggestion award to William C. Bradley, sheriff's inspector, for proposing safety strips on the stairs between the first and second floors of the courthouse at the Fifth Avenue entrance.
5. Voted to install a hand railing in the middle of hte Fifth Avenue stairway entrance to the courthouse.
6. Authorized installation of stop signs in Homestead Valley at Melrose, Evergreen, Ferndale, Scott, Hawthorne, and Linden Lane intersections.
7. Received a report from the county auditor that nearly 37½ per cent of all county employees have been employed for more than four years. The breakdown: Less than one year, 14.2 per cent; one to two years, 18.1 per cent; two to three years, 16.6 per cent; three to four years, 13.7 per cent; more than four years, 37.4 per cent.
8. Accepted a $15 offer from the Las Gallinas Valley Little League for Castro Park, Santa Venetia, to be used for juvenile baseball.
9. Referred to the county administrator a Stinson Beach request for survey of adequacy of garbage disposal, finding that it would require intensive work for 10 to 14 calendar days, for which, as Supervisor Schultz put it, "somebody has to pay the bill."
10. Decided to await action by other affected counties on a request from the directors of Sunny Hills to increase monthly payment for child care from $190 to $227.
11. Belatedly adopted a resolution increasing payment for indigent burials from $200 to $250 in keeping with provision of the last budget, and retroactive to last Aug. 16.
12. Heard from the army engineers that more information was desired as to why the county has opposed extension of George Kappas's time for making Richardson Bay fill, and asked the administrator to press objections based on conflict between the Kappas work and county plans.
13. Approved tentative map of 15-acre Montecito Heights subdivision near Novato.

The 68 million dollar United Nations headquarters was financed by a 36-year, interest-free loan from the United States.

Man Cleared In Wife's Death

PETALUMA—William S. McBee, 53, was released yesterday after an autopsy showed his wife, Hilda, 51, died of natural causes.

McBee had been arrested and booked for investigation of murder after the death of his wife, which followed a beating he allegedly gave her last Friday in the Petaluma trailer court where they reside.

More than 75 per cent of the population in 14 states is now covered by health insurance.

NEEDED BY SATURDAY

United Crusade Asks For Admission Data

Marin agencies not now participating in United Crusade support, but wishing to negotiate on the subject of admission, must give notice in writing by Saturday, according to Harry J. Cooper Jr., president of Marin United Fund.

Mail received next Tuesday, at Marin United Fund headquarters at 801 B Street, San Rafael, Cooper said, will be considered to have been mailed by Saturday, in view of the long holiday weekend.

Negotiation after receipt of such notice, Cooper explained, will be for inclusion in the fall 1961 campaign, for support during the calendar year 1962. Conference during January or February, will be with the 20-member admissions and allocations committee of Marin United Fund, headed by Donald Kreps, principal of Redwood High School.

Probers' Foe Bombed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A two-quart jar filled with gasoline exploded last night at the partment house of House Un-American Activities Committee toe Frank E. Wilkinson.

No one was injured in the blast and flash fire caused by the "Molotov cocktail." Wilkinson, in New York at the time of last night's blast, is field representative of the National committee to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee. He is appealing a one-year jail sentence imposed in 1958 by an Atlanta, Ga., court for his refusal to answer questions about his political beliefs.

Teacher Subject Tests Proposed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A proposal requiring all prospective teachers in California to pass a state examination in subject matter was drafted yesterday for eventual submission to the 1961 Legislature.

The resolution will go before the annual convention of the California State Federation of Teachers this week.

If endorsed by the 100 delegates attending the three-day meeting in Sacramento, the testing proposal would be submitted as a bill to the Legislature.

Maurice Englander of San Francisco, author of the resolution, said today that the San Francisco and Los Angeles districts, with a large number of teacher applicants, already give tests on subject matter.

"This is a recognition that the present credential alone does not signify competence to teach," Englander said.

Like other recent teaching credential proposals of the State Department of Education and the Citizens' Advisory Commision on the public school system. Englander's plan would abolish the present undergraduate major in the methods specialty of education.

But Englander would go a few steps further. His proposal would also require that:

1. All candidates for a teaching credential pass examinations in subject matter, liberal arts, psychology and educational philiosophy, with most weight given exam results in subject matter.

2. All candidates take fewer education courses and get one year of salaried teaching under the direct guidance of a master teacher.

3. Instructors teach only subjects in which they have majored in college.

Lou Eilerman, president of the California federation, said the group endorsed many of the recommendations made by the citizens' commission in a recent report to the Legislature.

Ex-Senator Appointed To Accident Group

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Former State Sen. J. William Beard of El Centro has been named to the State Industrial Accident Commission by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown yesterday also reappointed Daniel F. Del Carlo, secretary-treasurer of the San Francisco Building and Construction Trades Council, to the commission.

Single-Family Zoning Advocated By Planners

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night recommended that Glenwood Unit 4 and Seaview Estates 1 and 2 on Point San Pedro Road be rezoned from planned community to single family residential to conform with the rest of Glenwood.

Commission action followed a no-protest public hearing. The rezoning will go before the city council for a public hearing.

Vote to rezone the three parcels, which lie on both sides of the Glenwood tract, was five to none (Commissioner Mae Zappetini was absent).

Under the special single family residential zoning, the minimum lot size would be 7,500 instead of 5,000 square feet.

Also required are six-foot side yard and 15-foot front yard setbacks except where a driveway and garage are at right angles to the street, when a 20-foot setback is demanded.

Commissioners granted a one-year extension, to Jan. 12, 1962, to the Berkeley Savings and Loan of approval of a tentative map for the 95-lot Seaview Estates 1. After being revised to meet the city engineer's requirements for a sewer system, the map is to be submitted to the parks and recreation commission for its consideration of a park area.

In other action dealing with subdivisions, the city planners delayed for two weeks any action of the tentative map for the 43-hillside lot Westwood Unit 2 development between Hillside Avenue and Ross Valley Drive.

A written report from City Engineer Dominic Selmi said the map showed a street system that could landlock adjacent parcels of land and the development could cause an overloading of drainage facilities on Ross Valley Drive.

The question of drainage liability for the runoff from the 10,000-square-foot lots in the subdivision is being studied by the city attorney, Selmi reported.

By vote of four to none (Commissioner Orlando Conti abstaining), the planners approved a boundary map for almost 12 acres of land zoned for special apartment use along the south side of Nova Albion Way between Las Gallinas Avenue and the Sisters of Nazareth property.

Architect Robert Liles, representing Draper Land Co., told commissioners the original map with all improvements required had been approved but "somewhere along the line someone had dropped the ball" and failed to present the map for final approval.

"We have to file this boundary map (as a final map) before the state land department will issue a permit to develop the land," Liles explained.

Developer Harry Heifetz received approval of three use permits. They include permission for a beauty salon, two unidentified shops and a storage room at 4166 Redwood Highway in the Commonwealth Light Industrial Subdivision, and a restaurant on Redwood Highway frontage road 135 feet north of Professional Center Parkway. Both are subject to construction of curbs and gutters and landscaping.

Heifetz also got commission approval for 25 storage rooms and 11 offices, with a total floor area of 25,684 square feet, in two buildings on Joseph Court in the Commonwealth Light Industrial subdivision adjacent to the Joseph Sauer Firehouse No. 3. The two buildings would have the offices in the front and storage rooms in the rear and would provide 27 parking spaces.

Commissioners approved a permit for the DeWitt Reading Clinic to use a house at 1543 Fifth Avenue for a remedial clinic for children from 7 to 14 years old. The permit was granted subject to approval by the building inspector and state fire marshal. (The clinic has been operating in the house for several months.)

A 34-foot-high Purity Stores sign was approved for the Northgate Shopping Center. The sign, which is little more than half the height of the sign formerly presented by Purity, will be on the corner of Las Gallinas Avenue and Manuel Freitas Parkway.

Commissioners voted to join the Marin County Planning Council, which is being reactivated by planners of the 10 cities and the county itself. Two delegates, chairman Pat Hetherton and Nicholas Dollwet, were selected to attend the first meeting, Jan. 19, at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. Dues will be $25 a year.

Roofer Released In Check Charge

Harold Robert Thadius Goodnough III, 28, a Mill Valley roofer, was released from the county jail yesterday on $163 bail after having been arrested Monday by Sausalito police on charges of making, drawing or passing worthless checks in Sausalito.

Police said that Goodnough, who gave his address as 141 Morningsun Avenue had written a $10 check in August to Purity Stores in Sausalito without having sufficient funds.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

Marin County Sales Well In Front As Business Readies For New Year

Predictions for the new year and the ensuing decade are still rampant, interspread with speculations, ifs and buts. They cover everything from business in general to women's makeup. Speculation stems from uncertainty on what the new administration will do, and conflicting trends.

A new corps of leaders will bring fresh ideas to be tried and tested. They will propose, interpret and administer programs that either directly or indirectly will affect every business and the public at large. Everyone is hoping for remedial measures, business stimulation, employment stimulation, higher benefits or lower taxes—but don't look for any immediate effective corrections. With few exceptions the transitional stage between dominating political influences is not noteworthy for startling changes.

Insofar as Marin County retail sales are concerned, the third quarter of the year (the last comparative breakdown available) placed us well in the running among Bay Area counties with a gain of 3.7 per cent. This was a good 1 per cent higher than the Bay Area average, though Contra Costa, Santa Clara and San Mateo counties were still higher. But higher sales in many quarters were partially offset by lower profits.

REPORTED TRANSACTIONS of trailers, boats, motorcycles and airplanes have been low enough to indicate the consumers are still postponing the purchase of optional goods. For this next quarter, at least, there is nothing to point up an increase. Marin County boat enthusiasts might keep this in mind. You should be able to make some good buys during the next 60 or 90 days.

Among western geographical groupings, businessmen in Northern California and Hawaii are the most optimistic for the next three months, but their outlook is still conservative. "Volume will equal or exceed the first quarter of 1960," is the appraisal of three-fourths of them.

Highest confidence in any group has been expressed by transportation and public utility men.

Consolation for Marin businessmen in general is that the population is still rising and new housing is expected to have better financing. Whether big industry comes to the county or not during the next year, more people buy more goods. But even here there is a leveling trend—it has yet to be determined whether the influx of consumers will outpace an accompanying increase in new retail stores.

FAMILIES STRUGGLING with steep food prices this winter can look for some leveling off in 1961. Beef and veal should be more plentiful and cheaper, but best buys will be in lower-grade, grass-fed beef. Pork is expected to remain high for another six months.

Broilers, fryers and turkeys should be cheaper; eggs will probably remain up; fresh fruits will stay expensive until 1961 crops are harvested in the second half of the year. Lettuce and tomatoes will be higher, but cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli cheaper.

In canned commodities—peas up, but possibly lower prices on beans, spinach and limas. Frozen orange juice will be high.

Blondes and brunettes will be plentiful—and gray hair will be scarcer.

At least, that's the opinion of one cosmetician who predicts that by the end of the present decade, the only woman who won't use hair-coloring will be the woman who uses no cosmetics at all.

County Urged Not To Take Jr. Museum

County Administrator Alan Bruce yesterday recommended against county acquisition of the Junior Museum "at the present stage of development of Marin County."

However, Bruce suggested and the board of supervisors accepted an idea of discussions with the City of San Rafael and with school districts "looking toward a joint powers agreement, to be effective July 1, 1961," to provide for possible operation by the city recreation department with some financial assistance from county and school districts.

He said liquidation of existing indebtedness "certainly should be a prerequisite to assumption of Junior Museum functions by any public agency."

Bruce found that a junior museum is an appropriate city function but that Marin County is not sufficiently urbanized as yet to take on the museum as a feature of a recreation department program.

His report concluded with alternative recommendations, the first being of discussions which Supervisor Vera Schultz supported. The other possibility, not involving the county, is now being considered by the museum board and the Humane Society, said Bruce. It envisages operation as a new and changed program by the Human Society.

Bruce said that if nothing works out and the museum is closed, the county school superintendent would be prepared to have the audio-visual division take custody of some of the museum collections and exhibit materials for classroom study.

Goldfine Hearing Ordered By Judge

BOSTON (UPI)—Federal Judge George C. Sweeney today ordered the U.S. marshal to take Bernard Goldfine into immediate custody and held pending a hearing Jan. 10 on his competence to stand trial for tax evasion.

Goldfine, gift-giving industrialist who figured in a 1958 investigation of influence in Washington, was freed Saturday by Federal Judge George Hart in Washington where the 70-year-old textile tycoon had been held at St. Elizabeth's Hospital under a committment order by Sweeney.

Track Invites Scouts

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — You learn a lot of things when you become a Boy Scout. Take the Scouts in this area, for example. They can spend Saturday afternoon at the Garden State Park, New Jersey's oldest race track. The management invites Girl and Boy Scouts, Cubs, Campfire Girls and Brownies to be its guests.

49ers Only Club Fully Prepared At Pro Football Draft Sessions

HANLEY

Patience in abundant quantity is needed at the annual NFL pro football draft sessions. The only club that enters the sessions properly prepared is the 49ers. All clubs, of course, are equipped with adequate scouting reports, but only the 49ers make their selections without hesitation.

Why? Understandably teams do not want to waste draft choices on a player who won't sign with them. Therefore, they stop the proceedings to make long distance telephone calls to the candidates.

Pappy Waldorf, the 49er talent scout, and his staff take care of the necessary telephoning a week prior to the draft meeting. Waldorf's normal staff consists of himself and his administrative assistant, Roy Gilbert. But for the important telephone work he enlists 49er general manager Lou Spadia, Red Hickey and Hickey's coaching assistants, 49er ticket director Peter Giannini and any other available office hand, such as publicity man Dan McGuire.

THIS YEAR the telephone brigade operated from 49er headquarters because the team was home. Last year, however, the team was in Baltimore a week prior to the 1959 draft meeting. All during Thanksgiving week of '59 Waldorf and his telephone gang ran up a sizeable phone bill from a DuPont Plaza Hotel suite.

Waldorf had all of his files shipped from San Francisco for Operation Telephone that covered 200 possible candidates. Spadia personally talked with each potential draftee after initial contact was made. Everything was ethical and above board.

"WE DON'T know whether we will get you in the draft, but if we do would you like to play for the 49ers?" Spadio asks.

Such preparatory work, if practiced by all NFL clubs, would eliminate tedious half hour and longer delays between each draft choice. Why, for instance, on a first round choice should Baltimore take 35 minutes before voting for Ohio State's Tom Matte? Or 45 minutes elapse before St. Louis announced its first round selection of Auburn's Ken Rice?

There was not a minute's delay as the 49ers selected UCLA's Bill Kilmer, Bowling Green's Bernie Casey and Kilmer's teammate Jim Johnson 1-2-3.

HAD IT not been for the fact that most of the first round draftees were assembled in the East and West camps at Santa Clara and Stanford, the delays in initial choices might have been interminable.

It seems rather silly that NFL clubs will spend upwards of $100,000 throughout the year on scouting reports and wait until the last minute to ask the all-important question "If drafted, will you join the club?"

49ers Gain 'Home Run' Wallop In Draft

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers' three first round NFL draft choices yesterday gave proof that the team is looking for the "home-run" punch it lacked this year.

The Prospectors picked up halfbacks Bill Kilmer and Jim Johnson of UCLA and Bernie Casey of Bowling Green in their first choices.

Besides its regular first-round pick, San Francisco had an extra choice owed from Pittsburgh. Their third selection came after they traded end Dee Mackey to the Baltimore Colts for a first-round selection.

Coach Red Hickey said the team's first three draft choices "were the men we wanted. We went for fast backs because we figure we need them more than any other position."

Concerning Mackey, a promising 225-pound end who snagged 12 passes in his rookie season this year, Hickey said, "When you make a trade to get someone you really want you have to give up something." He pointed out that the team had Monty Stickles to play Mackey's tight end spot.

The addition of Johnson and Casey is expected to give the 49ers much more long-gaining potential. They were two of the nation's top five collegiate hurdlers last year. Both can break loose for the long gainer on the gridiron, and perhaps more important, both are adept pass-catchers.

Johnson is 6-foot-2, 177 pounds and Casey is 6-foot-4, 210 pounds.

Kilmer was a single wing tailback at UCLA, where he led the nation in total offense. He therefore should fit right into Coach Red Hickey's unique "Shotgun" spread offense which relies on a good tailback. Kilmer played "T" formation quarterback before going to UCLA and is also expected to see action there.

Nine draft rounds were held yesterday with 11 more scheduled today.

The 49ers drafted the following men yesterday in rounds two through nine: 2—Rowland Lakes, Wichita center; 3—Bill Cooper, Muskingum back; 4—Aaron Thomas, Oregon State end and Dale Messer. Fresno State back; 5—Bob McCreary, Wake Forest tackle; 6—Mile McClellan, Oklahoma Back; 7—George Hultz, Mississippi Southern tackle; 8—Neil Plumley, Oregon State tackle; 9—Everisto Nino, East Texas State tackle.

Kilmer, Johnson, Casey, Thomas and Messer will perform in Saturday's East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

Before the 49ers' draftees report to the 49er training camp, the Prospectors may have to outbid the American Football League for some of their services.

Most Pro Grid Draft Picks Prefer NFL Over New League

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A majority of the 11 first round National Football League draftees currently on the East and West Shrine squads here indicate they favor the NFL over the new American Football League that drafted them earlier.

Several of the players said they planned to talk with both clubs before making up their minds.

Six of the seven draftees with the East squad appeared to be leaning toward the National Football League. The seventh, tackle Ken Rice of Auburn, who was the No. 1 pick of the St. Louis Cardinals, also was the top choice of the Buffalo Bills of the AFL.

"Frankly, I don't know," Rice answered when asked which team he preferred.

Other first choices with the East are Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback and picked by Minnesota's Vikings as the No. 1 man in the draft; Bernie Casey, Bowling Green halfback picked by the San Francisco 49ers; Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end chosen by the Chicago Bears; Joe Rutgens, Illinois tackle, drafted by Washington; Herb Adderley, Michigan State halfback picked by Green Bay; and Tom Matte, Ohio State quarterback chosen by Baltimore.

In the AFL draft, Mason was picked by Boston, Ditka by Houston, Rutgens by Oakland; Casey, Adderley and Matte by New York.

"I'm glad I was picked by the 49ers," Casey said.

Marlin McKeever, the 1959 All-America end from Southern California, was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams in the NFL session after being picked earlier by the LA Chargers.

"Ever since I was a little boy I wanted to play for the hometown team and that was the Los Angeles Rams," McKeever said. "I am happy to be with them and hope I can make good."

UCLA's tailback Bill Kilmer and wingback Jim Johnson both were drafted by the 49ers which had extra first round choices by trades. Both had been also picked by the Chargers of the AFL.

Johnson, brother of decathlon champion Rafer, said, "Lou Spadia (49er general manager) talked to me and told me they were happy to have me in the organization. It's nice to know that they want me."

Kilmer, the nation's leading collegiate ground gainer, with 1,889 yards, wasn't as definite, saying, "I haven't really made up my mind. I was surprised the 49ers picked me. But I have always wanted to play in the National League. I haven't had any offers from either team, so I'm just going to wait."

The 49ers gave up star rookie end Dee Mackey to Baltimore to get the chance to draft Kilmer.

FORMER MARIN STARS DRAFTED BY L.A. RAMS

Two former Marin County high school football stars were selected by the Los Angeles Rams yesterday in the National Football League's player draft.

They are Willie Hector, guard from College of Pacific, and Reg Carolan, end from University of Idaho.

Hector, former Tamalpais High School lineman, was the Rams' fifth choice. Carolan, formerly of Drake High, was their eighth choice. Carolan, 6-foot-6, 230-pounder, is a "redshirt" because he has another year of college eligibility remaining.

Marciano Named History Maker Of The Century

NEW YORK (AP) — Retired, undefeated heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will be honored as one of the "History Makers of the Century" at the annual B'nai B'rith sports lodge awards dinner here Jan. 22.

The dinner, a memorial to the late Bill Corum, will make special awards to athletes who have been outstanding since the turn of the century.

Among the others who will receive awards are Dr. Roger Bannister, the first runner to crack the four-minute mile; jockey Johnny Longden; pitcher Don "Perfect Game" Larsen; Bobby Thomson, who hit baseball's "miracle 'homer"; tennis star Jack Kramer, and the backfield of the champion Chicago Bears of 1940—Sid Luckman, Ray Nolting, George McAfee and Bill Osmanski.

Giants Slate 27 Games In Pre-Season

The San Francisco Giants will play a 27-game spring exhibition baseball season with games against Cleveland, Boston, the Chicago Cubs and both the Los Angeles Dodgers and the new Los Angeles Angels.

Although the final decision is yet to be made by new Manager Alvin Dark, tentative training plans are for pitchers and catchers to report to Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 22 and the rest of the squad on Feb. 27.

With the exception of two games at Palm Springs against the new Angels of the American League, all the training contests will be in Arizona.

The first will be against Cleveland at Tucson on March 11 with the two clubs playing the next day at Phoenix.

After that the schedule has:

March 13, Angels at Phoenix; March 14, Red Sox at Scottsdale; March 15, Cubs at Phoenix; March 16, Red Sox at Phoenix; March 17, Cubs at Mesa; March 18-19 Indians at Tucson;

March 20, Indians at Phoenix; March 22-23, Angels at Palm Springs; March 24, Cubs at Mesa; March 25, Red Sox at Scottsdale; March 26-27, Cubs at Phoenix; March 28, Red Sox at Phoenix; March 29, Cubs at Mesa; March 30, Red Sox at Scottsdale; April 1, Indians at Tucson; April 2, Indians at Phoenix; April 3, Angels at Phoenix; April 4, Tacoma at Casa Grande; April 5-6, Dodgers at Phoenix; April 8-9, Indians at Salt Lake City.

San Francisco opens its regular National League season against Pittsburgh's World champions in Candlestick Park on April 11.

Drake, S.R. Tam Lose Games To Bay Rivals

Marin County Athletic League basketball quintets "batted" 0 for 3 yesterday in pre-season games with Bay Area rivals.

Drake's Pirates lost a 39-38 heart-breaker to Balboa of San Francisco, San Rafael bowed to Galileo, also of San Francisco, by a 55-31 measure and Tamalpais' Indians took a back seat to St. Mary's High of Berkeley, 59-41.

Drake Coach Carl Brown said his Pirates played their best game of the season in matching Balboa basket for basket throughout the tilt. However, the city boys made the field goal that counted in the final seconds.

Sam Johnson scored 14 points and Mike Bresnan tallied 10 for the Pirates.

Balboa also won the Class B game 37-24.

San Rafael showed the rust from its Christmas vacation as the Bulldogs connected on only 18 per cent of their floor shots. Early season mistakes also were evident as San Rafael dropped behind a 26-13 halftime deficit and 42-20 going into the fourth period.

Richard Robertson was high man for San Rafael with eight.

Bret Tovani tallied 18 points, but his Class B San Rafael teammates lost to Galileo 45-29.

St. Mary's roared off to an 11-4 first quarter lead and Tam never could recover as the Indians showed need of all-around improvement.

Norm Kreuter's 12 points, Connie Hoetger's 11 and Pete Dornbach's 16 rebounds were highlights for Tam.

Marin Youth Wins Award

The Expert Rifleman Medal, second highest award in junior shooting circles in the United States, has been won by Jan Douglas Keizer of 12 Cazneau Street, Sausalito, announced the National Rifle Assn.

Keizer attends Tamalpais High School and is a member of the Marin County Sheriffs Junior Rifle Club.

Moore-Schoeppner Title Go Sought For March 28

NEW YORK (UPI)—Promoter Humbert (Jack) Fugazy flies tonight to San Diego to negotiate for a light heavyweight title fight at New York, March 28, now that he has changed the date of his Miami Beach heavyweight title bout to March 13.

Fugazy, 74, plans to return to New York tomorrow after a San Diego conference with Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore and Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns about a New York title defense against Germany's Erich Schoeppner, champion of Europe.

The promoter did not disclose the proposed New York site for the Moore-Schoeppner fight on March 28, but it was believed he had Madison Square Garden in mind.

Fugazy announced last night that the third title bout between Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson and Swedish Ingemar Johansson would be held at the Miami Beach Convention Hall on March 13 instead of on March 20, as originally announced last week.

There were two reasons for the one-week advance of the heavyweight date: It would prevent a possible conflict in the promotions of the Miami Beach and New York fights, so close together; and it might help the Miami Beach gate by staging the fight before the end-season exodus of visitors had reached its peak.

The Patterson-Johansson fight will be sent by closed-circuit television to theaters and other locations throughout the United States and Canada. But, since the two title bouts will be staged within the same month, the additional cost to theater-TV producers and theater owners for the Moore-Schoeppner encounter would be very small. Fugazy hopes that both bouts will be on theater-TV.

Thumper To Work For Sears As Sports Promoter

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ted Williams, who retired from baseball at the end of the 1960 season, has signed a contract to help develop, test and promote outdoor sports equipment for a Chicago mail order house.

The famed Boston Red Sox outfielder, who built a lifetime batting average of .344, signed a contract yesterday for "more than five years" on a salary basis with the Sears Roebuck and Co.

"This job's right down my alley," Williams said. "I've been hunting and fishing all my life."

Williams, 42, said he will help design, field test and promote outdoor and sporting goods and would travel widely in this country and Canada, appearing at sports shows and camps.

Williams said Sears would become the biggest customer of his own company, Ted Williams, Inc., a fishing tackle firm in which golfer Sam Snead holds a part interest.

Jockey Howard Grant and his agent, Steve Vaonakis, are going into the horse breeding business. They have purchased one share in Sailor's Guide who enters stud next season at Meadowview Farm, Moorestown, N. J.

Grid Club Honors Forest Evashevski

NEW YORK (AP)—Forest Evashevski, football coach at Iowa for the past nine years, is winner of the New York Touchdown Club award for 1960, club President Arlo Wilson said today.

The award is given annually to the person deemed to have done the most for football over a period of years.

Chargers Cooking Up New Strategy For AFL Playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Sid Gillman is cooking up some new offensive strategy for the Los Angeles Chargers in their New Year's Day game at Houston against the Houston Oilers.

At stake is the championship of the American Football League. Houston won the Eastern Division title and the Chargers tied down the Western crown. The teams met three times this year. They split two regular season games and the Chargers took their first game, played during the exhibition stage.

Los Angeles is placing considerable emphasis on improving the blocking for its fleet Paul Lowe, leading ground gainer of the team. His sweeps and cutbacks spearheaded the Charger ground game this season.

Jack Kemp, Charger quarterback who led all others statistically in the AFL, figures to wage a stirring duel in the air lanes against Houston's veteran, George Blanda, who formerly called the signals for the Chicago Bears.

Dick Sisler, whose 1950 home run won the National League pennant for the Phils, will coach with Cincinnati in 1961.

Italy Foils Aussie Sweep In Davis Cup

SYNDEY, Australia (AP) — Neale Fraser's game knee went bad on him today and Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli pulled out a last match singles victory which foiled an Australian sweep of the Davis Cup Challenge Round.

Playing in top form and fighting for every point, the baby-faced Roman defeated Australia's limping Wimbledon champion, 11-9, 6-1, 1-6, 6-2, after Rod Laver had given Australia its fourth straight point by cutting down the giant Orlando Sirola, 9-7, 6-2, 6-3.

This made the final score of the series 4-1 in favor of the Australians. There were 5,000 empty seats in the 17,000-capacity White City stands for the final two matches which had no way of reversing the result.

The Cup was clinched by the Aussies yesterday, giving them the trophy for the ninth time in the last 11 years.

Shortly before taking the court against Pietrangeli, Fraser disclosed that doctors had suggested an operation on his knee which buckled on him in the practice week before the challenge round.

Even though hobbled, Fraser mustered enough fight to take the third set with the loss of only one game when Pietrangeli relaxed the pressure.

Norcal Quints Dominate West Coast Cage Tourney

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There will be four northern California quintets in the semi-final round of the West Coast Athletic Conference Basketball Tournament.

San Jose State stunned last year's champ, Loyola of Los Angeles, 53-51, and St. Mary's slipped past Fordham 75-74 in WCAC tournament play at San Francisco.

In the WCAC semi-finals tomorrow night, St. Mary's battles San Jose and Santa Clara engages host USF.

Center Joe Braun paced the San Jose5s Spartans to a semi-final berth and dashed Loyola's hopes of two straight WCAC tourney titles. The Spartans grabbed the lead with nine minutes to play and held off the threatening Lions. Braun scored 12. Ed Bento of Loyola tallied 14 and Jerry Grote had 13 for the Lions.

The Fordham-St. Mary's tilt was tight all the way. The Gaels moved in front after four minutes of the second half and though the Rams stayed with St. Mary's, the New Yorkers were never able to grab the lead again. Tom Meschery scored 28 for St. Mary's. Sophomore Bob Melvin, an agile 6-4, scored 25 for the Rams.

UPI Selects All-Stars In American League

U.P. INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Abner Haynes, the Dallas Texans' versatile 185-pound halfback, was the outstanding choice today on the first American Football League All-Star Team selected by United Press International.

The Houston Oilers, who won the Eastern Division title, placed five players on the 22-man, two-platoon squad selected for UPI by the votes of 24 writers —three from each league city.

The Los Angeles Chargers, whom the Oilers meet in the championship playoff at Houston next Sunday, were represented by four players.

Haynes was one of nine first-year professionals who won All-Star honors following the AFL's maiden season. The 15 other players had previous experience in either the National football league or the Canadian league.

Haynes, who led the AFL in rushing and in punt returns and also ranked among the top 10 players in pass receiving, kickoff returns and scoring, polled 23 of a possible 24 votes.

Ron Mix of the Chargers, a rookie offensive tackle from Southern California, was the second highest vote-getter with 18, while the next most popular choice was Bud McFadin, the Denver Bronco's 280-pound defensive tackle playing his fifth season of pro football. McFadin polled 17 votes and offensive end Lionel Taylor of Denver had 17.

Besides Haynes and Mix, the first-year pros honored were: Bill Groman, Houston offensive end; Rich Michael, Houston offensive tackle; Jack Davis, Boston Patriots guard; halfback Paul Lowe of Los Angeles; fullback Dave Smith of Houston; defensive end Mel Branch of Dallas, and linebacker Paul McGuire of Los Angeles.

Four positions on the first team were decided by a margin of one vote. In the close offensive races, Groman edged Don Maynard of the Titans at end, and Michael beat out Jerry Cornielson of Dallas at tackle. On defense, Torczon and Branch, each with 10 votes, poled one more than Paul Miller of Dallas at end, and Matsos Barely beat out Sherrill Headrick of Dallas as the middle linebacker.

Voters were required to differentiate on their ballots between middle and outside linebackers.

Haynes, who played his collegiate football at North Texas State, was a "one-man gang." He led the league in rushing with 875 yards in 156 carries for an average of 5.6 per try and in punt returns with an average of 15.4 for 14.

He also caught 55 passes for a total of 576 yards to rank fifth in that department, carried back 19 kickoffs an average of 22.8 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

More Golfers Make Money On Pro Tour

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — About 40 golf professionals on the tour are making "at least" $20,000 a year, former PGA champion Bob Rosburg said today.

"And the tour in 1961 will be richer than ever," he added. "It will be better organized. The golf tour now is big business."

Rosburg, chairman of the PGA rules committee, thinks there is nothing like the golf tour for a young man looking for an exciting, healthy, money-making fututre.

"The official winnings for Arnold Palmer this year show he has made around $75,000," says Rosburg. "But recently he told me he would gross closer to $150,000.

"Ken Venturi won $45,000 'officially', but his gross for the season will be about $80,000.

"And look at me. I haven't won a tournament all year. And my official earnings have been set at around $15,000. But I'll come close to $50,000. Of course,, I won $18,000 on TV matches."

When Rosburg, who won the National PGA championship in 1959, turned pro in 1954, there were only about 20 men making a "good living" on the tour.

"But you could say that at least 30 make a very good living now," he says, "and at least 40 are making better than $20,000 per year."

At the ripe young golf age of 34, Rosburg isn't about to settle down to the rocking chair.

"I'll stay on the tour until I'm 38 or 40," he says. "Then I'll take a job as a club pro. I expect to stay in golf as long as I live."

The some-times hot-tempered man with the baseball grip on his club thinks the caliber of youngsters coming up in the golf game is as good as ever—if not better.

"We have young lads like Bobby Nichols of Texas, Dave Hill of Denver and Jon Gustine of Gladwyne, Pa., who will be the greatest of the future. Every year some kids come along who show great promise."

Some 24 teams took part in this year's Christmas Basketball Tournament Sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department and held at the San Rafael High School gymnasium.

Winners in the various age groupings were as follows: 18-and-under, MarVel Athletic Club; 16-and-under, San Rafael High School Pistons; 14-and-under, St. Raphael's; 12-and-under, St. Raphael's.

First and second place finishers were presented with trophies, announced Dennis Sullivan of the department.

Huskies, Gophers Rated Dead Even

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rose Bowl writers and amateur kibitzers taking part in the annual pre-game guessing party rate Minnesota and Washington virtually dead even.

A ballot at the football writers' luncheon yesterday showed 56 votes for Washington, 54 for Minnesota and three for a tie.

The point spread for Washington ranged from one to 32; for Minnesota from one to 19.

Professional oddsmakers have Minnesota a 6½-point favorite.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Fishing Spotty, But There Are High Hopes For Radical Improvement

STEVENS

It is 1:30 p.m. Christmas Day. Ernie Titus of Point Arena, and his brother-in-law, Milton Iverson, just drove up to their house with two nice steelhead they took in the Garcia.

I quizzed Mrs. Titus on the streams conditions in that section of the country.

"All the streams; the Gualala, Garcia, Navarro and the Fort Bragg streams are in A-1 condition. Not too many fish being taken, though. Yesterday practically no fish were landed in the Gualala, although conditions were okay. Not too hot on the Garcia, either. I lost a nice one and Ernie never had a hit. Much better today, Ernie just called out to me," she replied.

That on-the-spot report was about on a par with the word from the Navarro and the Fort Bragg streams. As for the Russian—sorry! I have no dope.

As most of you know the Russian is the last river along the north coast to return to normal. Could be that by the time you read this it will also be in prime condition. Always provided there are no hard rains in that sector.

AT THE PRESENT time, prospects for a continued spell of clear weather look good, but don't bank on it. Get in touch with someone who is on the spot, or call your weather bureau for what has happened, is happening or is expected to happen only a few hours before you shove off from home and family.

Mind you, never judge weather and water conditions either north or south of the Gate by what is taking place hereabouts.

I was asked to report on what's doing in the Inverness Area — Tomales Bay and Papermill Creek, so I called a man who should know — Davis Campbell of the Golden Hinde Boats at Inverness. First about steelhead:

"NO, STEVE, not yet. Probably next month, but nothing doing at present." About Salmon — "We expect there will be another run of salmon later on, but nothing now." Striped bass — "Prospects are good at present. The herring are again in the Bay. Some very large stripers are contesting the birds and the seals for the little fellows. One of my regular customers reported hooking two huge fish while trolling, but lost them both. Exceptionally large bass, apparently."

So that's that. Best appraisal would be to call all fishing spotty at present, with high hopes for a radical improvement.

Local fishing for stripers, flounders and catfish can be rated generally good. The upper San Pablo Bay has been yielding some nice catches — limits and near limits. The back country has been hot one day, only lukewarm the next day. Catfishing, especially for a number of East Bay anglers, has been about perfect for quality and quantity.

JOE NAVARRO of the C. V. Sportsmen's Center called to report that Don Pereira and Manuel Silva displayed 30 catfish weighing a total of 36 pounds — some 2½ pounders. L. Pilkington and son, Ronny limited with big cats the same day, and Katherine and Al Duerta fished the Old River Mecca and accounted for 12 fish each from two to three pounds.

Some fair catches made in Franks Tract and Big Break with fish to 12 pounds reported. John Rodriques and son Larry took a 17 and a 22 pounder near West Aisland near the Antioch Bridge. Correction: Larry took the big ones. Daddy John's top fish was a 12-pounder.

Charles Timental called to report a congestion of geese in the Colusa area at present. Charlie took an easy limit. Bob Preston and L. Foster reported limits of ducks taken recently out of Hastings Slough in the Suisun Bay. Other reports on ducks in the Napa Marshes and the upper San Pablo Bay were rather pessimistic.

Pardon me, please. I was just called for Christmas dinner. See you on Thursday. Until then, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Coaches Tardy To Gophers' Practice, Players Fine 'Em

PASADENA (AP) — Minnesota football players gleefully "fined" Coach Murray Warmath and four assistants $5 for showing up late for practice yesterday.

The staff was delayed at a luncheon and arrived several minutes after the scheduled 2 p.m. starting time.

"We're a democratic outfit," Warmath explained later. "I asked for a show of hands on whether the coaches ought to be fined, and everybody's hand went up. We didn't have much of a defense.

"We're going to pool our interests," he said, "and bet on a long shot at the races."

Detroit Lion Wins 1961 Rookie Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gail Cogdill, a six-foot-two, 190-pound offensive end who caught 43 passes for the Detroit Lions, today was named the 1960 National Football League Rookie-of-the-Year by United Press International.

The 23-year-old former Washington State Star, who possesses all the qualities for becoming a star end in the N. F. L., received 17 votes in a poll of 39 writers—three from each city—who covered league games.

Halfback Tom Moore of the Green Bay Packers and fullback Ted Dean and linebacker Maxie Baughan, key operatives in the Philadelphia Eagles' march to the Eastern Division title, each received four votes.

Guard Mike McGee of the St. Louis Cardinals and end Dan Colchio of the San Francisco Forty-Niners each had two votes and six other players each got one vote in the wide-open balloting.

Cogdill, a native of Spokane Wash., got his chance to play in the Lions' second game during past season — against the Forty-Niners — and he made the most of it by catching eight passes for 115 yeards.

"That gave me a big lift, knowing they had that much confidence in me," said Cogdill. "From then on I had all the confidence in myself I needed."

Army Aide Named Coach At Cornell

ITHACA, N.Y., (UPI)—Tom Harp, backfield coach at Army, today was named to succeed George (Lefty) James as head coach of the Cornell University football team.

Harp, 33, will be the youngest head football coach in the Ivy League. He is expected to assume his new duties Jan. 5 and should assemble his staff of assistants within three weeks.

James was fired as head coach following the Thanksgiving Day Cornell-Pennsylvania game, which ended one of the Big Red's worst seasons.

OUT OF THE OLD SOUTH is this delicious recipe for Creole Shrimp Jambalaya. Explore the myriad possibilities of shrimp in cans for easy main dishes the entire family will enjoy. So, in your pet recipes calling for cooked shrimp, just switch to canned. And canned shrimp will substitute smoothly in most of those conversation-piece dishes created for the fresh or frozen product.

So Easy, So Thrifty With Canned Shrimp

Would you like to serve shrimp often at mealtime and feel that you were minding the budget, too?

Then explore the myriad possibilities of shrimp in cans for easy main dishes the whole family will enjoy.

Canned shrimp, you'll discover, is a most convenient, affordable source of this most popular of the shellfish.

It is not a new product by any means. Actually, in this, the 150th year of the faithful tin can, we learn that shrimp were first canned commercially 93 years ago.

First methods were crude, of course, and the shrimp were cleaned by hand. Well and good for 1867, but it was not until a mere decade ago that the costly chore of peeling and deveining shrimp by hand began to be taken over by automatic machines. Modern methods have made all the difference in the happy emergence of canned shrimp from an occasional treat or a party tidbit to a practical choice in meal planning.

A little flexing of the imagination will show what a good thing comes in this small package. You will find more individual shrimp packed curve to curve in those small-seeming cans than you'd imagine until you count them. By weight, you can figure, for example, that it requires at least one pound of whole, unpeeled fresh shrimp to fill the flat, familiar 4½-ounce can of deveined shrimp.

All sizes, from colossal to tiny, are available in cans. There is no waste, so a can or two of any size shrimp can be made to go a long, long way in putting together main dishes which will be hearty, satisfying family affairs.

The trick is to team them with favorite extenders such as rice, noodles, and all the shapes and kinds of pasta. Serve them with vegetables—squash, eggplant, okra, corn. Heap them in avocados and other natural cases such as large onions, tomatoes, sweet pepper. Cream them, curry them, serve them endlessly in casserole. Or send them to the table a la Louisianne, as in jambalaya, gumbo, shrimp creole.

For practical purposes, canned means cooked. So, in your pet recipes calling for cooked shrimp, just switch to canned. And canned shrimp will substitute smoothly in most of those conversation-piece dishes created for the fresh or frozen product.

2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp
½ pound diced hot sausage or ham
2 tablespoons shortening
½ cup chopped green onions and tops
1 cup diced green pepper
3 cloves garlic, chopped
¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup uncooked rice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
1 teaspoon crushed thyme
1 bay leaf

Drain and rinse shrimp. Saute sausage or ham in shortening about 2 minutes. Add onions, pepper, garlic and cook until tender. Add remaining ingredients and shrimp. Bring to a boil and reduce to low heat. Cover closely and cook without stirring for 30 minutes, or until rice is fluffy. Serves six.

Lamb Riblets

NEW YORK (UPI)—Molasses lamb riblets are a broiler dish you can make in 15 minutes. Mix ⅓ cup of molasses with 2 tablespoons of vinegar, 1 teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, and ½ teaspoon of thyme. Brush 1½ pounds of lamb riblets with sauce, and broil 5 to 7 minutes on each side 3 to 4 inches from heat source. Brush with remaining sauce before broiling second side.

Ring Out The Old, Ring In New Year With Cranberry Recipes

When the New Year arrives cranberry harvest time is over . . . but fresh cranberries still brighten the fresh fruit counters at local stores.

So ring out the old year with an old favorite . . . rib roast of pork. Ring in the new year with a sensational stuffing to make the pork a crowning touch on your table. The tang of the cranberry is the perfect flavor mate for meat. Use ready mixed bread stuffing or day-old bread cubes in making stuffing for your rib roast. Take your pick of the following. . . .

CRANBERRY APPLE STUFFING

1 (8-oz.) package ready-mixed bread stuffing
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
½ cup hot water
½ cup fresh cranberries, chopped
½ cup finely chopped apple

Combine stuffing, sugar, salt and poultry seasoning. Melt butter in skillet. Add onion and cook slowly 5 minutes. Add with water and fruits to bread mixture. Toss lightly. Use as stuffing in slits between chops or rib roast of pork. Cover meat with Cranberry Glaze 30 minutes, before meat is done, basting several times.

CRANBERRY GLAZE: Combine 1 cup fresh cranberries, ¼ cup water, ½ cup light corn syrup. Cook over medium heat till berries are soft.

CRANBERRY STUFFING

1½ cups fresh cranberries
½ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
4 cups bread cubes
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon marjoram
¼ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup dry white wine

Coarsely chop cranberries. Melt butter in large skillet. Stir in onion and bread cubes. Stir constantly over low heat for 5 minutes. Mix sugar, marjoram, thyme, salt and pepper together. Add with chopped cranberries to bread mixture. Mix well. Press into buttered baking dish. Pour white wine over mixture. Bake one hour in 325 degree F. oven. Place stuffing in wedges beside roast of pork or atop baked pork chops.

Here's another specialty to ring in the new year. Frosted cranberries make a most delicious snack. Each shiny red berry looks frosted with snow. They'll be favorites any time of the day . . . a healthful treat to be served as a confection atop cakes and cookies or as a nibbler. Store them in gay apothecary jars.

FROSTED CRANBERRIES

1 egg white
½ teaspoon water
1 cup fresh cranberries
1 cup granulated sugar

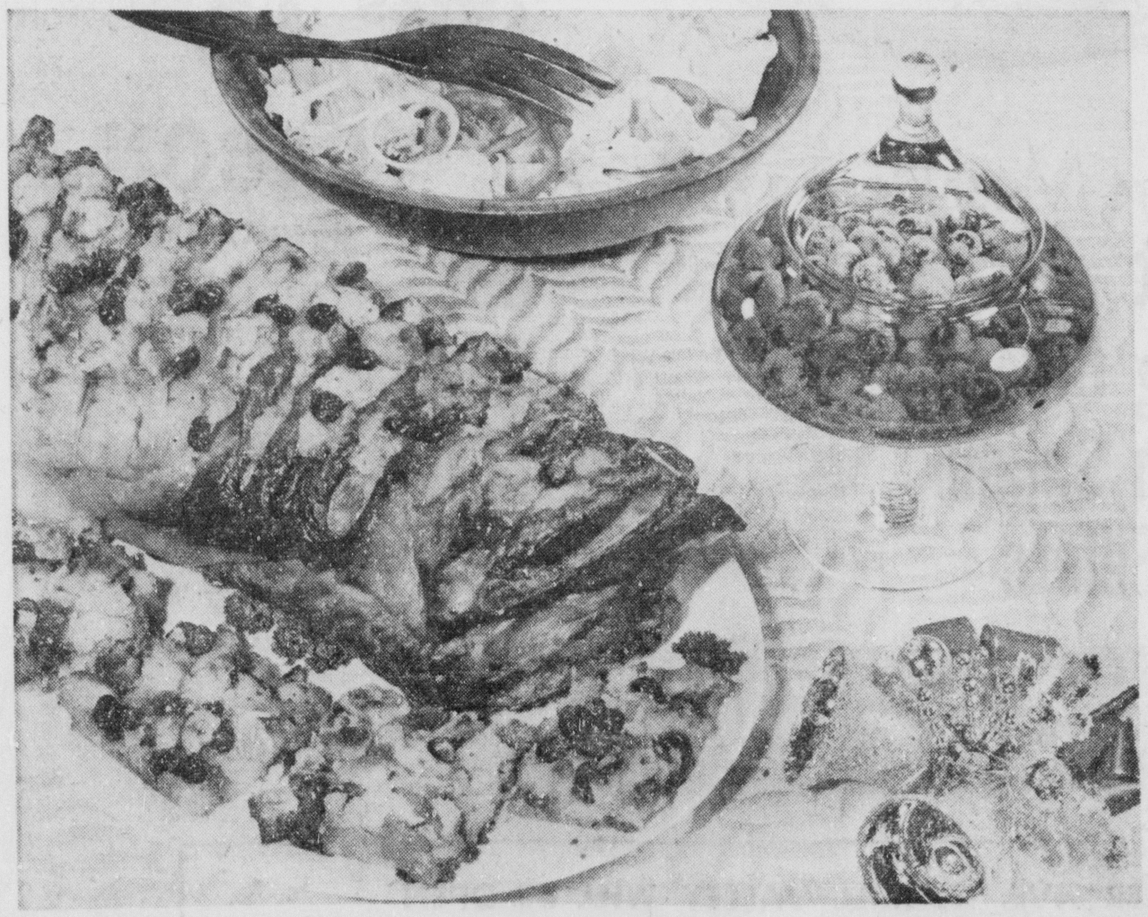
Lightly beat egg white and water together until just blended. Dip cranberries in mixture until completely coated. Roll in sugar. Let stand until dry at room temperature. Store in refrigerator.

With canned cranberry sauce, you'll like this meat relish. . . .

SHARP 'N SPICY CRANSHIRE RELISH

1 (1-lb.) can jellied cranberry sauce
½ teaspoon seasoned salt
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
Dash of red pepper

Beat jellied cranberry sauce until smooth and velvety. Stir in remaining ingredients. Heat and serve with meat. Makes about 1 pint.



SPECIAL FOR the New Year are two new Cranberry ideas Cranberry Stuffing for a roast pork and Frosted cranberries. Bedecked with snow these cranberries make a perfect confection for cakes and cookies or a healthful nibbler between meals.

TEA FOR A CROWD

Finger food!
Tea Sandwiches Canapes
Stuffed Celery
Salted Almonds
California Fruit Bars Tea

CALIFORNIA FRUIT BARS

3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
1 cup butter
1½ cups firmly packed dark brown sugar
¼ cup honey
4 eggs
Fruit mixture
1 cup chopped walnuts

Grease 2 jelly roll pans (15 by 10 by 1 inch). Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda and spices. Cream butter, sugar and honey; beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, then fruit mixture and nuts. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cool in pans on wire racks; cut into bars about 2 by 2 inches. Makes 80.

FRUIT MIXTURE: Mix 2 cups raisins (rinsed in hot water, drained and coarsely chopped), 1 cup soft dried figs (cut in small pieces) and ½ cup each candied cherries, lemon and pineapple; add ¼ cup sherry. Let stand several hours.

Tasty Snack

NEW YORK (UPI) — Puffed rice balls make a tasty snack for teen-agers. Measure 5 cups of puffed rice into a shallow pan and heat 10 minutes in 350-degree oven. Pour into a large greased bowl.

In a double boiler, melt ⅓ cup of butter or margarine, ½ cup of peanut butter and ½ pound of large fresh marshmallows (about 32), stirring occasionally. Pour this over puffed rice, stirring until evenly coated. Grease hands and mold coated cereal into 12 balls, using whole marshmallows as cores. Cool and wrap in foil.

Some Famous Old Dishes Of Virginia

Savoy Biscuit—One quart of flour. One pound of sugar, eight eggs, beaten separately and one fourth of a pound of butter. Roll thin, cut in rounds or squares, and bake in a quick oven. These are very nice to serve with coffee or wine. If desired, a little grated nutmeg and cinnamon can be sprinkled over the cakes before baking.

Arlington Tea-Cake — One pound of flour, one pound of sugar, one half pound of butter, two eggs and one and one-half teaspoons of cinnamon. Mix the butter and sugar, then the eggs and lastly the flour into which sprinkle the cinnamon. Roll thin, cut with a cake cutter, glaze each cake with the beaten white of egg and sprinkle nutmeg and cinnamon over them. Bake in a moderately quick oven.

Sweet Potato Pudding—Roll and mash two pounds of sweet potatoes. While hot stir in three fourths of a pound of butter; add six eggs, beaten separately, one pound of powdered sugar beaten into the yolks, and the juice and grated rind of two lemons. Bake without a paste in a buttered dish. Serve either hot or cold. It is best when served with currant jelly, preserved damsons or any acid jam or preserve.

Queen Charlotte Pudding—One pound of flour, five eggs, three fourths of a pound of sugar and one half pound of butter. Mix like a cake and just before baking add one small teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one teaspoonful of vinegar.

Sauce for the pudding: Cream one half pound of sugar and one half pound of butter; add the yolk of one egg well beaten and the grated rind and juice of a lemon. Set it over the fire, and stir until hot; grate in a little nutmeg.

Good Suggestions For Punch Bowls

Holiday time is here, and with it a succession of open-house parties and fireside camaraderie. Rod and Charlotte Strong, of the newly-established Tiburon Vintners, have several suggestions for punch bowls, using California wines, both white and red.

(Tiburon Vintners' special "Christmas Punch" is guaranteed to chase away that holiday hung-over feeling, and if taken generously the night before, will never let that ouch feeling get started in the first place.)

CHRISTMAS PUNCH

2 cups California Port wine
½ cup lemon juice
1 (6 oz.) can frozen orange juice concentrate
1 cup sugar
1 4/5 qt. California Burgundy or other Red Table Wine, chilled.
1 large bottle sparkling water, chilled.

Combine Port, lemon juice, frozen orange juice concentrate and sugar in a punch bowl. Stir until orange juice concentrate is completely thawed and sugar is dissolved. Pour in Burgundy and sparkling water. Add a block of ice or a tray of ice cubes. Serve at once. Makes about 3 quarts.

CALIFORNIA WINE PARTY PUNCH

2 (6 oz.) cans frozen orange juice.
2 (6 oz.) cans frozen lemonade concentrate
2 bottles (4/5 qt. each) California Sauterne, chilled
2 large bottles sparkling water, chilled
Berries or sliced fruit for garnish

Mix frozen juices with wine and blend until smooth. Just before serving pour in sparkling water. Add ice cubes or block of ice. Garnish with berries, cherries, or slices of orange, lemon or pineapple. Makes about 40 three-ounce servings.

MULLED WINE

Dissolve 1 cup sugar in 4 cups water in large saucepan. Add peel of ½ lemon and 18 whole cloves. Boil 15 minutes. Add 2 large (4/5 qt.) bottles California Burgundy or Claret; heat gently. Do not boil. Serve hot in preheated mugs or cups. Garnish each with cinnamon stock, to use for stirring. (This recipe makes about 20 servings.)

Rosy Peach Garnish

Rosy, piquant peaches make gay trimmings for your holiday turkey or goose. Prepare them ahead of time and keep in refrigerator until the festive day. Stick whole cloves into canned cling peach halves. Measure ½ cup syrup from peaches. Combine with ½ cup EACH water and sugar and ¼ cup EACH red cinnamon candies and vinegar. Simmer about 5 minutes, add peaches and simmer about 10 minutes longer. Add few drops red food coloring, if needed. Use chilled peaches to decorate meat platter, or fill with whipped cream cheese as dinner salad.

Cheetham-Champlin Wedding Held In Community Church

Mill Valley's Community Church with its Christmas decor was the setting for the marriage Friday evening, Dec. 23, of Mrs. Betry Mee Champlin of Mill Valley and Jack Willis Cheetham of Columbus, Ohio.

The double ring rites were performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Samuel A. Wright Jr. of the Unitarian Church of Marin.

When the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Fraser Bradford Champlin of Petaluma, she was wearing a street length dress of olive green organza over taffeta fashioned in shirtwaist style with three-quarter sleeves. Her hat was of silk ribbon matching her dress and she carried a bouquet of holly.

Matron of honor Mrs. Theodore Voyvodick of San Francisco was attired in a brown brocade sheath and matching hat, and gowned identically was the maid of honor, the bride's older daughter, Sally Champlin of Mill Valley. Her younger daughter, Mimi Lizette Champion of Mill Valley, wore a street length chocolate pink formal with jacket and beige hat. All attendants carried bouquets of holly.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of W. P. Cheetham of New Straitsville, Ohio, was the bride's son, William Bradford Champlin of Mill Valley, and showing guests to their seats were Rolland McCready of Stinson Beach and Theodore Voyvodick of San Francisco.

Miss Jan McCready of Stinson Beach sang "Love Walked In" by Gershwin, and Mrs. John Barnard played a medley of Christmas music on the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception for some 40 guests was held at the couple's home, 31 Longfellow Road, Eenchanted Knolls, Mill Valley. It was decorated in a Christmas theme.

The new Mrs. Cheetham is a native of Alameda and was graduated from Mills College.

Her husband attended Ohio University and was employed in industry in Columbus five years. He served with the United States Armed Forces in Korea. His one sister is Mrs. L. S. Holst of Little Rock, Ark.

Novato Scouts Pay Visit To Atomic Plant At Vallvicitos

Senior Girl Scout Troop 345 and Explorer Post 56 of Novato enjoyed a trip to Vallvicitos, the experimental atomic plant operated by PG&E and General Electric Co., recently.

Fifteen Senior Scouts and 20 Explorers traveled by chartered bus, accompanied by Misses Barbara Mugg and Jo Cheney, leaders of Troop 345, and Robert C. Beebe and Doug Johnston, advisors of Post 56.

Their guide explained that Vallvicitos, which is Spanish for "little valley" and located between Pleasanton and Livermore, was the first privately financed atomic plant in the entire world. The plant has the Atomic Commission License No. 1, of which they are very proud.

PG&E produce 5,000 kilowatts of electricity from atomic energy, which is transmitted for use in the local area. The two companies built the plant largely as an experiment, to iron out any engineering and scientific "bugs" which may exist. As a result, PG&E is now building a plant in Eureka, similar to Vallvicitos, which will produce electricity on a competitive basis with oil and gas.

The group especially enjoyed seeing how the surrounding area was checked for radioactive material, and how the atoms were actually transformed into energy to produce electricity. They learned that within the foreseeable future, cities, factories and private homes would enjoy many benefits of atomic energy at inexpensive rates.

The students, interested in learning about future careers in this field, were told that a shortage now exists in engineers, lab technicians and scientists in the field of peacetime atomic energy uses.

The trip was arranged through the courtesy of Lee Wise, manager of the Novato Branch of PG&E.

Two Couples Host Party For Students

The junior day students of Dominican Upper School presented their Christmas dance at the San Rafael Yacht Club on San Pedro Road. The gala affair was on Thursday evening, Dec. 22. The festive decorations carried out the theme "Christmas Carousel". The 20 couples were hosted by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hartmann and Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Boss.

Belrose Dancers Conclude Shows With A Party

Dancers and entertainers from the Belrose Dance Studio have had a busy Christmas season doing many benefit shows.

A show was presented at the County Hospital in Lucas Valley to start off the season.

Entertainers next performed for the Safeway Employees Childrens' Christmas Show. The Marin Rod and Gun Club welcomed the entertainers and dancers for their annual Christmas show and Santa Claus was there to present them with gifts. This busy season next found some of the Belrose Dancers performing in the Christmas program sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department.

In all the benefit shows many fast moving tap numbers were performed — several pantomimes and the ballet "Hansel and Gretel" was presented.

To round out this festive series of performances and shows the Belrose Studio had a Christmas party on Dec. 22, with 100 children attending.

GALA HOLIDAY PARTY FETES MARIN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

A gala Christmas party and dinner were given recently at Maria's Pueblo in San Rafael by the Drake Diplomats of Sir Francis Drake High School for the exchange students in Marin County. Maria's Pueblo is under the management of Frank Gargiulo whose brother, Michael A. Lopez of the Drake High School faculty is a member of the school's American Field Service Committee. He is now leading a tour of teachers through Mexico.

Games were played and Christmas carols sung. A highlight of the party was the breaking of the pinata by Chuck Katungi, a Redwood High School exchange student, whose home is in Uganda, East Africa. Other exchange students present were: Alkis Mangriotis of Greece; Ahmet Guciuyener, Turkey; Amparo Huici, Spain; Linda Speh, France; Jacques Delaquroix, France; Roger Smeet, Belgium; Ricardo Gallo, Chile and Charo Lorca, Spain.

More than 50 guests attended the affair including American "brothers and sisters" of the exchange students, Drake Diplomats officers, Mike Ungersma, president; Debbie Rossman, vice president; Leslie Smith, secretary; Mrs. Donald W. Robinson, adviser of the Drake Diplomats and Joseph D. Gargiulo of Novato High School, representing his brother, Michael Lopez, and Mrs. Gargiulo.

Hobby Show At Hospital With Party

A special hobby show was held by talented personnel at Marin General Hospital in connection with its annual Christmas Party Thursday Dec. 22 in the annex at the hospital.

Attracting much attention was a ceramic display by Russell Brown, chief laboratory technician. Lafayette Ottinger, surgery technician showed some fascinating driftwood which he collects along the beaches from here to Oregon.

One of the most interesting exhibits included several baby crib coverlets created by Carol Ild, R.N., who weaves designs in old curtains.

An example of beautiful hand knitting was shown by Nancy Rake, assisting admitting officer; Elinor Welzin, assistant dietitian, showed several of her paintings; Al Carpenter, Licensed Vocational Nurse exhibited an upholstered chair; and Mrs. Alice Shepley, chief PBX operator, showed a picture painted by her son, William McEvoy as well as a mosaic which she had done.

Lodge Card Party

Mt. Tamalpais Lodge No. 399 IOOF and Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 will give a public New Year's Eve card party at the temple in Mill Valley starting at 8:15 p.m.

Refreshments will be served afterward. In charge are Richard Bennett and Mrs. Clifford Spinney.

Caroling Groups Add To Gaiety During Holidays

Caroling groups added to the gaiety of the Yuletide Holiday at Marin General Hospital with their joyous voices. Ten Blue Birds, under the leadership of Mrs. W. C. Nuckolls of Mill Valley, sang at 4:15 p.m. on Dec. 18.

The Freshman Sodality Group from Marin Catholic High School sang on the evening of Dec. 22 at 7 p.m. Sister David Emanuel was in charge. A group of 25 girls from Job's Daughters sang at 8:30 p.m. on that same evening under the leadership of Mrs. James Ricksecker, of Belvedere.

On Christmas Eve sixth graders from Fairfax, under the leadership of Mrs. Betty Hutchinson of Fairfax, caroled for the hospital patients. Mrs. Hutchinson incidentally is a former Marin General Hospital nurse.

Many more groups offered to carol at the hospital but, due to tight scheduling, it was impossible to accommodate all those who wished to add joy to those hospitalized during the holiday season.

Gains, Losses In Many Fields Marked Woman's World 1960

By MARCIA MILANOWSKI

CHICAGO (UPI) — Women wrote a major chapter in the history of 1960.

The names that stood out as the first year of the new decade ended included Jacqueline Kennedy, Princess Margaret, Pat Nixon, Queen Elizabeth, Barbara Powers, and Queen Farah Diba.

They were central figures in election campaigns, in royal births and marriages, and international incidents.

There were pageantry and simplicity, hope and the end of longing in the walk down the aisle of Westminster Abbey for Britain's Princess Margaret. The girl just about everyone had relegated to spinsterhood married a commoner and former photographer, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Escapades of heiress debutantes sparked the flame of romance in adventurers around the world. Gamble Benedict and ex-chauffeur Andre Porumbeanu, 35, finally said "I do" in a North Carolina town after a hide-and-seek elopement to Paris and a tug-of-war battle with Grandmother Benedict, the power behind the Remington typewriter fortune.

Nanette Wallace married her soldier from North Carolina with the blessings of her mother, but only after an elopement from France to Germany. Miss Wallace's mother, Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, is the ex-wife of millionaire Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.

Queen Elizabeth gave Britain its second royal prince, the first to be born to a reigning British monarch in more than a century. Queen Farah Diba of Iran presented the Shah with his first son, and the throne with its next heir.

Princess Michiko of Japan gave birth to her first child, also a boy.

King Baudouin, the bachelor monarch of Belgium, surprised royal matchmakers by taking a Spanish bride, Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon. The beloved Princess Suga of Japan married a commoner.

America's queens made headlines, too. Skating star Carol Heiss won a gold medal at the Winter Olympics and later her fifth world figure skating title; negro athlete Wilma Rudolph became the new queen in women's track, taking three gold medals in Olympic contests in Rome.

LOVELY QUEEN

A lovely queen from Montague, Mich., took the Miss America crown. She's 18-year-old Nancy Anne Fleming.

In politics Pat Nixon launched a campaign of her own for First Lady, but lost out to 31-year-old Jacqueline Kennedy. In November, Mrs. Kennedy gave birth to her second child and first son, John F. Kennedy Jr.

Maurine Neuberger won her late husband's senatorial seat in Oregon. She'll be on the opposite side of the aisle from Margaret Chase Smith, Maine Republican, who was reelected after a historic race with another woman, Mrs. Lucia Cormier. It was the first time in history two women competed for a Senate seat.

In Ceylon, Mrs. Sirima Bandaranaike, 44, was elected premier, the first woman in history to hold such a post. She succeeded her husband who was assassinated.

May day, and a fateful mission, the haunting story of a pilot's wife—Barbara Powers, wife of the U-2 pilot sentenced to 10 years of hard labor in Russia after being convicted of espionage. The 26-year-old Georgia woman was plummeted into an international spotlight that dimmed only when the goodbyes were said in a dark and bare Moscow prison.

Space news took a woman's turn with adventurous Jerrie Cobb. The slender 29-year-old blonde from Oklahoma underwent a series of physical and psychological tests, similar to those taken by seven male Astronauts.

Mrs. Jane Baldasare, the 24-year-old housewife from New York, set a new world's underwater endurance record, but failed in two attempts to swim the English channel underwater endurance record, but failed in two attempts to swim the English channel under water.

It took Dr. Barbara Moore 85 days, but the 56-year-old British vegetarian walked from San Francisco to New York on a diet of grass juice and fruit. Dr. Moore hoped to break the cross country walking record, but fell behind two British servicemen by 18 days.

In Hollywood, these names were in the news:

MOVIE MARRIAGES

Cheryl Crane, the teenage daughter of actress Lana Turner, twice tried to escape from the school for wayward girls where she was committed for supervision. Her mother marked 1960 with her fifth marriage, to wealthy rancher Fred May. Other movie marriages included Nancy Sinatra and Tommy Sands; Sandra Dee and Bobby Darin; Debbie Reynolds and Harry Karl; Swedish actress May Britt and Negro singer Sammy Davis Jr.; actress Jill St. John and Lance Reventlow, only son of dime store heiress Barbara Hutton, and John Barrymore Jr. and Italian starlet Gaby Palazzoli.

Parted were Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller; Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger; Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier; Laraine Day and former baseball manager Leo Durocher; Mamie VanDoren and bandleader Ray Anthony; Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

Deaths in 1960 included Emily Post, the etiquette expert who gave her blessings to doughnut dunking as long as it was informal; Diana Barrymore, 39; former actress Clara Kimball, 70; Mrs. Elivera Doud, 82-year-old mother of Mamie Eisenhower; actress Margaret Sullivan, and Sylvia Pankhurst, British crusader for women's rights, 79.

But probably the death that stunned the world most, and the world of women particularly, was that of movieland's king, Clark Gable, who died of a heart attack at the age of 59.

Michaeline Mealman Bride Of Don W. Allison Of San Anselmo

In a recent candlelight ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, Michaeline Mealman of Kentfield became the bride of Don Wheeler Allison of San Anselmo.

For the 8 o'clock ceremony, the altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums, holly and Christmas greens.

Rev. John Riley was the officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mealman of Kentfield. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Allison of San Anselmo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white satin fashioned with a portrait neckline and long, tapered sleeves. The lowered waistline formed a drape in the back accented with four Dior roses. Two panels extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl tiara and she carried white roses on a white prayer book.

Mrs. Philip Bates of San Anselmo was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Allison, Mrs. Roger Murphy and Miss Judy Cox. Little Deborah Bates, the bride's niece, was flower girl. They wore sheaths of red velvet styled with portrait necklines, short sleeves and Empire waistlines. A Dior bow centered the bodice. They had white fur muffs centered with holly sprigs and red streamers.

David Allison was best man for his brother. Ushering guests to their seats were Ronald Markson, Donald Lazzarini, and Robert Barossi, all of San Anselmo.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mealman wore a beige lace sheath with short jacket, matching accessories and white orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom chose blue chiffon with pastel flowered hat and matching accessories. Her flowers were white orchids.

For a wedding trip to Las Vegas, the bride wore a mink brown suit with black accessories, emerald green hat and black Persian lamb muff.

The bride was graduated from Tamalpais High School and College of Marin. She studied two years in London at the Oxford School of Languages. Mrs. D. L. Clifford of Arlington, Mass., and Mrs. Bates of San Anselmo are her sisters. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. O'Neil of Huntington Beach and Mrs. Dorothy Smith of Richmond are her grandparents.

The benedict was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin. He is now a student in political science at San Jose State College. His fraternity is Sigma Phi Epsilon. He is the grandson of Mrs. G. B. Waterman of San Rafael.

The newlyweds will reside in San Jose.

FRIGHTFUL FORECAST

Population Of Future: Five Gals For Two Males

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A couple of Houston doctors believe that the day will come when there will be five women to every two men.

The two put in a couple of comforting "ifs," however—if, the standards of living today continue, and if the human life expectancy hits 100 years.

The doctors, in a recent medical publication, pointed out that as the life expectancy gets longer, there are fewer and fewer men around.

"After a lifetime of struggle, the man just wears out faster," observed Dr. Homer Taylor, a general practitioner.

"It's a man's job in most instances to keep things together, both at home and at his job," Dr. Taylor said. "He generally bears the financial responsibility for keeping the home running and sending the kids to school."

A good deal of the blame, said Dr. Taylor, can be put on feminine shoulders. He said too often a woman's "ambition will drive a man to his grave."

But on the other hand, he said, man't life expectancy is shorter also because he doesn't take care of himself as a woman does.

"Men don't go to the doctor's office for check-ups as often and they don't follow doctor's orders when they do," he said. "And a man doesn't pay as much attention to his diet as a woman does."

Dr. Robert Norris, a gynecologist and co-author of the medical publication, stated flatly that "the female definitely is the stronger sex."

"She can withstand many things that a man cannot," Dr. Norris said. "There is a theory that female hormones are probably a detterent factor in coronary cases."

He said that four times as many men have heart trouble as women and that there definitely is more lung cancer in men than women.

Humor Tinged Reports When Jackie Covered Inauguration

By PATRICK YOUNG

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy will watch her husband take the oath of office as the 35th President of the United States on Jan. 20, only eight years after she covered the first inauguration of President Eisenhower as a combination reporter-photographer-artist.

Her name was Jacqueline Bouvier then and she was working for the Washington Times-Herald.

A warm winter sun flooded the Inauguration day crowd as she moved through the streets, recording her impressions with ink drawings. The following day, her story and art work appeared and graphically captured the Inauguration day spirit. Her drawings included a woman eating a box lunch ,a dancing Indian and a dignified, homburg-wearing diplomat buying a hot dog.

"Jackie" was only 23, but in the year she had been working for the paper, her "inquiring camera girl" feature had become well known in the capital.

CUB REPORTER

It seemed strange that the girl who had been voted the "most beautiful debutante" of 1948 in Newport, R.I., and New York, would become a cub reporter.

But Jacqueline wanted to become a writer, even at $42.50 a week.

As inquiring photographer, she asked some questions which were to become important to her in later years. They included: "Should a candidate's wife campaign with her husband? Do you think Inauguration day should follow closer upon election day? How does a candidate's looks influence your vote?"

Among the people she interviewed were Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, Mrs. Morris Cafritz, Washington hostess, two of Mamie Eisenhower's nieces — and the man she later married. Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Senate's then most eligible bacheior.

Her camera and note pad recorded the views of Nixon and Kennedy in 1953 when she asked them about the Senate pages. She also asked the pages about the senators.

"I would predict that some future statesman will come from the ranks of the page corps," Vice President Nixon told Jacqueline Bouvier. "I notice that they are very quick boys, most of whom have a definite interest in politics."

"I've often thought that the country might be better off if we senators and the pages traded jobs," Kennedy said.

Said Jerry Hoobler, a page, "Senator Kennedy's always being mistaken for a tourist by the cops because he looks so young. The other day he wanted to use the special phones, and they told him, 'Sorry, mister, but these are reserved for senators'."

Jacqueline also interviewed Nixon's daughter, Patricia, shortly after her father was elected Vice President.

"What do you think of Senator Nixon now?" was the question.

ALWAYS AWAY

"He's always away," answered Miss Nixon, then 6. "If he's famous why doesn't he stay home?"

Jacqueline ended her reportorial career shortly before her marriage to Kennedy with coverage of Queen Elizabeth's coronation in June, 1953.

She returned to the United States and on Sept. 12, 1953, she married John F. Kennedy in one of the biggest society weddings of the year.

A short time ago, a reporter asked Mrs. Kennedy if she had really written the column herself.

"Listen, I wouldn't sign my name to anything I didn't write," she said flatly.

SYMPHONY FOUNDATION TO FETE MAESTRO, MRS. ENRIQUE JORDA

As musicians practice long beforehand to polish their performances, smart party planners review their plans in advance to assure perfection. That's why hostesses for the annual San Francisco Symphony Foundation reception for members and honoring Maestro and Mrs. Enrique Jorda and members of the orchestra at the San Francisco Museum of Art on Saturday, Jan. 6, will attend an advance briefing session at the San Francisco home of Mrs. L. H. Garland on the preceding Tuesday morning, 10 a.m., Jan. 3.

Marinites includes Mesdames William L. Hilliburn Jr., Carl Brown Jr., George E. McKenna, Gregory F. Sheehan, Edwin Sinclair, Henry Grandin Jr., John Munson, Robert Johnson, Douglas Ballinger, J. R. Hoffman Jr., and Herbert Hanson.

Husbands of many of the hostesses will serve as hosts. Gregory F. Sheehan of San Rafael is chairman of the men's committee. Also aiding will be Drs. John J. Piel, Bernard M. Kramer, and Philip S. Boone.

The reception, a colorful social event, is one of the benefits of membership in the Symphony Foundation, of which James H. Schwabacher Jr., is president.

Driving Tips Enhance Chance Of Staying Alive

NEW YORK (UPI) — Statistics show that highway accidents increase in winter months.

To increase plublic awareness of winter driving hazards, the makers of one anti-freeze (Prestone) sent two auto safety bandwagon teams across the country this fall to promote highway safety.

Here are some of the experts' tips to help you stay alive this winter:

—observe the speed limits set by law, by road and weather conditions and by common sense.

—don't drive when you drink.

—pass only on straight, level roads when all is clear both behind and ahead.

—be especially careful on icy or snowy roads.

—don't get into races or any kind of driving game. Remember that driving is a serious business and that showing off is foolish—and often fatal.

Dieting Trims Some Food Sales

NEW YORK (UPI)—The diet-conscious housewife has altered radically the pattern of food sales in the last 30 years.

Louis Stein, president of Food Fair Stores, Inc., said sales of meat, fish and poultry are up 25 per cent in that period, and citrus fruits are up 50 per cent. Sales of cereals, flour and potatoes have declined by more than 30 per cent.

Weighty

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 112-pound woman exerts as much as 4,000 pounds of pressure per square inch when she walks in shoes with metal tipped stiletto heels.

Don't Overheat Or Drown Your Holiday Plants

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heeding a few tips will prolong your enjoyment of the poinsettias, azaleas and other plants brightening your house during the holiday season.

Most professional growers ship gift plants in porous clay pots to insure plants of the highest quality. But if you have received a holiday plant in a thin-wall, nonporous container, transfer it to a clay pot to preserve its health and beauty.

Horticulture experts say that over-watering is a leading reason behind the premature death of plants. One rule of green thumb gardening indoors is to water all your plants at the same time daily until water runs out of the drainage hole in the bottom of the clay pot.

Overheating is the second greatest hazard to holiday potted plants. Keep them away from radiators or other heat outlets. Open the window in a nearby room during the sunny period of the day to freshen the air.

Yule Party Highlights Lodge Meet

Highlight of the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley was the Christmas party held in the Odd Fellows Hall after noble grand Mrs. Eldora Clinton conducted a brief business session.

The program presented under the supervision of Mrs. Herbert Maxey consisted of carols sung by members of the lodge led by Mrs. Myrtle Dahl, a Christmas story told by Mrs. Marguerite Carpenter, a poem recited by Herbert Maxey and a skit entitled "Addressing Christmas Cards" enacted by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes.

David Dodds dressed as Santa Claus then gave each member an exchange gift.

Decorated Christmas trees were placed in front of the four officers' stations in the hall, and bells were hung from ribbons on the stage curtains.

Dining tables were decorated with Christmas sards covered with clear plastic and with angels, churches, Christmas trees, snow flakes and candy canes.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames Herbert Maxey, R. W. McAnally, Clifford Spinney and Mrs. Carpenter.

Mrs. Foster Lawrenz, vice grand of Tamel Rebekah Lodge of San Rafael, was the distinguished guest of the evening.

Dame Fashion Dimples Floors Of Huge Planes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dame fashion in her spike heels has given one maker of jet planes a flight problem not covered in engineering manuals.

Boeing Airplane Co. reported that the women created it when they started treading jet floor panels of traditional aluminum honeycomb.

Each slim heel on the shoe of a 110-pound female delivered an impact considerably in excess of 2,240 pounds per square inch.

The floor panels, designed several years ago before the advent of the needle heels, had withstood streams of pedestrian traffic.

But the punishing jabs of the new heels broke the edges of the honeycomb cells just below the contact surface. The surface of the sub-flooring was found punched with dimples.

Instead of trying to change fashion, the maker of planes developed new spike-heel resistant floor panels which will replace the honeycomb panels on 707 jets in production.

Designers say they should last about eight times as long as the honeycomb panels.

American Airlines, a firm with 33 of the jets in service, said it costs about $200 to replace each damaged panel of aluminum.

Janina O'Hanrahan To Marry July 15

A romance that began last year in Mexico is revealed by the announcement of the engagement of Janina Helen Winter O'Hanrahan and Everado Rodriguez Ruiz, formerly of Guanajuato, Mexico, now of San Francisco. The engagement was announced by the bride-elect parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seamus O'Hanrahan of San Francisco.

Janie as the bride-elect is called, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wess of San Anselmo and the reception will take place at their home following the wedding on July 15 at St. Anselm's Church in Ross. Janie is the sister of Bridget Jane O'Hanrahan and Tighe Roderick O'Hanrahan. She attended Dominican Convent in San Rafael, the Verde Valley School in Sedona, Ariz., and will graduate in June from Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Everardo is the son of Senor and Senora Everardo Ruiz Ocampo and the brother of Senora Carmen de Machuca, all of Guanajuato, Mexico. He attended prep school in Guanajuato, and was graduated in 1957 from the University of Mexico's School of Electrical Engineering. He is a member of the Mexican Society of Mechanical Engineers. He worked in Mexico for the Mexican government but is now an electrical engineer with the Coast Guard in San Francisco.

Furniture Fashions Reflect The Past

CHICAGO (UPI) — Furniture fashions did some extensive growing up in 1960 and showed signs of continuing to mature, both in comfort and style, in 1961. Many changes reflected the influence of the past.

Case goods grew as tall as antiques, took on curves and became more conventional, if not downright traditional. Upholstered goods, too, borrowed from the best of the past. The result was furniture without the austerity of early modern.

More important, virtually all furntiure showed better design in 1960. Quite possibly for the first time, really good designs were available in all price ranges, and most furniture collections were pieces styled to go together without looking alike. The once standard suite of matched furniture was conspicuous by its absence for popular-priced collections.

Signs of the times reflected in furniture ware the continuing trends toward space-saving sectionals, double-duty pieces, durability, and foreign influence.

The taller, narrow look of chests, cabinets, bookcases, breakfronts and room dividers evolved from the trend to space saving, but also paved the way back to traditional shapes for furniture.

Curves took contemporary furniture still further along this road. Designer Edward Wormley tapered the backs of contemporary chairs and cantilevered the arms of sofas. Lawrence Peabody designs followed suit with flared sofa arms and gently curved sofa backs, reminiscent of the Regency and and Empire periods.

More traditional touches turned up in other collections — rosewood insets in the walnut tops of tables, ornate antique brass hardware, round dining and occasional tables.

The foreign influence aided the return to elegance. From the Italians came straight fluted legs; from the Spanish, filigreed iron and brass hardware on a rural English collection. Reproductions of French and Italian Provincial furniture as well as early American designs continued to gain in popularity. Exotic imported woods—teak, rosewood, zebrawood — came into vogue.

Space-saving, most evident in tall, narrow case goods, also took the forms of wall-hung and shallower furniture. Most spectacular of the wall-hung furniture was a collections of cabinets, bookcases and a desk mounted on strips of molding called a "space wall." Metal knobs on the backs of the units fitted into key-like holes running along the molding, permitting the units to be shifted into different arrangements.

Sectional furniture, both upholstered and case goods, continued popular. One new case goods collection, designed by Sanford Wallack included 54 styles of chest, cabinets, bookcases and desks, all scaled to fit together, side by side, or one atop the other.

Upholstered sectionals went to any length by adding or subtracting wedge-shaped ottomans at one end.

Georgia Stapleton's Betrothal To Rudy Tulipani Announced

The engagement of Georgia Ann Stapleton of Ross to Rudy L. Tulipani of San Rafael was announced on Christmas Day at a family dinner party given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. Raymond Vizzard in San Francisco.

Georgia is the daughter of Mrs. Vizzard and the late George Stapleton. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of Arizona where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi. She has one sister, Mrs. Thomas Morrison of Ross.

The bridegroom to be is the son of Jack Tulipani of San Rafael. A graduate of San Rafael High School, he attended San Francisco City College and San Francisco State College. He is a vice president of the Marin Title Guaranty Co. of San Rafael.

A wedding is planned after Dr. and Mrs. Vizzard return from a trip to Central America in the spring. They leave by freighter on Jan. 20 and will return about six weeks later after touring Central America.

Trouser Fads

Underpinnings for trouser fashions come from an underwear firm that has developed a new process of full-fashioned knitting. The process makes it possible to produce a skin-smooth pant in three lengths. For wear under shorts and jamaicas, there's the brief. For perfectly smooth fit under bermudas and brief skirts, there's the trunk model. And the medium tight model underlines, without a wrinkle, stretch pants, toreadors and culottes.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Contemporary builders are taking a leaf from the books of ancient Greeks and Persians in the use of ceramic tile for exteriors as well as interiors of home.

Many of the most beautiful homes of ancient times in Greece and Persia had dazzling facings of ceramic tile. Today's builders are using tile for the outside of homes in decorative applications that are also practical. Tile requires little upkeep.

It's Time To Put Public On Regulatory Boards

State boards and commissions exist, really, only for one reason: to serve the public.

They have no authority nor power except what's granted by "we the people."

This is all part of the idea of "the consent of the governed," which is the keystone of our American form of self-government.

But do these state boards and commissions always keep this obligation to serve all the public foremost in mind?

Many of the things they do indicate that they occasionally forget the public at large.

Within the framework of the State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards there exist a number of boards to regulate and police their respective professions.

Among these, for example, is the State Board of Pharmacy. It is composed of seven members, all pharmacists.

There isn't a lay person representing we the people on the board. We the people have no one's ear.

We members of the drug-buying public are stuck with whatever the pharmacy board decides, whether it serves the best interests of all the people or not.

And the pharmacy board is no different from other state boards and commissions made up of special interest membership with close ties to respective special interest groups like the druggists' association.

We first discussed this situation in this space last May.

At that time we concluded:

"What's the solution? How can we the people get back our voice in affairs affecting our interests?

"Our suggestion is for the governor to appoint some 'public' members to these special boards and commissions.

"If three or four of the seven pharmacy board members represented the drug-buying public (instead of just drug sellers), we the people would be adequately represented.

"We could be sure that our interests would NOT be ignored."

Since that time, Governor Brown has upon occasion endorsed the idea of 'public' members of state boards and commissions.

So has the governor's Consumer Counsel. She (Mrs. Helen Ewing Nelson of Mill Valley) has mentioned the need for having consumer-public representation.

And our own Senator McCarthy of Marin County has expressed an interest in introducing legislation to provide for lay public representation on the regulatory boards in the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

Let us hope that the interests of the governor, his Consumer Counsel and our Senator McCarthy are strong enough to bring action at the forthcoming session of the state legislature.

EXPERT READ WRONG METER

An irate taxpayer sent in a speedy complaint to the local sanitary commission when his monthly water bill was four times the usual amount.

To his embarrassment he learned that it was his own fault. When sending in his regular report, he had read the gas instead of the water meter. He was billed $107 instead of $28.

To his greater embarrassment was the fact that he himself was an official of the sanitary commission.

Anyone can make a mistake, but it always hurts when we blunder in a field in which we are supposed to excel. Only then do we realize that even our strong points need an occasional sharpening.

The best way to keep on guard is to go back to basic principles: God, our fellow men and ourselves.

If we are powered by the determination to make our lives an endless service of others, even our weaknesses begin to take on new strength.

"Gladly therefore will I glory in my infirmaties, that the strength of Christ may dwell in me."

(2 Corinthians 12:9)

Keep us on the high road to heaven, O Lord, by a careful regard for our duties.

'Twas The Week After Christmas And Life Gets Sort Of Sluggish

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happened to "Jingle Bells?"

There was a tune that was sweeping the country from coast to coast last week. But it seems to have died out in the last couple of days. Maybe too much over exposure.

"Have a nice Christmas?" asks the pretty secretary, returning to work a day late from the holidays.

"No thanks!" grumbles the office grouch. "Just had one."

An unknown virus of lassitude sweeps the nation between the departure of Santa Claus and the arrival of the New Year.

It is the week of "the great letdown." Everybody rests on his ears in the doldrums of desire.

No one wants to sing a carol. No one yearns to throw a snowball. Life settles down into a vast sluggishness of mind and body and spirit. It becomes a big fat yawn.

Everyone is seasonally worn out from welcomes and wassail and turkey and pudding and good will and shopping and opening packages.

Everyone secretly wants to crawl into a cocoon and dwell there and dream there until the first robin of spring blows his rusty bugle.

Who wants to be up and doing?

At home the housewife takes a longer afternoon nap on the couch than usual. In the evening she sits and stares at the winking, blinking Christmas tree, which has already begun to shed its needles. She knows she should be scribbing Happy New Year cards to the people she forgot to send Christmas cards to, but somehow she doesn't feel quite up to it.

AT THE OFFICE you'd have to fire a 21-gun salute throughout the day to keep the staff awake. The tasks they now spend all week postponing they'd ordinarily romp through in half a morning any other time of the year.

THE BOSS IS in the same fix. He knows he ought to be planning the firm's progress in the year ahead, but he doesn't want to.

Ennui holds the race of mankind from its usual promise. It is easier to postpone everything than to do anything.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

More To Lose Than Two Books

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Congratulations on your recent editorial condemning the book-banning efforts of the Rev. Michael Barkowska and his fellow-clerics.

As a Presbyterian minister for nearly 20 years and the father of two girls who look forward to attending high school in the Tamalpais District, I want our school libraries to be stocked with realistic, mature and compassionate novels such as Of Mice and Men, and The Catcher in the Rye.

Steinbeck and Salinger are using language appropriate to the characters they happen to be portraying. They are not "using the name of the Lord in vain." By contrast, Barkowska & Co. are "using the name of the Lord in vain" in a destructive way—by trying, in His name, to curtail His gift of freedom.

This is again a case of "a foot in the door" which must be stepped on firmly every time it appears, lest our schools lose a great deal more than just two fine books from their library shelves.

Return The Bridge To The People

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Golden Gate Bridge has ever been a happy hunting ground and gravy train for men of position, wealth, and influence. These men have been appointed bridge directors usually because they were "names," and, it seems, because they could lend some sort of dignity or class to the bridge setup.

What has been the record of these men of prominence in the Golden Gate Bridge directorship? It need not be repeated here as it is a matter of continual newspaper report and comment. It can be said that the directors have not impaired the mechanical operation of the bridge. The galling thing is that their stewardship has been chiefly notable for its consistent and stubborn determination to waste toll money.

And, like true, arrogant bureaucrats, these directors evidence eminent and, at times, violent indignation when anyone has the audacity to question their flagrant disregard for prudence in the handling of that public money.

So, how about it? Let's give our Golden Gate Bridge back to those who are paying for it, "Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen." Let's appoint men and women to the bridge directorship who are dedicated to public service, who are dedicated to operating the bridge as a public utility, and not as an instrument of personal glory and aggrandizement, and not as a private empire for the chosen, favored few. These men and women need not be "big wheels" or "names." They need be only honest, sincere, reputable citizens.

Our County Boards of Supervisors are empowered to appoint Golden Gate Bridge directors. All of us residing in the bridge district should contact our supervisors, urging them to help return our bridge to us.

Still Small Voice In Wilderness?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Is Rev. Barkowska the still, small voice in the wilderness, crying out for the purity of our children's minds? Is it the only one?

Judging by the recent I-J editorial, the pseudo-intellectual attack in Carleton Williams' column, the Letters to the Editor and some news articles, one would certainly think this was so. Personally, I have questioned the apparent bias of the I-J, but was assured that they have always presented both sides of every question fairly.

In our recent election a very noisy minority insisted that we should not use the taxpayers money to prevent tooth decay in our children. If parents wanted this treatment, they should pay for it themselves.

Now, another minority group (or is it the same one?) is insisting that the taxpayers money SHOULD be used to INSTILL decay in our children's minds!!

Regardless of what the adult taste for literature might be, we should not lose sight of the fact that the trustees are selecting the reading material for children. Legally, they are dependent upon their parents for support and it will be another three years after they leave high school that they will be considered old enough to assume legal debts, handle liquor, or cast a ballot.These children do not —and because they lack the maturity—cannot read these books with the same maturity of mind as can an adult.

I would hope that the Tamalpais Union High School District trustees could somehow, somewhere find some literature more suitable for our children when it is our tax money that they are spending.

Those who wish their children's minds to be rotted and decayed with filth and smut and godlessness can follow the example of Carleton Williams who stated in the Dec. 16 I.J.: "There are only eight more days until Christmas and I must remember to buy a couple of copies of John Steinbeck's Of Mice and Men and J. B. (It should have been "D.") Salinger's Catcher in the Rye for my teen-agers."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Fritz Loewe, composer of "My Fair Lady" and "Lancelot," was so impoverished in the Depressed Thirties, that he couldn't pay a $12 installment on his rented piano. When three stalwarts arrived to repossess the instrument, Loewe pleaded, "Let me play just a little longer on it." So the three men sat down on the floor while Loewe gave them a concert of Beethoven and Chopin. When he stood up, the men did too, then reached into their pockets and gave him the 12 dollars that enabled him to hang onto the piano for another month.

"Only in America," insists Loewe gratefully, "could such a thing like that happen."

Historians insist a teacher reminded his class, that the British lost the Revolutionary War battle of Saratoga because their dapper General William Howe chose to remain in Philadelphia. When one of the students, therefore, was asked to explain Britain's defeat at Saratoga on his final examination, he wrote simply, "Lack of no Howe."

"The beatnik," rejoices Burton Hillis, "is rapidly going the way of the American buffalo—to which he bears a strong resemblance."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Guide Tells Teachers All Sorts Of Things That Parents Should Know

San Rafael city schools administrators are great believers in the precept, "get it down in writing." They therefore keep the mimeograph machines busy turning out a steady stream of guides, outlines, reports, etc., for use of personnel in the city schools.

One of the most interesting is a 16-pager issued recently, entitled, "Parent Conference."

The very first paragraph of this bulletin contains a sentence which deserves recognition and repetition:

"Sometimes, quite unconsciously, our role as teacher, the importer of knowledge, the instructor, the teller, can pervade all of our relationships and we tend to treat everyone as children."

REMAINING PAGES of the bulletin contain much sound advice on avoiding the dictatorial approach and arriving at a meeting of minds with the parent called for conference with her (or sometimes his) child's teacher.

Only once, that I discovered, does it contradict itself.

"Don't bring the I.Q. into the conversation, as this information is strictly confidential. Any test results must be handled very, very carefully."

BUT THE REALLY fascinating portion of the bulletin, to the non-teacher, is contained in a checklist of "How Can the Home Supplement the Elementary School?" credited to one Albert Grant, coordinator of curriculum in Inglewood schools.

It is suggested that the parent can help the child in language in these ways, among others:

"Teach child to use the telephone courteously and correctly. Help child to learn suitable ways of introducing people."

Both these seem to be good things for a parent to teach a child, but their value in language instruction escapes me.

To help the child in arithmetic, it is suggested that the parent "enable children to get much first-hand experience with arithmetic terms as larger, smaller, double, thirds, quart, inch, square, round, etc."

THE CHILD'S science studies will be helped, the list suggests, by teaching him how to care for pets. To advance him (or her) in arts and crafts, the child should be given a part in selecting his (or her) own clothes.

In that strange assortment lumped together as social studies, it is suggested: "Help the child learn to know the civic life of his community by taking him on trips TO SEE SUCH PLACES (my capitals) as the Post Office, City Hall, Police Station, Library, State Employment Office, Bureau of Motor Vehicles." ("Look, junior, that's the post office; now you know how the mail is distributed.")

THE LIST ALSO suggests that the parent help the child to understand the school report cards. From discussions heard at meetings of the San Rafael Board of Education, I think someone needs to explain the present report cards to the teachers.

Anyhow, I am somewhat at a loss as to why Mr. Grant's five-page list of suggestions for parents was included in a bulletin distributed only to teachers.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Dillon's Acceptance Of Treasury Post Bodes Well For Economy

WASHINGTON—The dominantly conservative hue of the Kennedy Cabinet is inconsistent with only part of the Democratic platform.

True, the national platform offered the voters large spending programs which Richard Nixon and President Eisenhower could fairly argue would put the government perilously in the red and spur more inflation.

But the Democrats also pledged a balanced budget, except under two conditions —a national emergency or acute recession.

Sen. John Kennedy repeated this qualifying commitment—that increased federal spending must be kept within a balanced budget under all but the most extenuating circumstances — many times during the campaign.

THEREFORE, THE moderate complexion of the Cabinet reflects the President-elect at two central points:

His intention to defend the soundness of the dollar as the touchstone for all other measures.

His recognition that the new administration must unite a country divided right down the middle by the closeness of the election.

This is why Kennedy did not put professional or intensely partisan politicians in any of the three critical Cabinet posts — State, Treasury, and Defense.

This is why two of these three Cabinet positions went to highly respected middle-road Republicans — Douglas Dillon at the Treasury and Robert McNamara at Defense.

FROM A POLITICAL standpoint, Kennedy's appointment of a top Eisenhower official as his chief fiscal adviser, and Dillon's acceptance are disconcerting to some Republicans, including President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower felt that for Dillon to move from Under Secretary of State in his administration to Secretary of the Treasury under Kennedy could blur the issue of "fiscal responsibility" as between the two parties.

Dillon could say with careful precision—and he would not misquote the President—that Eisenhower expressed no "objection (to his taking the Treasury appointment) if I felt that this was something which would be in the national security interest of the country and if we were to work toward a sound fiscal policy as is the case."

But the Eisenhower-Dillon conversation went beyond this point. My information is that the President made two main points:

THE PRESIDENT counselled Dillon against accepting the Kennedy appointment lest it blur the issue of fiscal responsibility. Eisenhower hoped that Dillon would be identified with the progressive leadership in the Republican party during the next years.

He also said that if Dillon felt it his duty to serve as Secretary of the Treasury in the national interest, the President would want him to decide for himself.

Nixon agreed with the President and warned Dillon against being "used" by the Kennedy administration unless Dillon felt he was responding to a real emergency call.

Dillon acted on his own judgment. And when he said on the now famous Georgetown steps that we (Kennedy and himself) are "to work towards a sound fiscal policy as is the case," this could only mean that Dillon had a firm assuranace from the President-elect on fiscal policy and that their views were parallel.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 28, the 363rd day of the year with three more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1832, Vice President John Calhoun resigned — the only vice president ever to do so.

In 1856, Woodrow Wilson, the 28th president of the United States was born in Staunton, Va.

In 1869, members of the Knights of Labor observed this day as the first Labor Day in American history.

In 1869, chewing gum was patented by William Semple of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

In 1945, Congress officially recognized the patriotic "pledge of allegiance" to the flag of the United States.

A thought for today: President Woodrow Wilson said: "There must be, not a balance of power; but a community of power; not organized rivalries, but an organized common peace."

Patience And Understanding Are Best Way To Help Faltering Pupil

Have a child who is falling behind at school? Is he in danger of failing? I'm sure you want to help him.

Here are some suggestions:

Don't punish him. He's not lazy. Almost certainly he has failed so often that he's concluded he can't succeed. Therefore, he is afraid to try. If you punish him you only add to his fear and his failure.

Make success possible. Get the teacher to scale down the assignments, so he can succeed at least a little. His greatest need is to learn that he can do schoolwork after all. When he makes that golden discovery he'll be a new person.

Don't accept a group intelligence test as a valid measure of his ability. Group tests are the ones given to the whole class at once. They depend largely on ability to read. They require concentration. Many bright but flighty children make low scores on group tests. Have a psychologist give your boy an individual intelligence test. It will be more dependable. You'll find psychologists on the faculty of any college.

Have a regular study time at home. Give him a quiet, comfortable, well-lit place in which to work. Maybe you'll be able to coach him, maybe not. Be sure to check with the teacher so you will use the right methods.

Try to be patient. He's in a bad spot. Nothing undermines mental health faster than failure. He may get sore and fight back. He may resent school and everything about it. Don't lose your temper too. You'll just add to the confusion. Habits of failure aren't overcome in a day.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it true that study at school under the teacher's supervision is better than study at home?"

H.S.P.

(A) Yes, it is. Supervised study is especially valuable in the drill subjects, such as math and spelling. With the teacher helping them the children don't memorize mistakes. At home they often do.

Terra Linda Trash Dumper Gets Citation

Donald Bentley, 45, of 703 Butternut Drive, Terra Linda, was cited by the California Highway Patrol Monday on a charge of dumping garbage on a public highway.

The case required a little detective work on the part of Patrolman J. R. Greer after he was notified by a motorist on Highway 101 that he had just seen and scolded a garbage-dumper at the ramp shoulder from the Lucas Valley Road access to the freeway.

Greer promptly went to the indicated spot, found plenty of freshly dumped rubbish of various kinds, but the dumper had departed. So he started to sort the debris. Address labels had been removed from a number of packages, but in one case he had a clue.

As result Greer got in touch with Bentley who, he said, acknowledged the offense, explaining that he had gone to a dump which was closed for the day so he got rid of his load at a convenient place. Later Bentley went back and picked up what had been thrown away, but was cited nevertheless.

More Smoking Cigarettes Despite Scare

NEW YORK (UPI) — More Americans smoked more tobacco this year than ever before despite "health scares," the head of the Tobacco Institute, Inc., reported yesterday.

During the year Americans spent 7.5 billion dollars for tobacco—6.6 billion dollars of it for 489 billion cigarettes, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates cited by Tobacco Institute President George V. Allen. In a yearend statement, Allen said the average annual consumption was 197 packs of 20 cigarettes per person of smoking age in the nation.

These figures, Allen said, were among new records set despite "attacks" on tobacco "ranging from health scares to unfair taxation and labeling proposals."

"There is every indication," he said, "that comparable progress will continue in the next and succeeding years."

Admitting the situation was "seemingly paradoxical," Allen said there was increased smoking because "facts are finally replacing opinions and the general public is becoming aware of this."

"A growing body of scientific research findings has failed to support the many charges thrown at tobacco use during the past few years," he said.

Allen said the charges "come largely from statistical compilations attempting to establish a relationship between tobacco use and longevity. . . . Statistics can be used to prove a variety of conclusions on this subject."

Editors Of Marin To Talk Of 1961 On KTIM's Panel

Five Marin newspaper editors will appear on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow to predict what 1961 holds in store for the county.

The five are Chapin A. Day, Independent-Journal; Jack Lenz, Mill Valley Record; Roger Esteves, Times-Pelican Publications; George Barnwell, Novato Advance, and Donald DeWolfe, Baywood Press. John M. Harlan, editor of the Marin News, was invited but is unable to appear, said moderator Kitty Oppenheimer.

Questions telephoned to the station will be directed to the panel members. The program will be re-broadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

2 Named To Society

Two Marin County men have been elected to office in the San Francisco Society of Clinical Hypnosis — Dr. William H. Pemberton, Mill Valley consulting psychologist, as president, and Dr. William C. Andrews of Kentfield, as a director.

Keating To Head Appellate Court

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court will continue as presiding judge of the appellate department of superior court for 1961.

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson made the announcement today. The other two judges on the appellate department are Judges N. Charles Brusatori and Richard M. Sims Jr.

The three-judge appellate department hears appeals from judgments of municipal and justice courts.

Fire Destroys Firemen's Pet Project

TUOLUMNE CITY (AP) — Fifty-seven years ago the fire department in Tuolumne, then a village, decided to build and maintain a theater.

Disaster has befallen the project four times—four times the uninsured property has burned to the ground.

Nov. 28 the latest fire caused more than $50,000 loss. The Tuolumne City Fire Department for the fifth time faces the question whether to rebuild. There is little doubt, however, that the Tuolumne City theater project is closed permanently.

For the past 10 years, attendance at movies had fallen off and in August of last year regularly scheduled shows were abandoned.

The first Firemen's Theater opened in 1903 when Tuolumne Hose Company 1 was incorporated. It burned in 1916.

The rebuilt structure burned two years later.

Again the firemen rebuilt, this time providing a hall for dances and community entertainments, as well as movies.

Fire destroyed the third structure in December, 1944. It was immediately replaced. Soon television and other outside attractions cut down on theater attendance, however, and the latest was a losing venture.

It is a safe conjecture that no effort will be made to build a fifth firemen's theater.

But if one should be constructed, one town official says it's a safe wager it will be insured. None of the others was.

Work Furlough Inmate Caught

There was no Christmas leave for Marin County Jail inmates, but Leonard Amuel Trimuar, 25, of 1256 Cambridge Street, Novato, took the weekend off anyway.

Trimuar, who was arrested last October for drunkenness, was serving a 90-day jail term, with work furlough privilege. Last Friday morning, he left jail for work as usual, but he failed to return that night.

Sunday, shortly after midnight, Sgt. Carl Selby of San Rafael police spotted Trimuar enjoying himself at a Fourth Street bar. Deputy Sheriff George Tsegeletos escorted him back to the county jail.

Loiterer Gets 45 Days In Jail

A former Kentfield janitor drew three years' probation and 45 days in county jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court because he took two little girls for a ride around Belvedere Island last September.

David W. Robertson, 27, who now lives in San Francisco, began serving the jail term this morning. Judge Harold J. Haley also ordered Robertson to seek psychiatric help and to abstain from liquor during probation.

Last Sept. 17, Robertson parked his panel truck near Belvedere City Park and induced two girls to enter his car. He then took them on a 20-minute ride but did not molest them.

He was convicted of illegally loitering at a park where children were playing.

DAILY NEWSPAPERS SELL DAIRY PRODUCTS FROM PASTURE TO PUBLIC

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY, with sales of $12 billion a year from hundreds of types of products, is a giant of the great food business.

The daily newspaper, another giant, is a dominant influence in helping dairy manufacturers and dairy associations to increase the public's demand for their products. These advertisers use the daily newspaper as a national force to keep the public aware of the innovations and nutritional value of dairy products.

The thousands of local processors and retailers of dairy products use the daily newspaper regularly to keep their products moving from store to home.

The daily newspaper is a vital force in this mass movement of dairy products from the moment they are processed to the moment they are placed on the table. With practically everyone consuming them, it is necessary to move them through the medium that reaches practically everyone. The daily newspaper reaches nationally—and reaches locally—with 58,299,723 news-filled copies every day.

Bulldozers Ruining U.S. Anthropologist Asserts

NEW YORK (UPI)—To some, the bulldozer is a symbol of progress. To Leonard Outhwaite, anthropoligist and explorer, it also is a symbol of what's happening to "America, the beautiful."

Outhwaite has no quarrel with progress, nor for that matter with the bulldozer—when used discriminately. But he would like to see the preservation of some of our natural heritage for us and future generations to contemplate and enjoy.

Outhwaite is research consultant to the nature centers for Young America, Inc., a recently formed organization to encourage villages, towns and cities to set aside—"while there is still time"—some part of the natural setting nearby for use, not as a formal park, but to preserve the native flora and fauna . . . a big slice of the area as it was before urbanization set in.

"The bulldozers have leveled the life out of the hills and the fields," says the centers' brochure. Outhwaite adds, "If we don't start preserving soon, we'll be engulfed."

"In so many parts of America already," Outhwaite continued, "you drive 25 to 30 miles outside the city limits . . . still past nothing but housing developments."

"There is no time to waste," he continued. And the urgency with which the anthropologist talked created visions immediately of a land one day bare of the things we used to take for granted — fields, trees, grass, native flowers, streams and wildlife.

"The centers would be used for both relaxation and education," he said. "A way to teach children botany, zoology, conservation — better than they every could learn them from books."

The anthropologist recently completed a 14,000-mile motor trip around the nation looking for likely locations for nature centers, for zoological parks and museums.

He said many communities already are aware of how urbanization is cutting back nature and are doing something about it. Stamford, Conn., is one of the pioneers and has set aside close to 100 acres of streams and woodland.

Tucson, Ariz., has a desert museum nature center of 200 to 300 acres on the edge of a forest preserve and is planning to add more, he said.

Outhwaite became interested in preserving natural settings through his work in museum planning.

"When I started working with museum people," he said, "We had architects but no one researching the response of people once inside museums. An anthropologist you know is a student of human behavior."

Outhwaite's career has spanned several years of teaching at the University of California at Berkeley, consultant to business and government on personnel, designer of exhibits for world's fairs, and in 1929-30 captain of his own schooner exploration of the Atlantic Ocean —covering 14,000 miles and touching on four continents.

Bid For Grading Accepted By Board

A low bid of $111,424 for excavation and grading work at the county civic center and fairgrounds was accepted yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

This action was taken after an exchange of some civic center property for land owned by the Smith Brothers, action requested by public works director Marvin W. Brigham as necessary preliminary to proceeding with the excavation.

The low bid was from the firm of J. W. Richards in Rio Vista, Solano County. It was lowest of nine which ran as high as $196,070.

Liquor Licenses Will Be Suspended

The Black Point Inn's on-sale liquor licenses will be suspended for 15 days beginning Feb. 2, the California Department of Alcoholics Beverage Control announced today.

The suspension was decreed for permitting a minor to consume liquor and remain on public premises where liquor is sold, the department said. Licensees are Paul and Virginia Franklin.

Two Beautiful Lots
EACH $6,750

We have JUST LISTED two very lovely building sites in a choice area near the convent in San Rafael. Located on a secluded, dead-end street with many fine trees. One lot is COMPLETELY LEVEL . . . the other has just a gentle slope. Plans have already been drawn for both sites and will be given free to the buyers. If not sold by January 1st., the owner is going to build on them himself, so don't delay . . . this is a real opportunity!

New Teaching Chief Lauds State Schools

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's new teaching chief is an ex-Marine drill instructor with a doctor's degree in education who believes California's schools rank with the world's best.

Richard M. Clowes, 44, was appointed this month to head the Division of Instruction in the State Education Department.

He brings to the job 11 years experience as superintendent of the Oxnard Elementary School District and a firm belief that California and the United States have the world's best schools.

FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR

Clowes studied comparative education in Europe last summer as a Fulbright scholar.

"I came away with more pride than ever in our schools," he said in an interview.

"First, we are dedicated to a system which gives equal opportunity to all. We have comprehensive high school programs which recognize that not all our children are college-bound.

"Another reason for our justifiable pride is that our schools are responsive to the need for change. As a result, we see many changes taking place today."

VIEW OF JOB

He sees his job as providing leadership to local schools in meeting the need for change and keeping teachers abreast of up-to-date methods and materials.

Clowes, a history major as a college undergraduate, declined to take sides in the battle between those who demand a return to fundamentals in the schools and those who stress "life adjustment."

Commenting on the recent report of a citizen advisory commission on the public schools in which a number of recommendations called for more basic subjects and fewer frills, he said:

"We have to analyze it in the light that the American public school system is designed to serve all the children—not just a select few."

He said he agreed with the proposal that some "marginal-type" courses be discarded from school curricula, however.

State studies and programs to strengthen and revamp the teaching of mathematics, science and foreign languages won praise from Clowes.

He discounts the frequent criticism that European schools stress foreign languages more than do those in American.

Point to the fact that 30 million immigrants came to the United States in the 19th century, he said, "The need was to get them to speak one language—English."

That aim has been achieved, he said, and now the nation is seeking an awakening of interest in foreign languages.

Board Names Inverness Man To Water Unit

Leslie J. Meszaros of Inverness was appointed yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to serve on the new Marin County Water Advisory Committee as representative of Marin areas outside the two water districts.

Meszaros was nominated in a letter from Ernest Schallinger, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County, and is chairman of the committee's sub-committee on water supply, sewage, drainage and flood control.

But Supervisor William D. Fusselman promptly challenged Schallinger's authority, declaring that "the citizen-committee hasn't had a quorum for several meetings. This isn't based on action of the committee."

"He's from Inverness and a good man," countered Supervisor James Marshall. "I move that we appoint him."

Nobody objected to the appointment but Clerk George S. Jones volunteered to check up on the committee and, in case members weren't interested, lay the ground for a reshuffle

69 Pieces Of Silver

PINE VALLEY (AP)—Twenty months after the manager of the Hobat House restaurant hung 600 silver dollars on leather straps as wall decorations, he decided to count them. There were 69 missing.

More Students Taking Russian

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Education reported yesterday that the number of California high school students taking Russian has doubled since last year.

The department estimated that more than 2,000 students are getting instruction in Russion this year. Last year, 1,099 students in 31 schools studied the language.

At a recent workshop at the University of California at Santa Barbara, high schools were advised not to treat Russian as a passing fad, but to offer a solid three or four-year program.

The State of Arizona has towns named Bumble Bee, Cat Back, Ali Chuk Son, Clip, Cowlic, Glance, Gripe, Wake-up Wash, Happy Jack, Growler, Rok, and Roll.
